Miss Karen Durand and Miss Mary Moriarty have recently returned from a two week trip to Germany. They were members of a group of 50 students from across Canada which visited Rotenberg, Munich, Berlin and Garmisch, where they had the opportunity of meeting and talking with members of youth groups, getting to know them, their way of life and their thoughts about the present and the future.

The 50 young Canadians also enjoyed each other's company and intend to keep in touch. They are planning a reunion in October to see and exchange pictures taken during their European holiday.

Among those attending were: Jack Hamilton, as the church delegate, Venice Hamilton as the WMS representative, Eileen Webster, as the teen representative, and David Bull, as one of the conference "Page Boys". The choir of young people, ages 16 to 20, from Tulsa, Oklahoma, staged a concert in Richmond Heights Centre Monday evening, which was enjoyed by a large audience. Twenty of these boys and girls are conducting a vacation Bible School at St. John's Baptist Church this week.

Plans for a greatly expanded program for the fall and winter season have been announced by the Recreational Guild of Culture.

The guild will be holding courses in recorder, rhythm classes and beginner's instruments. These classes will be arranged in age groups from four years up.

For the older youngsters and adults instrumental and choral ensembles will be active in a variety repertoire. A woman's symphony orchestra is already in the process of being organized. Theory, piano, and voice training from primaries to master classes will also be a feature under the direction of Ruth Garson-Croucher.

To round out the guild's ambitious program for every age group, men, women, boys and girls, instruction will be available in ballet, tap, modern and folk dancing, making for a season of great cultural enjoyment.

For further information, please phone 884-3802 in the evenings.

"Learning thrives on playing and play is a child's response to life" is the philosophy of Richmond Nursery School, where preparations for the coming season are progressing rapidly. Supervisor of this school, which opens September 8 for another season at 168 Ruggles Street, is Mrs. Doug Bennett, who is assisted by Mrs. Pat Tearne and Mrs. June LeMoine.

The staff members believe that play teaches a child about himself and how to deal with other people. Through play he eventually comes to know the values and symbols of his world. With all this to accomplish the child must play hard.

Entertaining for Ginny Hippiks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hippiks, Atha Avenue in honor of her forthcoming marriage have been Mrs. Donald Plaxton and Mrs. Neil Mann who held a miscellaneous shower at the Plaxtons' Sugar Maple Lane home; her aunt, Mrs. Albert Ward who was hostess at a miscellaneous shower at the Royal Canadian Yacht Club on Ward's Island; a party-shelf nichol who hosted a pantry-shelf shower at her South Paliser Crescent home; and two aunts, Mrs. Hazel Jones and Mrs. Lloyd Masters, who entertained at the Jones' summer home at Balm Beach, Georgian Bay.

Ginny will become the bride of Michael Conrath, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Conrath of Surrey, England, at 4 pm Saturday in Richmond Hill United Church.

A restful week's holiday at Wildwood Lodge on Red Bay, Lake Huron is reported by Mr. and Mrs. Doug Bennett and their daughter, Barbara of Ruggles Avenue. The fabulous food and wonderful hospitality received high praise from the Bennetts who already have made their reservations to return to Wildwood next year. Their holiday was the more enjoyable as they were joined by Mrs. Bennett's parents Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mege of Maple and her uncle Mel Smith and Mrs. Smith of Windsor.

The Bennetts' cottage was named Loch Lomond in keeping with the Scottish theme of the lodge. Scotch thistle grew in profusion and meal times were announced by the playing of Harry Lauder records over the PA system. The lodge itself, hidden in the trees, contains a dining hall, lounge and recreation hall with a stage. A planned program of organized activities kept everyone busy and happy in spite of frequent rains. It included dancing, bingo, a card tournament, a teenage dance and a talent night presented by the Hedda Hopper, played over the lodge owner, Mrs. Bessie Thomas.

