The idea of the exchange visits was initiated by the two choir leaders and organists, Miss Joan Weir of the Presbyterian Church and Miss Victoria Sears of the Baptist Church who both graduated this year with their Bachelor of Music Degree from the University of Toronto.

The exchange visits have been most successful and they hope to repeat them during the year.

Taking the choir's place during their absence on Sunday was the Headford Choir under the leadership of Mrs. Stewart Rumble.

Relatives and friends of the pupils of RMT, filled the auditorium of the Richmond Hill Public Library on Sunday for the annual piano recital.

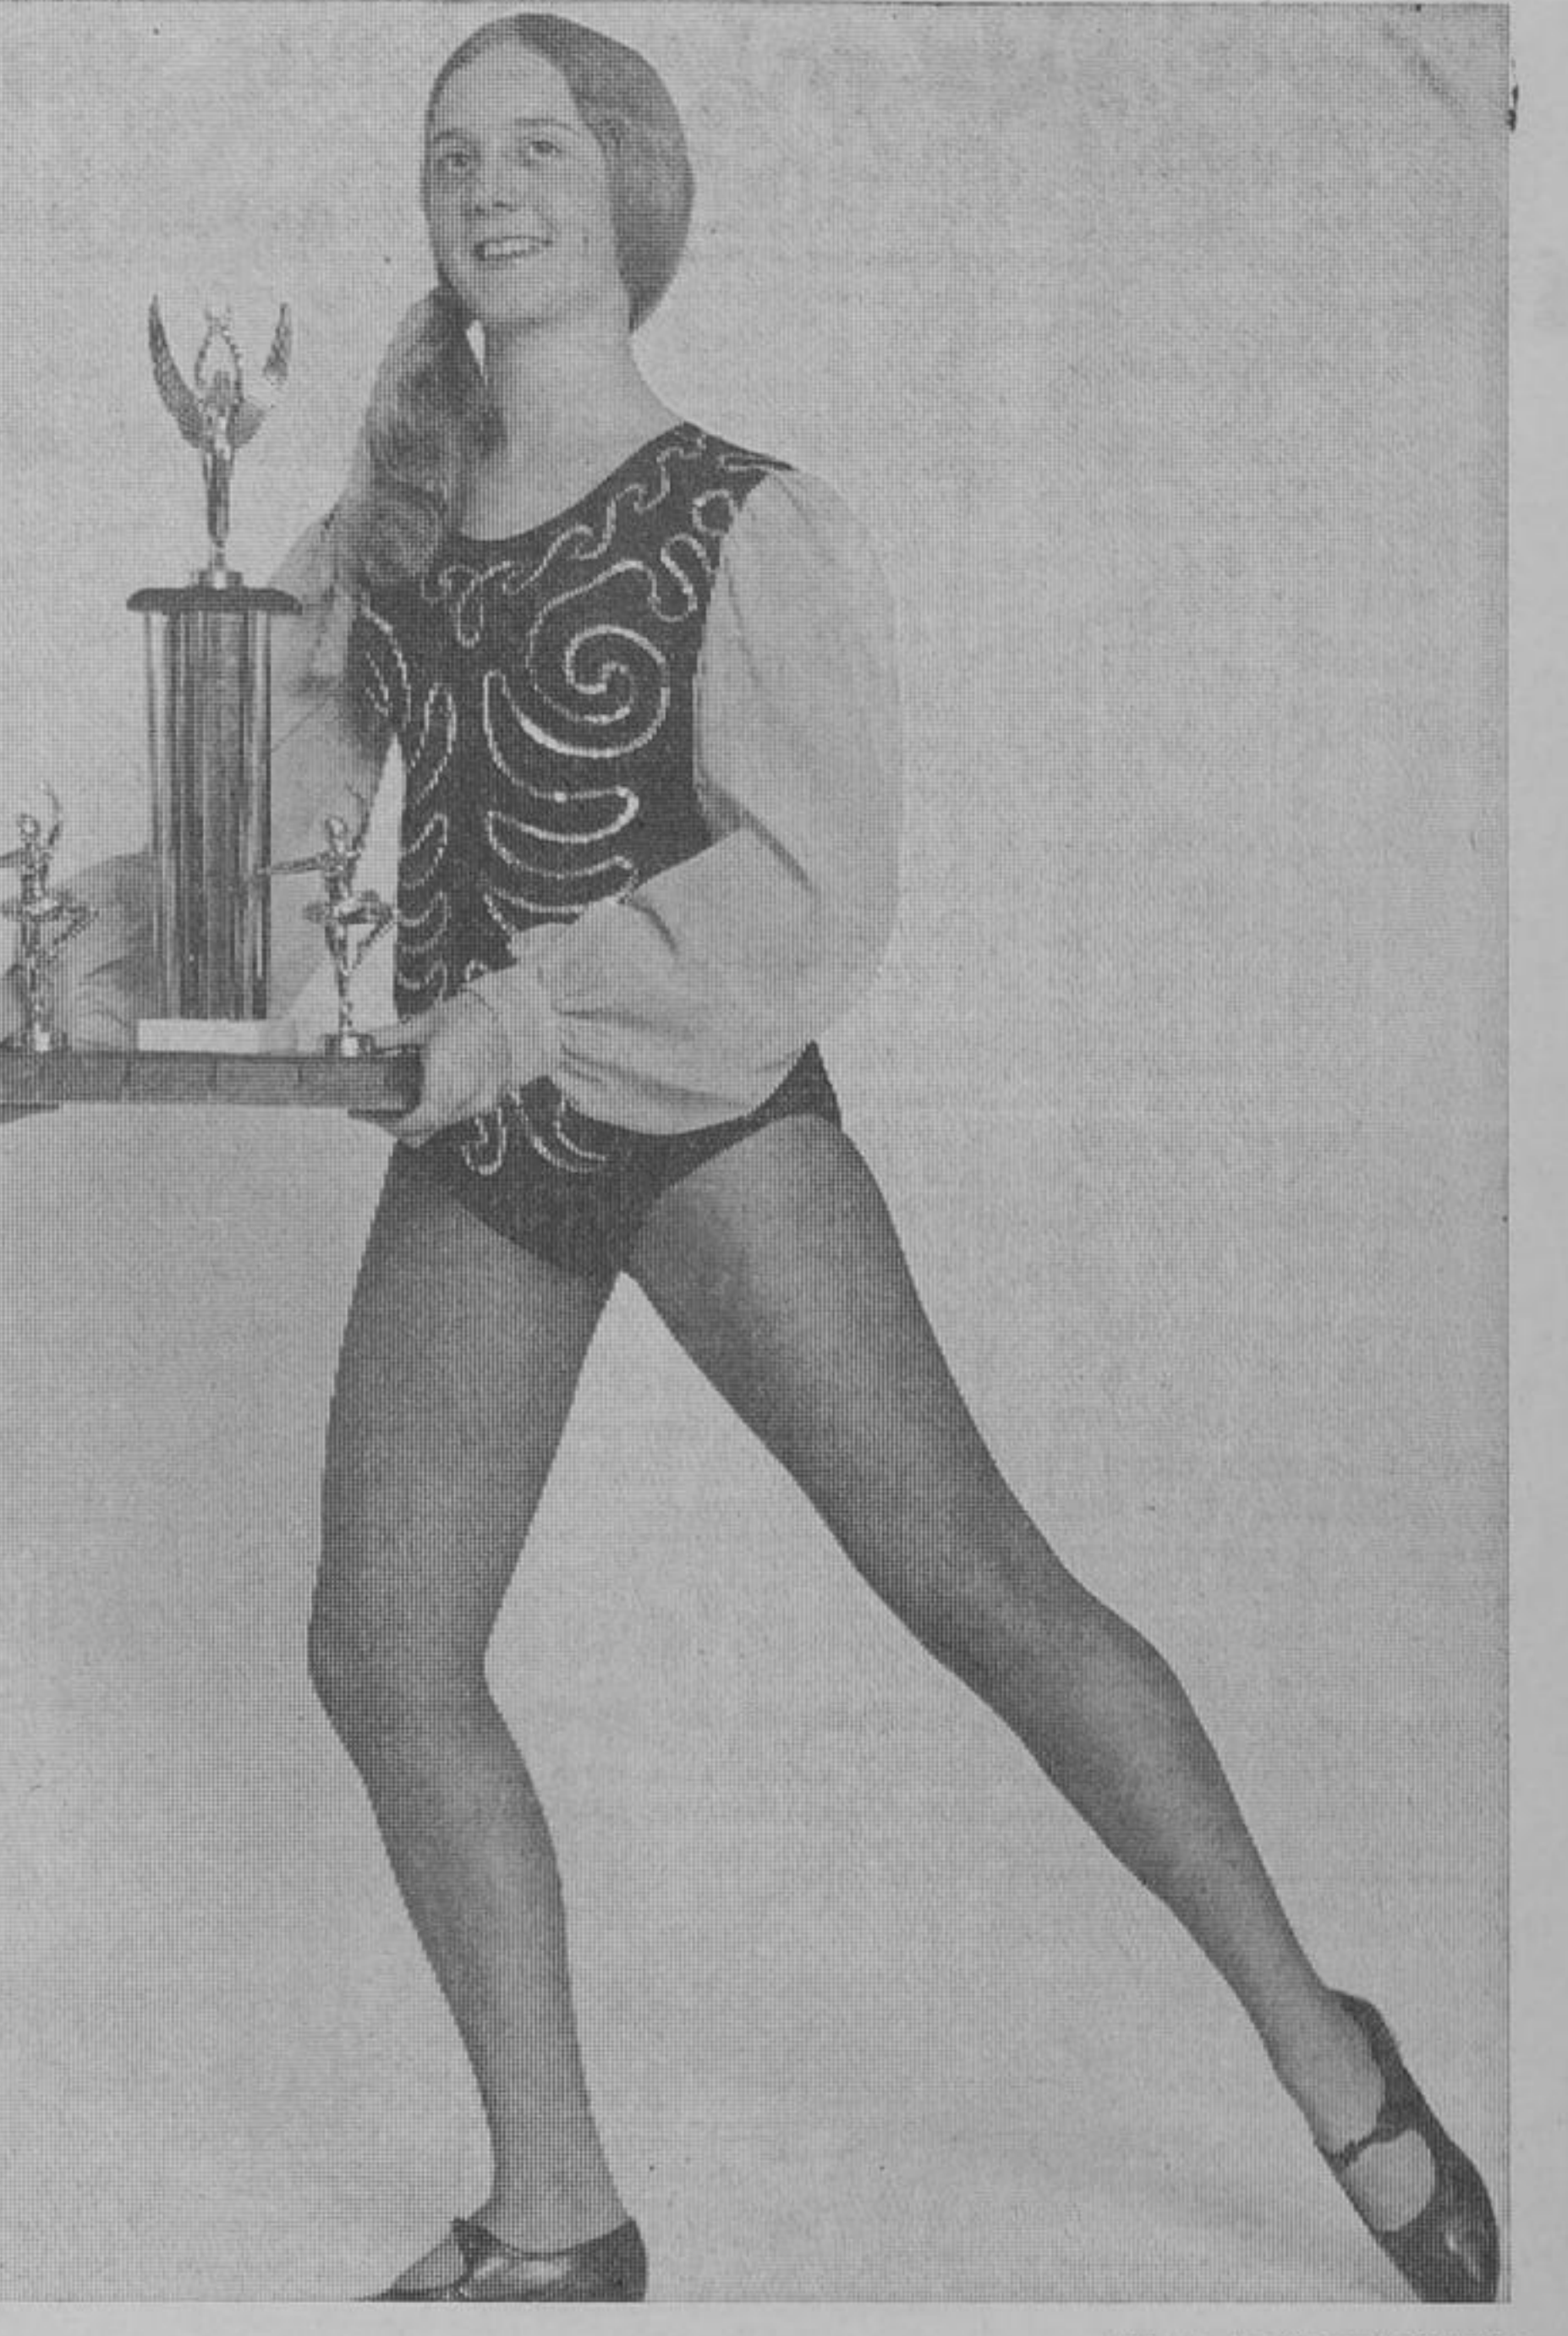

There were students representing each grade of the Royal Conservatory from beginners up to grade 10 and everyone gave an excellent performance.

Variety was added to the program by various duets and taking part in these were Christine and Jamie Brown, Michelle and Chris Gaffney, Paula Cotta and David McCartney and Lisha Van Leeuwen and Christine Burnett.

There were also several pieces by contemporary composers and an interesting number was a medley of songs by the Beatles, arranged and played by Laurie Hawkins.

After the recital, a most enjoyable social hour was held, with coffee, soft drinks and cookies made by some of the pupils, while pictures were being taken of the group. The comfortable and informal atmosphere of the library added greatly to the success of this event.

Some of the students will be continuing lessons during the summer and anyone interested in taking a summer course should call 884-3787 while openings are still available.
