Vaughan Planners Veto Sr. Citizens Residence

BY MARY DAWSON

Vaughan Township Planning Board will recommend to council that the proposed senior citizens' residence on Jackson Street, Maple, be turned down. This decision was reached after discussion in committee of the whole following a hearing June 25, at which arguments were heard in favor and in opposition to the proposal.

Planning Board Member Lorne Wells, a member of the congregation of Maple United Church which proposes to build the residence as a Centennial project, declared an interest and refrained from voting. The other members present—Chairman Norm Garrioch, Reeve Garnet Williams, Councilors David Fraser and Louis Wainwright, and Louise Rice voted unanimously in favor of the resolution which will go to council. "The Liberal" was informed. (Public and press are not present at committee of the whole meetings.)

The planning board recommendation was based on five points:

- (1) That residents of the area voiced strong opposition to the introduction of an apartment building into a single-family residential area.
- (2) Porosity tests to date indicate that the property is unsuitable for installation of a septic tank to serve eight suites.
- (3) Evidence has been presented of an existing problem with sewage disposal by septic tanks in the area.
- (4) There is insufficient parking for the proposed apartment building.
- (5) Drainage in the area is poor because of the clay soil. During the public meeting, a showing of hands showed 13 persons present in support of the application and 15 persons opposing it. Both sides were represented by legal counsel—William Bailey for the church and John Brewin of Toronto, representing Bruce Johnston of 3 Welton Street, the street immediately to the west of the proposed site, and other residents of the area.

Spokesman for the church was Morley Kinnee, chairman of a committee of six which has been working on the proposal since January 1969.

Describing it as a "project a church can do for the community", he reported that the congregation, after hearing the committee's report on the need and feasibility, had voted 66% in favor of making this its Centennial project and set aside $1,000 towards securing sketch drawings and permits.

"We realize that already senior citizens of Maple have been forced to move out of the community because their homes and property have become a burden. This situation is not in the best interests of the older folk", he stated. He reported that the attractively designed two-story building would have eight single unit suites, a common room, hobby room, laundry and furnace rooms, to accommodate eight persons only. "Only when sanitary sewers are available would a suite be used by a couple." Each suite would consist of a living room, bedroom, kitchen and bath.

Answering Mr. Garrioch's question about financing, Mr. Kinnee stated the church has approved in principle that money now invested may be used for the project and a member of the congregation is willing to provide substantial additional funds.

The proposed site is now owned by the church, he explained, but would be turned over to a non-profit corporation which would operate and set policy for the residence. He pointed out that CHMC and OHC money is not available for senior citizens housing in Maple because of the lack of sanitary sewers. It is expected that rents will be competitive and will not be geared to income as in residences receiving senior government aid. "If somebody sells a home in Maple he (or she) would have more money than they could have to live in such housing", he explained.

Also in answer to queries by the board chairman he stated church membership and skin color would have no bearing on the selection of tenants.

As a past chairman of the York County Council committee in charge of York Manor, Reeve Williams, recognized the problem of moving senior citizens out of their home community. "The manor is too far away from home and family in many cases", he commented.

Township Planner John Dewar reported that requirements for parking for the proposed residence would be 12 spaces (1 1/2 for each suite) to allow for visitors' cars. He also noted that there is some confusion as to the right of the post office to use the parking on church property.

Mr. Kinnee and Mr. Bailey stated that to the best of their knowledge no such commitment exists.

The case for residents opposing the application was put concisely by Mr. Brewin. "I certainly think the board could well accept the social need for the building", he began. "I find it very hard to argue with any proposal of the church and particularly one designed to help people. But planning board and council are going to have to assess the problem, disregard the church and senior citizen involvement. You must look at the uses the building may be put to in the future. Are you prepared to accept these uses in a single family area?" he asked. "The board has a duty to consider the impact on the people in the immediate area", he stated as he went on to enumerate the problems of waste disposal, drainage, parking and an increase in the density of population.

These people and this planning board to do more than they should. They are asking you to break three or four basic planning principles."

Also speaking in opposition, basing their arguments on a wish to maintain the single family character of the area, the prevalence of septic tank drainage problems "for which nothing can be done", and describing the proposal as the opening wedge for apartment building in the village, were Norm Rotz, 12 Jackson Street, directly opposite the proposed site; George Baker, 10 Jackson Street; Edward Kersey, 14 Jackson Street; and others from Welton Street.

