

The Liberal

Published by Richmond Hill Liberal Publishing Co. Ltd. W. S. COOK, Publisher

Member Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association

"Second class mail, registration number 0190"

Stringent Legislation Needed To Protect Wild Life

Two Toronto men recently chased a brush wolf with a snowmobile on Lake Simcoe for 90 minutes. It is estimated they ran the animal for 20 miles before killing it.

For this feat the men became eligible for and will collect a provincial bounty.

However, the incident is being investigated by the Ontario Humane Society and Provincial Police, who maintain that this was a wanton display of cruelty to a defenceless animal. To prevent further occurrences of a similar nature the Federation of Ontario Naturalists has urged the province to stop paying a bounty on wolves.

Brush wolves are fairly plentiful in this area, according to the Department of Lands and Forests. They are often seen on Lake Simcoe where they go out on the ice to look for fish and fish viscera discarded by the ice fishermen.

They are known predators of smaller wild animals and are suspected of sheep and fowl killings, for which dogs are often blamed. For this reason the department has been paying a bounty for many years. Add to this the fact that these animals are also often victims of rabies and can infest other wild life as well as farm animals and the necessity of continuing the bounty is realized. But this is no excuse for torturing

Notable strides toward improve-

King Township is now enjoying the ment of the public library system in Southern and Central York County

use of a fine new central library in King City. Although the library still has a lot of empty space on its shelves, the library board's budget is in no danger of rising above the pro-

fill the library shelves without causing any undue hardship for its tax-

Township Library Board founding

chairman Wilfred Jens, the present chairman Wilfred Jenns, the present the library board, the township council and the devoted citizens who made this fine new library possible.

great shortage of library facilities in Nine women from York tion.

experts from a number of fields discuss social problems ranging from drug abuse to the church

A luncheon meeting on February 21, was chaired by Mrs.

Signe Snary, 92 Lawrence

Avenue, Richmond Hill, an associate master teacher of libraries for York County Board of Education and a provincial di-

The speaker, Lieutenant

Colonel Stanley Preece, secretary of special services for the Salvation Army in Canada, spoke about the pressures of today and how the Salvation

Army is helping people in habilitation of the mentally ill,

suicide prevention, and service to immigrants who are trying to establish themselves in their

His department aids in rein the modern world.

rector of the FWTAO.

trouble.

In Markham Township, too, the

The township, therefore, can soon

Much credit should go to King vincial per capita average.

payers.

have been made in recent months.

them by chasing them until they drop from sheer exhaustion. Lands and Forests Minister Rene Brunelle has indicated that he will seek changes in existing legislation which will make such "pranks" an offence. They should be. A stiff penalty might prove to be the needed deterrent. At present the Ontario Game and Fish Act prohibits the harassment of game animals including rabbits.

Wolves have not been the only victims of snowmobilers, according to Kenneth Faulkner, a conservation officer in the wild life branch of the department at Maple. He recently found carcasses of 21 jack rabbits piled up beside a fence in a Vaughan Township field near Concord. One carcass bore the tread marks of a snowmobile and tracks from these machines criss-crossed the field. A similar case has been reported in another township.

People are already up in arms because of the thoughtless conduct of some snowmobile operators who persist in operating their noisy machines long past a reasonable hour and who threaten the safety of others through carelessness. These few, along with a few who harass wild animals will make it imperative that stringent control legislation be passed by some level of government. Thus every owner and operator of these vehicles will suffer.

The township council has agreed to assist the Markham Township Library Board in its efforts to obtain a site upon which to build additional

Although the present library is doing a fine job, and is expected to continue to do so for many years to come, its capacity has been exceeded twice over by the community's needs. An additional library is sorely needed in the eastern part of Thorn-

We Canadians to date have not written a very good record, at least in the quantity and adequacy of our public libraries. Although we have enjoyed the use of many fine libraries, we have still lagged far behind our fellow nations in the western steps forward by Markham and King

Township Library Boards have come

There can be little doubt that the world in this regard.

them any less welcome.

... Winter

Like small white fairies fluttering down

And all these graceful dancing beauties

Form Mother Nature's snow white gown.

