Majority Vaughan Seek Town Seats

Councillor David Fraser's commitment to run for a seat on the municipal council is not so clear-cut. "I honestly have not made up my mind," he told "The Liberal". "But I will unless somebody else enters the race who I believe should be on council. There are indications that the municipal councils will have more responsibility than it appeared at first and with a growing law business I will find the time required by municipal work all I can handle," he stated frankly.

Mr. Fraser, a Thornhill lawyer who lives at Concord, has served for the past two years on the township's planning board as council's representative. He is completing his fourth year as councillor.

Another candidate for a seat on the municipal council will be Jack Gilbert of the Woodbridge area. He lives on Highway 7 near its intersection with Highway 27 and has been successfully engaged as an excavating contractor in that area for the past 20 years.

Mr. Gilbert is completing his first two-year term on Vaughan Council where he has been active on the works committee. Through his urgings and those of the township engineer traffic lights have been installed by the Department of Highways at the intersection of Concession 6 and Highway 7. The councillor also notes, with pride, that condition of township roads has been considerably improved during the past two years and that any complaints received by him had received prompt attention.

Still giving thoughtful consideration to the matter, Councillor Dalton McArthur of Maple expects to come to a firm decision within the next week to 10 days. Mr. McArthur, who has served on the township council for the past six years, has recently started up in business for himself (with a partner). "Although some responsibilities of the present municipal councils are being transferred to the regional council, other responsibilities, such as planning, are being added, and I don't know whether in fairness to my business and to my partner, I can afford to take the time which will be necessary," he said.

"If I run, and I would like to, but I don't know if I can, I will be seeking a municipal council seat," said Mr. McArthur.

"Two years ago I was one of two candidates for council, who learned that the most important problem to be faced was the preservation of our municipality's borders. I still feel this is of extreme importance and I would like to be there fighting to preserve them during the next two years," he affirmed.

NEWMARKET: "Political infighting" was cited as the reason for Newmarket's drop-in centre closing 11 days before its trial period would have ended after two months operation. A small group of teenagers planned a demonstration to protest the centre's shutdown.

NEWMARKET: Reeve Clare Salisbury is a likely candidate for mayor of the expanded town of Newmarket in the October 5 regional election.

Unwelcome Passengers A Problem, Unhappy Raccoons Taken From Car

If you do not want uninvited passengers in your car, be sure that you close the windows before leaving it for the night.

This is the advice of Canine Control Officer Jim Ryan and of Mat Finer, manager of Nordica's Sportswear at Richmond Heights Centre.

When Mr. Finer arrived at the store from his Downsview home Tuesday morning he was about to remove something from the car when he noticed a furry object, apparently an animal, on the floor.

Afraid that the creature might be rabid, he called Canine Control and Mr. Ryan's assistant, Bill Clubine, was dispatched to the scene.

Observing that the animal was a raccoon, almost fully grown, Mr. Clubine put on gloves and was about to remove it when it crawled up under the seat.

He advised Mr. Finer to drive carefully to a bushy area off Bayview Avenue, but when they arrived at the bush and opened the car doors, the raccoon scrambled up under the dashboard.

Mr. Ryan was called to the scene, and with heavier gloves on he managed to extricate the crying, frightened animal, which promptly made off for the bush.

Vastly relieved, Mr. Finer was about to climb into the car. But there were still noises under the dashboard — another raccoon.

Again Mr. Ryan struggled and manoeuvred and brought forth a second terrified creature.

Mr. Finer expressed his appreciation and admiration and there were congratulations all around, but he was wary this time. He listened attentively, then was sure of it. There was "something" under the dashboard.

The third raccoon was more difficult to catch. It had found its way up through the maze of wires, and it had more room to move around now than the other two were gone.

All in all it took two and one half hours to remove three raccoons from Mr. Finer's car.

This sort of thing happens every year around this time, Mr. Ryan reports. It has even happened to him. The only sure way to avoid it is to see that the windows of your vehicle are closed at night.

Molotov Cocktail Hits School

Horses Die, Home And Cars Damaged

Three horses were killed, $5,000 damage was done to a house, two cars were damaged, and a Molotov Cocktail was thrown against a Richmond Hill school, in local fire incidents last week.

Mrs. Monica Wood and children were having breakfast at 6 o'clock Tuesday in their kitchen at 335 South Taylor Mills Drive when they heard a "boom" in the basement directly below them.

Mrs. Wood checked and found the basement ablaze.

In the few minutes it took Richmond Hill Firemen to arrive, an estimated $5,000 damage was done to the semi-detached home, Fire Chief Alfred Stong said.

Firemen fought their way into the basement and were satisfied they had the fire completely out in half an hour.

Fire damage was confined almost completely to the south end of the basement. Electric wiring was bubbled and charred in the heat. The blaze appeared to have centred in some family belongings stored under the stairs. A new bed, still in its wrappings, was destroyed. Heat and smoke streaks marred the upstairs walls of the kitchen and living room.

The adjoining home of Mr. and Mrs. Talbot MacDonald, 333 South Taylor Mills Drive, escaped damage. The house was smoky, however, Mrs. MacDonald said.

Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald and children Sandra, Glenn and Darryl, were warned by Mrs. Wood and went outside during the fire.

Mr. Wood was on his way to work at Richvale Block Supply Company Limited, 9137 Yonge Street, at the time of the fire.

Home to survey the damage, Mr. Wood said his home was insured.