The Bennetts report 90% of the guests were from Michigan, who come back year after year. Four couples were presented with engraved trays on their tenth anniversary at the lodge.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, Centre Street East, Sunday evening, were Mr. and Mrs. David Delworth and daughter Christine of Edinburgh, Scotland; their daughter Mrs. James Leitch and Mr. Leitch and son David of Don Mills. Mr. Anderson and Mr. Delworth are schoolboy friends who met for the first time in 19 years last summer when the Andersons were visiting in Edinburgh.

Attending the marriage of Valerie Niddrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Niddrie, 121 Trayborn Drive, and John Higgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Higgins, Elmwood Avenue, July 25 in St. Mary's Anglican Church were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilson and children, Elaine and Greg from California; Mrs. Leonard Bohn of Chatham; Mrs. Joseph Klein of Delray Beach, Florida and Larry Read of North Bay.

Mrs. J. Philip Hippiks of Atha Avenue entertained at a trout-sea tea in honor of her daughter Ginny August 8. Ginny's marriage to Michael Conrath will take place in Richmond Hill United Church August 15.

Pouring tea were the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. William Blakey of Toronto and her great-aunt, Mrs. William Ferguson, also of Toronto.

Are you interested in taking a defensive driving course? The Richmond Hill YWCA is planning one for its fall and winter season which should equip you to deal with driving emergencies. The course, approved by the Ontario Safety League takes only four hours in two 2-hour classes held a week apart. Day and evening classes will be arranged if there is sufficient request. Please call the "Y" at 884-4811 before Labor Day. This is only one of the many interesting courses in this year's program.

The Toronto Star Fresh Air Fund will benefit from a sale and frolic held by nine-year-old Ross Seymour, 10-year-old Steven Harris and eight-year-old Mark Woodhead at the former's home, 394 Centre Street East last week. Assisting in the busy day were Ross' cousins Sandra (12) and Douglas (9) Seymour of Orillia.

The youngsters raised $6.75 from a fish pond, basketball, darts, a dog show, lemonade, cookies and candies, comic books and toys.

All the neighborhood children attended and enjoyed the afternoon.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Zinck of Beaverton Road were Mrs. Ralph Milner and daughter Sian Kirstine of Sarnia.

Highlight of the weekend was a birthday party Saturday afternoon for nine-year-old Sian, complete with a beautifully decorated cake and a clown. Attending were Vicki Wood, Elise and Jackie Meunier, Kim and Debbie Egan, Adele, Annette and Michele Bellavance and Karen Snearec. Sian was the happy recipient of many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Milner returned to Sarnia on Sunday but Sian is remaining as a guest of the Zincks for two weeks. Besides enjoying the company of her newly-made Richmond Hill friends, she got a real thrill out of a fishing trip with the Zincks on Tuesday.

A three-week vacation trip which combined music, camping, fishing and sightseeing, has just been enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. John Croucher of Fernleigh Circle.

They visited Montreal, the Laurentians, northern New York State and Vermont with ideal weather conditions, having rain only one day. They particularly enjoyed the White Mountains and the hills of Vermont for a restful holiday and the pleasures of tenting close to nature on some occasions.

Of particular interest to Mrs. Croucher, the well-known local teacher of piano and voice, Ruth Garson, was a stay at Cammaac in the Laurentians and visits to the summer music schools at Chataqua and Goddard, New York, all three well-known music centres.

Nine-year-old Laurie and five-year-old Bradley Powell of 203 North Taylor Mills Drive last Friday showed a real interest in others less fortunate than themselves when they raised $25 for the fight against Muscular Dystrophy in a carnival. They spent many hours in preparation for the event, collecting toys, books, jewellery and dishes from the neighborhood for a white elephant table, which did a land office business. A refreshment booth featured homemade candy, popcorn and freshies. There were bingo games and other ingenious games of skill and a wishing well.

Laurie and Bradley are very thankful for the cooperation of all the people in the neighborhood who patronized their carnival and helped them raise this substantial donation.