The snow is falling, softly, lightly

The sun in wintry brightness sits

With cold blue sky around it

It sends out cheery yellow rays

And fleecy clouds surround it.

the Thornhill area has been recog- none too soon, but this does not make

County were among the 500 Among those who attended Charles Howitt; Beryl Pring, members of the 33,000 member were Mrs. Eta McIntosh, special Schomberg, and Helen Kings-

Associations of Ontario who at- County Board of Education, The federation's three-day tended the federation's annual and Teachers Audrey Van Loon, February Conference is held conference in Toronto recently. Woodland Junior Public School; every year to acquaint teachers

"Come Alive: A Call to Social School; Ruth Lavender, Bay-lated to teaching and public

Federation of Women Teachers' education consultant with York ley, Pleasantville,

Action", and delegates heard view Glen; Barbara Lambert, affairs.

library facilities.

Better Libraries Welcome

(Photo by Stuart's Studio)

Top CWL Orator York County

Speaking on "Middle Age And Over", 13-year-old Bernie Talwin of Pottageville, won the Catholic Women's League (CWL) York County Regional Public Speaking Contest. It was held March 1 at Holy Name School, King Township.

Bernie will now represent this region in the Toronto CWL Archdiocesan Public Speaking Contest, at St. Edward the Confessor Parish, Willowdale, April 12 at 1.30 pm. Bernie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Talwin and a grade 8 student at Holy Name School. He represented the Sacred Heart Parish,

King, in the competition. Runner-up was Geraldine Skelhorn who represented St. Mary Immaculate Parish, Richmond Hill and is a student of Our Lady of the Annunciation School, Oak Ridges. Representing Our Lady Queen of the World Parish, Richmond Hill East, was Coleen Farrell and the entry from St. Patrick's Parish in the Town of Markham was Kathy Foulds. Similar contests had been held in each parish to select a contestant for the regional finals. Arrangements for the March 1 competition were made by Education Convenor Mrs. R. W. Bell of Stouffville. Judges were Sister Rita of St.

Mary's, Bradford, Gus Parent of Newmarket, R. W. Bell of Stouffville, with Sister Katherine of King acting as timekeeper. Prizes were presented by Regional Spiritual Director Rev. Father Reinhard Buchhardt, who congratulated all contestants for their excellent

The winner is seen above with the trophy which will remain in Holy Name School for the next year. He also received a personal trophy and each contestant was presented with a remembrance.

Letters to the Editors

THAT FEROCIOUS WOLF

Dear Mr. Editor:

Since many of us cut our teeth on such stories as red riding hood and the big bad Many people today who fancy themselves to be so enlightened about the world around them, have their heads in the from our streets and parks. sand when it comes to the wolf.

bility for this attitude must lie with the news media. A good example of such prejudice (and animals just like people can be victims of prejudice) March 5 edittion of "The Liberal". The description of a dead wolf as still appearing "ferocious" and also "the big bad wolf" is nothing short of irra- gested to meet with the police commission: tional fabrication.

property, no one will deny, but such action does not warrant more than a small mention, if this be news. To portray a man in an heroic pose, flaunting his prey, with not a ferocious ex- are grass lawn boulevards.) pression, but rather one of pain ary which would contribute greatly towards the exoneration of the wolf. If only the public of our parks board. would avail themselves of such dispel their false notions. But there must also be intelligent support from the news media their opinions.

So let us reverse this guilty titled to a better deal.

MRS. MARILYN HAGBORG, 298 Neal Drive, Richmond Hill.

STOUFFVILLE: A pedestrian crosswalk, properly signed and by council for the intersection of Main Street with Civic Avenue. The present "courtesy walk" at Main and Market Streets will be abandoned.