Fire Chief Stong said the fire may have been caused by spontaneous combustion. In such a case, the family was very fortunate the fire took place after they had awakened, and not while they were asleep.

The loss in a fire that destroyed an old barn and three horses at 8:06 am August 24 on the northeast corner of Steeles Avenue West and Jane Street was estimated at $2,500, Vaughan Township Fire Chief James Davidson said.

The fire was at the DD Ranch operated by Donald Devins. Owner of the property was Lorne LaRush of Toronto.

There was no damage at 9:35 pm August 19 when someone threw a Molotov Cocktail against a wall at the Beverley Acres Public School, Neal Drive, Town Fire Chief Stong said.

Nothing is known as to why the flaming bottle was thrown, or by whom.

Vaughan Firemen August 13 at 1:43 am were called to Baker's Sales and Service (1968) Limited, 9144 Yonge Street, to wash away spilled gasoline after a motor vehicle knocked the service station gas pumps over.

Proprietor Dave Baker estimated it would cost $2,000 to replace the pumps.

Damage was estimated at $300 August 18 at 11:17 am in a car fire at the Honey Pot Tavern on Dufferin Street. Owner of the car was Kenneth Glenville of 383 Fernleigh Circle North, Richmond Hill.

Town firemen at 9:43 am August 19 were called to a car fire at 19th Avenue east of Bayview, at the Nipigon Stock Farm. Owner of the car was farm operator Dave Coppins.

A used lumber fire at 10:20 pm August 17 at Greenspoon Brothers Limited, Don Mills Road, Markham Township, caused an estimated $500 damage, Vaughan Township Fire Department reported.

An electrical fire and explosion took place at 1:21 pm August 11 while work was being done to an electrical panel at the Bayview Country Club, Fairview Heights Drive, off Steeles Avenue East. Vaughan Firemen estimated damage was about $100.

A lift truck broke a sprinkler pipe August 22 at 1:27 am at the GEM Department Store, 7171 Yonge Street, resulting in a false alarm. Vaughan Firemen used tarpaulins to protect store goods from water damage and swept out the water.

August 18 Vaughan Firemen put out a fire in a field of swathed barley on a Concession 2 farm.

Richmond Hill and Aurora Firemen this month attended the Ontario Fire Fighters Association annual convention at Port Colborne and came away with some of the prizes.

Twelve teams were entered in competitions that were held to coincide with Port Colborne's Centennial celebrations. Richmond Hill Fireman took

Jewellers Over Tony's 1-0 At CNE Tourney

A triple by Pitcher Billy Drennan in the sixth inning and a ground single through the box by Mickey Hancock gave Richmond Hill Dynes Jewellers a 1-0 win over Oshawa Tony's CNE Bulova Watch Tournament in their second game of the Tuesday night.

The run broke up a pitching duel between The Tony's Pete Landers and the two-man combination of Drennan and Bob Domik.

Drennan allowed two hits in six innings with Domik coming on in the seventh and last inning to retire the side.

Drennan was taken out when he hurt his ankle while sliding.

The Jewellers now play Oshawa Gale Friday night at 8 pm at the CNE grounds.

A temporary job may be the answer. Read the Help Wanted Columns in "The Liberal" every week for job opportunities throughout York County.

The Fire Fighters Association was formed in the early 1900's and its main function is to study new fire fighting techniques and methods of preventing health hazards for firemen.

Terry Kaiser of the Vaughan Township Fire Department acted as one of the competition judges at Port Colborne.

Ella May Keffer

Services At Zion Lutheran Church For Daughter Of Pioneer Family

Services were held in Maple on August 12 for Mrs. Ella May Jackson Keffer who died August 10 in York Central Hospital.

Wife of Roland Keffer of Maple, Mrs. Keffer was born in Elia, a North York farming community, on December 6, 1896, daughter of John Jackson whose family came to Canada in 1830 from Yorkshire, England, and Mary Alberta Snider whose family came from Washington Township, York County, Pennsylvania in 1806.

Following her marriage in 1921 she came to Vaughan Township where her husband's family farmed, and was for years an active member of Zion Lutheran Church, Sherwood.

Mrs. Keffer and her cousin, Alma Buchanan, were fascinated observers when Elia Methodist Church was built on the Jackson farm in 1901 and had to be chanced to a safer vantage point when the slate roof was being installed. The farm is now owned by Imperial Oil.

The Keffers retired from farming 13 years ago when their farm was taken over for a CN hump yard. Plants built by CL and Domtar occupy the front fields.

At the memorial service in Zion Lutheran Church, Pastor John Arbuckle recalled the role the pioneer families had played in development of the community.

Interment took place in the adjoining historic cemetery followed by a service in the church and luncheon served by the Lutheran Church Women.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Keffer is survived by four daughters, Jean (Mrs. Jesse Bryson), Ruth (Mrs. Charles Grubbe), Mary (Mrs. Allan Orr), Reta (Mrs. Arthur Moore), a sister, Minnie (Mrs. C. J. Horan) of Toronto, and four brothers, Herbert of Troy, Ohio, Harry of Jackson farm in 1901 and had John of Port Credit, as well as 11 grandchildren.

Pallbearers were her four sons-in-law and two grandsons, Ronald Orr and Brian Grubbe.

When a spinster wrote to the telephone company and complained that the workmen repairing her telephone wires were using bad language, the company asked for a report from the foreman and received this reply:
"Well, I was up the pole with some hot lead and accidentally let some fall down Mike's neck and Mike looked up at me and said — 'For goodness sake, Spike! You'll have to be more careful.'"
