Controversial Film For Maple Showing April 28

The film "High School" has provoked controversial reactions among viewers in United States and Canada. One of the first showings in Canada will be in Maple at Joseph Gibson Public School, April 28 at 7.30 pm. Producer-Director Frederick Wiseman is a social critic expressing his ideas primarily through film. He has taught family and criminal law at Boston University. During the last four years he has produced five films "Titicut Follies" (rejected in Ontario by the censor board), "Law and Order" (which won an "Emmy" after being televised in March, 1969), "Hospital", "Cool World", and "High School". "High School" is a 75minute documentary about a good (most of the students will go to college), middle class high school. It is not staged: no actors are used, not even a narrator's voice interrupts the natural conversations. The result is a montage of encounters in classes, school entertainment and disciplinary propathy with the students floods over us.

"High School" has been reviewed by many top magazines and newspapers in the U.S. and Canada. 'Newsweek' reported "The most frightening thing about "High School" is that it captures the battlefield so clearly; the film is too true". Life magazine, . . . a wicked, brilliant documentary about life in a middle class secondary school It should get vastly more exposure. We need it as much as it needs an audience." Pauline Kuel in This Magazine Is About SCHOOLS says " it's a good sign when a movie sends us out wanting to know more and feeling that there is more to know. Pancake Time For Maple Lions

The Maple Lions Club Pancake Festival on April 4 at Maple Community Hall was such a huge success that they are planning to make it an annual event. Aided by their wives, the Lions served mountains of fluffy pancakes topped with real maple syrup, and, as an added attraction, sold maple syrup and maple sugar to visitors to the big event.

Pictured above right is Lion Ray Jellison serving pancakes to Walter Kunst, his daughter Linda and son Mike. More than 500 people were served in the course of the afternoon.