THE SNOWMOBILE MENACE

Dear Mr. Editor:

Every member of Richmond Hill Town Council has received complaints about the danger, extreme wolf, three little pigs, etc., we noise and stench from snowmobiles on our streets tend to project these fictitious and in our parks. The parks and recreation comimages onto the real thing. mittee has also received the same complaints. Citizens have been bothered constantly by these cursed machines all day and all night and want them banned

Now that the winter season is almost over, a A great part of the responsi- committee of three council members is suggested to look into the matter and attempt to contact neighboring municipalities, etc., etc. The council of Richmond Hill knows exactly how the town's taxpayers feel about snowmobiles. Why can't they make their the picture and story in the own bylaws instead of running around to contact other municipalities? Let US be the example for neighboring communities!

Let us look at the three members of council sug-

1. Councillor Shaun Beggs, who represents That one must protect his Ward 4 and is the former chairman of the parks and recreation committee. Mr. Beggs owns two snowmobiles and says he should have the right to use them on our roads and on the sides of our roads. (Remember, taxpayer, that many of our roadsides

Mr. Beggs says further, as the former chairman intelligence of your average of the parks and recreation committee, that he feels the place for snowmobiles is in the parks. (You There have been several ar- don't have to be bright to know the damage that will ticles and recently a very en- result to growth to say nothing about the danger and discomfort to the pedestrian child and adult.) These are very strange words from the chairman

2. Reeve Donald Plaxton. Mr. Plaxton has material, it would do much to always voted against any ban on snowmobiles in Richmond Hill when the matter has come up before council. He says any ban would be unfair to the from which people glean the in- people who own snowmobiles. Therefore, he feels a formation that helps formulate minority should be allowed to disturb and terrorize citizens at will. 3. Councillor Lois Hancey. Mrs. Hancey has received plenty of complaints against snowmobiles like man, is one of God's on her side of town, but she also voted against any creatures, and as such is en- ban on snowmobiles in Richmond Hill the last time the matter was brought up at council.

By their own words, the above people have no desire to legislate any ban on snowmobiles and they are the ones suggested for a committee to look into the problems of snowmobiles pestering citizens of this town. Why not appoint Deputy-reeve Ivan Mansbridge? He has repeatedly pointed out in illuminated has been approved council the danger of these machines on our roads.

Thanks to Mr. Beggs' love of snowmobiles we had screaming hundreds of them, many from outside of town, who came to the Winter Carnival and disturbed everyone living within three-quarters of a mile for three days and three nights.

Snowmobile owners can have their pleasure in the many areas and many hundreds of miles of tracks set aside especially for them on provincial lands . . . free.

Richmond Hill citizens have repeatedly asked to have these machines taken off our roads and out of our parks which are all close to homes, so why hasn't local legislation been passed before now? We citizens will not forget about it when the breezes of spring take away the snow and we ask council not to shelve this serious matter.

J. C. WOOD, Richmond Hill.

with the famous view from

They claimed the extension

Their battle to preserve the

the fight to prevent this.

ANTHOLOGY Challenging Production

Friday, March 13 was a big occasion for the members of Theatre 42, Bayview Secondary School's drama club. It was the opening night of the club's second major production, "Anthology", consisting of six excerpts from famous plays, ranging in auth-Church, Drugs, Women's Role Topics Provincial Meet orship from Shakespeare to Albee. The program, like Gaul, was divided into three Royal Orchard; Ann Duncan, parts. The first was a minor Shaw Festival, opening with "Caesar and Cleopatra", followed by "St. Joan" have to own to considerable disappointment in both productions. Perhaps I was expecting too much after the very excellent production of "The Miracle Worker", and I can realize the difficulty of finding forty actors, among high school students, The theme this year was Jeanne Arnott, Baythorn with a variety of problems reequally endowed with acting ability and stage pres-

Since there were very few minor roles, almost everyone on stage had the responsibility of keeping the show going. This is not easy. Even in professional theatre an actor can start as a spear carrier, and unless he drops the spear with a clang his lack of experience need not be noticed. To drop the meaning of the Shavian lines, however, is another matter. I was not convinced that the majority of the cast of "Caesar and Cleopatra" were fully aware of the significance of Shaw's play. There was also little to suggest that the ageing Caesar was lover to the young queen, who, as played by Janet Dilworth, suggested a petulent child rather than a seductive and extremely clever woman. At the time of their association, Caesar was in his late fifties, (old by the standards of those days), (Continued on Page 14)