Also speaking for the applicants was Dr. David Anderson, who owns two lots in the area. He answered criticisms by stating control of future use of the building could be guaranteed by the corporation charter, but assured those present that "this is the only property available to the church as matters stand. The church doesn't want to do something over the dead bodies of near or more distant residents. We have no wish to do anything to the best interests of the community or of the people in the area."

In summing up, Chairman Garrioch stated, "We are not here to plan for principles of law, only. We must also plan for the best interests of people. People come first, planning secondary. There has been an abnormal amount of objection to what we usually receive, so the decision is a very difficult one for us to make."

IN THE VILLAGE OF MAPLE

going PLACES meeting PEOPLE

Norma Birkett, who was a winner earlier this year of a contest run by General Foods on a cereal box, enjoyed her prize last weekend. Norma with her mother, Edythe, spent a week-end in Niagara Falls with $100 expense money, meeting the other winners who had been lucky enough to arrive by plane at Malton, going on to Niagara to stay at the General Brock Hotel.

The highlights of the week-end were a visit to Marineland and the tour under the thundering Canadian falls. They also had dinner atop the revolving tower and visited the waxworks and several other attractions. This proves that somebody really does win those contests!

Lulu and Jack Leece, Church Street, have had a very busy time during the last two weeks with Mrs. Leece's two sisters and husbands, Mr. and Mrs. William Thussell (Elaine), from Burnaby, BC, a suburb of Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cullen (Gladys) from St. Catharines, staying with brother Frank Beatty and Mrs. Beatty in Richmond Hill.

During their stay they have been spending their time visiting with members of the family, including Lloyd Beatty of his farm, who only recently sold his farm there. All in all, the past weeks have been one big happy reunion.

Sunday afternoon, members of the McDonald family gathered at the home of Jim and Ida McDonald, now of Thornhill, recently of Maple, to celebrate the 30th wedding anniversary of Bruce and Dorothy McDonald (nee McCrimmon). For this happy occasion, Mrs. Isabel Foote, a sister of Dorothy, was also present with members of her family.

The year 1970 will be a happy one to remember, as Katharine of Bruce and Dorothy, plans to be married September 19 to Larry Douglas of Toronto in Westview Presbyterian Church.

During the last week, the old Palmer Mill beside the railway on Richmond Street, has been torn down. The house is still standing and will be for some time. Those who are longtime residents of the area will remember Milt Palmer's coal and seed business, and most of us realize that the buildings are being torn down for the new overpass to be constructed in the near future.

Mrs. Earl Knox (Marjorie Arlett) of Islington and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fuller of North Bay (Isabel Oliver) originally from here, attended the 9 am Eucharist service at St. Martin's in The Field and visited their cousin, Jackson Cook, at the Communion Breakfast that followed.

to complete those jobs which should be done.

Monday, June 15, the senior citizens enjoyed a variety type of program beginning with a singing of three favorite numbers, after which Mrs. Lizzie Snider of Teston presented a fascinating quiz. A new idea was presented in the form of an interview with well known members of the community, beginning with Mrs. Louise Cooper interviewing Past President Roland Keffer on his life story beginning with his parents, early life, war years, married life, family and homes and occupation.

Another singing with "The More We Get Together" followed and Mrs. Margaret Jackson gave two short readings.

Hilda Allen then interviewed incumbent President Paul Snider who traced his ancestry for the members and his life story up to now. Mrs. Cooper presented a contest that has been contributed by Mrs. Jack Kyle of Teston.

The program ended with another singing.

Since the week of June 21 had been declared Senior Citizens week across Canada, a guest speaker was invited. Dr. Ramsey Armitage spoke for a time on "England". He painted a beautiful word picture of England, and gave, at the same time, a bit of information on Britain's pre-history times which was most interesting.

Mrs. Miriam Lepper introduced Dr. Armitage and President Snider thanked him.

Mr. Snider gave a short address, followed by a showing of a few slides, by Mrs. Cooper, of the senior citizens that had been taken on several of their excursions.

To top off a most enjoyable afternoon, the members were seated in lawn chairs on the lawn of the United Church manse and were served the most delicious dainty sandwiches and muffins by Rev. and Mrs. Norman Boogers and the ladies of the U.C.W.