The very attractive backdrop featuring London Bridge for the final scene of "Oliver" presented last week by the Young People's Summer Theatre at St. Andrews College, Aurora, was the work of Buster Vermeulen of 33 Centre Street East, Richmond Hill. Mr. Vermeulen designed the backdrop and was assisted in painting it by Alex McCrae of Sugar Maple Lane.

Residents of the Hill who attended the production report that it was an excellent presentation of this modern musical based on Dickens' "Oliver Twist".

Sandra and Douglas Seymour of Orillia spent a few days last week visiting their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Seymour of Centre Street East. Highlights of their visit were swimming in Centennial Pool and playing miniature golf.

Edward Lomax

Services were held August 5 for Edward Lomax, 71, who died in York Central Hospital August 1, following a brief illness.

Born in St. Helen's, Lancashire, England, January 20, 1899, Mr. Lomax came to Canada as a boy and lived in Scarborough before moving to Richmond Hill nine years ago.

Mr. Lomax was a driving force in the organization of the senior citizens and was a past president of that group.

Services took place at Marshall's Funeral Home with interment in Pine Hill Cemetery. Pall bearers were nephews Fred, Brian, John, Bill and Don Andrews and neighbor Fred Kane.

Mr. Lomax is survived by his wife, Violet Andrews, two sons, Ross of Thornhill and Gordon of Carleton Place, a brother John of Elmsdale and sister Helen of Cooksville.

MR. AND MRS. ROY TAYLOR

Married In Parry Sound

Rev. L. Robertson officiated at the double ring ceremony July 4 at Trinity Anglican Church, Parry Sound, when Sharon Elva, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Vigrass, was united in marriage to Roy Nelson Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Taylor of Richmond Hill.

When the guests were seated the soloist, Miss Joyce Blake, sang "The Wedding Prayer", then to the strains of the professional, "Praise My Soul The King Of Heaven", played by the organist, Mrs. Shirley Buck, the wedding party entered the church.

The bride, on the arm of her father, looked charming in a floor-length empire line gown of white beau de charme with scalloped lace on bodice and lace sleeves, wide matching train and veil framing her face. She carried a cascade of red sweetheart roses and miniature carnations.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. R. Fleming (nee Patricia Green) as matron of honor, Miss Cathryn Vigrass, sister of the bride, and Miss Gloria Burns of Sault Ste. Marie as bridesmaids. All wore floor-length empire line gowns of aquamarine beau de charme, white lace on bodice, lace sleeves and matching head pieces.

The groom was attended by his brother, Earl Taylor of Richmond Hill, John Vigrass, brother of the bride, and Frank Buddin, brother-in-law of the groom, acted as ushers.

The altar flowers were white chrysanthemums and red carnations, with baskets of yellow chrysanthemums and pink and white carnations placed on the chancel steps. During the signing of the register the soloist sang, "Oh Perfect Love" and the bridal party left the church to the music of "Mendelssohn's Wedding March".

Approximately 100 guests attended the reception in the church hall which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The mother of the bride, attired in dress and jacket ensemble of lilac polyester linen with matching hat and accessories and wearing a corsage of yellow rosebuds, received the guests assisted by the mother of the groom wearing a short sleeved dress of peacock blue crimplene, white hat and accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. The 91-year-old paternal grandmother of the bride attended the wedding and reception. Out of town guests were from Richmond Hill, Toronto, Kleinburg, Red Rock, Port Credit, Deep River, Cobden, Belleville, Port Carling, South River, Sault Ste. Marie, London, Chatham and Aurora.

Following the reception many of the guests gathered at the home of the bride's parents. From there the bride and groom left on a motoring trip through southern Ontario, on to northern Ontario and Manitoba. For travelling the bride wore a long sleeved two tone ceru and blue dress with red and blue sleeveless tunic.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will reside in Woodstock where the former will take over his teaching position in September.