Rambling Around

by Elizabeth Kelson "Accounting Is An Art"

About this time of year, mathematical figures are running through my head like crazy . . . and Platitudes won't work. Political cliches, glib answers and tical cliches, glib answers and total cliches, glib answers and tota there's not much order to them at all. Give me words everytime and I will make them take shape and sometimes even make sense. It comes as a surprise to me to learn that accounting is really an art. I've always thought of it as a purely technical

Philip Rayson, a Thornhill chartered accountant says it's an art. The way he explains it, I believe comes and owners of Veterans' It has been recorded by our

Mr. Rayson grew up in the City of Toronto, was educated at Harbord Collegiate and graduated from Queen's University in 1960. Philip and Ruth Rayson moved to Thornhill six years ago. They have three children, Steven, Rivanne and Andrea.

At one time, Mr. Rayson was an active weight lifter and found time to write poetry and short stories. He is still interested in the art of writing and hopes someday to write a book. He is an avid reader of history. He believes one of the first requirements for a good accountant is to be a master of the English language.

IT'S A BROAD FIELD

While attending the university, Mr. Rayson wasn't at all sure of what he wanted to do. However he had a general interest in business and this led him to choose accounting as a profession. It was to be a stepping stone to the future.

(Continued on Page 14)

Surrey Richmond Hill Tax Relief Citizens Win Battle (Mississauga Times)

smooth-talk won't solve the problem for hundreds of Mississau- Plan and its proposed sign bylaw gans facing the prospect of beare designed to preserve and ing taxed off their land and out improve the aesthetics of this town. It is interesting to note of their homes.

This year's provincial re- that the place for which it was assessment holds out the very named, Richmond Hill, Surrey, spectre of impossible taxes for England, is also very aesthepensioners, persons of fixed in- tically minded. local historian, William Har Land Act properties.

A recent meeting between rison that this community's Municipal Affairs Minister first school teacher, Benjamin Darcy McKeough and town Barnard, had known the decouncillors produced very little lights of the Surrey Richmond by way of concrete solutions to Hill in his youth, boating on a problem of crisis proportions, the Thames and spending leis-Councillors went into the ure time in the shade of the meeting, ostensibly to discuss ancient trees on the hill, enjoyreassessment inequities, with- ing the view. This led him to recommend the name for his out their homework done.

They were to have brought Canadian home. with them a list of the most | Recently, an extension to the glaring discrepancies in this Star and Garter Hotel in Richyear's assessment roll. They mond, Surrey, a suburb of didn't, and the Minister sent London, threatened to interfere them back to get it. Now town officials claim they Richmond Hill. Members of the just can't figure out who should Richmond Society and the go on the list and who should Richmond Hill Committee led

A council which reneged on its first promise to appeal assessments on behalf of all home- would be a danger to the trees owners; changed its mind and because building within 10 feet then flubbed in an apparently of a sizeable tree is almost alhalf-hearted effort to convince ways lethal and alterations to McKeough to help, doesn't de- the hotel would spoil the view serve less than the wrath of from the hill. Perhaps not all councillors famous view was won when are as remiss as those who re- Minister of Housing and Local turned from the meeting Government Anthony Greenmouthing words of "relief" and wood told the owners of the "we recognize the gravity of hotel that the proposed reconand the peewees hockey team the problem" when they knew structed roof, five-storey extenin the big neighboring city any ready solutions.

even when he knows the darn well no relief was in sight sion and provision for parking parents of the players shop and the Minister didn't have 44 cars would not be allowed. He stated their car park plans The small farmer on Base were "operationally ineffectual Line, the elderly couple in and visually detrimental". Lakeview and the immigrant We are indebted to Douglas who has struggled to build his Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al-modest contracting business in bert Hill, Church Street North Dixie . . . all stand to lose for the newspaper clipping telleverything because of sky-ing of this victory. Mr. Hill has rocketing property taxes. been counsellor for the past They don't want false pro- three years for the Department mises of hope; they don't want of External Affairs, Canada another Pleasant Valley. They House, London, England.