During the lunch period a list was circulated to be signed by those interested in taking a bus to Georgian Bay and then the 30,000 Island Boat Cruise, July 21.

Members are asked to be sure to notify Percy Putterbaugh at 832-1114 or Mrs. Louise Cooper at 832-2408 if they are not sure that their name is recorded or if they find that they are unable to attend.

A second trip during the summer holidays is being contemplated: a two-day trip to the area of Kingston and Gananoque on the boat cruise through the Thousand Islands. This is being considered for the latter part of August, although costs and a date have not been set. This trip also depends on the number of interested members.

The last meeting of the year was held Monday, with a games afternoon, details of which will be available for next week's column.

to see some of them in attendance, along with other guests. An excellent turnout made the evening a complete success.

During the evening, three young couples were presented with gifts from the congregation—Susan Scott, recently married to Mervyn Devine, Kathy Hynd and her fiancé Joe Kaufman, Allan Cameron who was unable to be present and his fiancée, Mary McGarron.

Following the presentation, done in fine style by Dougald McDonald, the large number of children participated in races and games.

The combined congregations of St. Andrew's and Maple United met at St. Andrew's Church for morning worship at 10 am last Sunday, as they will do for the full month of July, under the leadership of Rev. Norman Boogers of Maple United.

The annual picnic of Zion Lutheran Evangelical Church was held in the church grounds, June 20, beginning with a ball game in the afternoon. The food committee, Mrs. Eileen Ryzek, Mrs. Karl Bundschuk and Mrs. Ernest Boersig did a marvelous job of preparing a delicious buffet complete with yellow roses and for supper, which was enjoyed by the more than 60 in attendance.

The sports program, under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. June Davidson and Miss Sue Theil, assisted by Birgitta Bundschuk, Bob Theil, Earl Davidson, Ron Keffer, Harry Ballinger and Art Moore.

All children under six, received a prize to begin with, and Miss Wendy Davidson, deserves special mention, as she had had her tonsils removed the day before, she had to sit in the car and watch the fun. It was as boring to her as might seem, as several of the ladies joined her to visit.

Nancy Pogue won the race for girls 7 and 8, while the boys of the same age was won by Chuck Theil with Ricky Heath in second place. The girls 9 and 10-year-old race was won by Karen Theil and Linda Kunst placed second.

In the 11 and 12 years, Donna Davidson placed first with Lydia Bundschuk in second place and in the boys of the same age, Frank Surkau won with Ricky Doran in second place.

In the girls 13 and over, Birgitta Bundschuk placed first followed in second place by Jill Davidson.

In the boys 13 and over, Bruce Bone came first with David Moore in second place.

The girls and boys five years and under participated in a ball kicking contest, won by Timmy Moore. Girls and boys nine and under enjoyed a ball throwing contest, won by Chuckie Theil.

A prize was given to the youngest person at the picnic, Sabrina Surkau.

The arm lock race was won by Jill Davidson and her friend, Rosemary Brice.

In the ladies' only paper plate throwing contest, Jean Pogue was the winner.

A sing-song was done by Sonia Boersig, Bruce Bone and Jim Arbuckle.

Jean Pogue won the prize for the adult with the most buttons. The kangaroo jump for boys and girls under 12 was won by Janice Moore and Lydia Bundschuk while the adult kangaroo jump was won by Jim Arbuckle with David Moore second.

A paper bag relay was enjoyed by members of all ages and a watermelon eating contest for children 12 and under was won by Chuckie Theil and Ricky Heath while the adults, 13 years and over was won by Harry Ballinger.

A special thanks goes to Roy Keffer for generously donating the watermelons.

Although church will continue during the summer at 11 am, except August 2 when there will be no service, there will be no Sunday school until next September 20.

For anyone who has not been able to get their children registered for the summer playground program to be held in Maple Grove Park beginning next Monday, it is still possible to do so by calling Mrs. Marilyn Jackman at 832-1480 or Mrs. Pat Kantaroff at 832-2609.

For anyone who missed an application from the schools, the program will be in two divisions. The first for children ages 4 to 8 will begin July 6 at 9:30 am and run for two hours till 11:30 am Monday through Friday. The second program is for those 8 to 12 years and is strictly a crafts afternoon, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.