don't want long range solutions which may take provincial MARKHAM: AFTER a lengthy bureaucrats years to implement. illness Arnold Patterson, Peter Those hardest hit, want, and Street, passed away March 3 in get, Mr. Benson. He has no must have, a more realistic as- Scarboro General Hospital. An sesment of the property they employee of Frigidaire he was and he will never be missed own . . . more realistic taxes 54 years old and had lived here since 1928.

tree anyway, Mr. Benson. Nobody will miss him except and now.

the thousands and thousands of people who live in the small towns across Canada and rely on the local small businessman to pay a substantial chunk of their local buys the uniforms for the little league baseball team

because they think the prices

But shake him out of the until he is gone.

are lower.

Benson's Legislation Will Destroy The Small Businessman They are the ones who leave this year. When he goes to dend so they end up with Before we go any further (From the Ladysmith-

Other speakers at the confer-Chemanus, B. C., Chronicle) ence include Dr. Margaret Nix There is one good thing of Pace College, New York, who talked about children in modern about Federal Finance Minister Benson's White Paper, and that is his proposal to A panel discussed the new increase the tax on small role of women, with panelists businesses to 50% from the including Dr. Lita-Rose Betpresent rate of about 21% cherman, Director of the Woof profits. We cannot give men's Bureau, Department of you the exact figure of the Labor, and representatives of current rate offhand because the "new feminists," as well as corporate profits are wild other who expressed conservablue yonder things that tive views on the role of woweekly newspapers dream

A highlight of the conference about, but rarely get to see. We say Mr. Benson's prowas a play, "The Concept", performed by former drug addicts posal is a good thing because from Daytop Village in New most small businesses are a York. The play, which has been bunch of nuts and it would running off-Broadway for al- be a good thing for them if most two years, gave conference they were shaken out of the delegates an insight into the tree. Mr. Benson has hit on causes and treatment of addic- the ideal way to do this.

we should mention what we consider small businesses. It is not those making profits of $35,000 per year, the cut-off between small and big at the present time, but those which, on a ten-year average, can show an average profit of $3,000 to $5,000. This is the one that Mr. Benson is going to shake out of the tree and it represents what we believe to be the majority.

GLYNIS WALKER,

Richmond Hill.

258 Church Street South,

Age 11.

They consist mainly of damned fools who prefer to be their own bosses and are willing to accept something less than the going rate of pay and the annual pay increase which has been built into the economy in the hope of making a profit which they can declare as a divisomething close to the going rate for the job they are do-

The fact that they don't make that profit doesn't bother them. It is easy to explain. There was a long strike, so they couldn't get deliveries or collect their bills, or a big chain outfit chopped the price of the article they were selling or producing, so they were stuck with a big inventory. They are kidding themselves, of course, so shake them out of the tree, Mr. Benson.

But there is one thing you might think about, Mr. Benson. Take Jake, the president of the Skukum Falls Widget Makers Ltd., who showed a $5,000 profit on a 50% gross the local banker, the banker knows Jake paid himself something less than the going rate for chokermen or green chain hands, but the regional superintendent of the bank doesn't, so the banker can give him the $3,000 loan he needs to buy new widget twisting equip-

He can do it because he knows Jake pays his bills even if he has to mortgage his home. So Jake can't get the loan if you take half that $5,000 and he goes out of business. What does that profit you?

There's another point too. People like Jake are nuts, we agree to that, but they are also the salt of the earth.

a bridge game at 11 pm to open up the shop and find an odd sized bolt a person needs to get his low-price, easy terms, Simpson-Sears furnace working because a resident of his town finds Simpson-Sears doesn't answer the phone at that time of night. Or he is the merchant who leaves his garden on a Sunday afternoon to fit a customer with a dark suit so he can catch a night plane to his grand mother's funeral.

He is the man who antes up the 12% manufacturer's tax, even though the business he sold the articles to has gone bankrupt and he knows he is not only out your 12% but also his labor and material. He is the man who going.

taxes and keep their towns Soak him for all you can organization to protect him