Steve Addley, Larry Kellett and Colin Wood. Bellevance was a standout in the Rams' 8-5 loss Tuesday night of last week to Aurora Tigers in their first exhibition game of the current season. Bellevance, by the way, logged a lot of time and came up with three assists. Also outstanding in a losing cause was Daryl Rice who scored twice. Bellevance, if he sticks with London, will be a sizeable loss for the Rams. However...

COACHES' CLINIC

Still on hockey. An Ontario Hockey Association sponsored clinic for coaches, managers and trainers will be held October 31 in the Aurora Memorial Arena. Among those handling the clinic will be Coaches Gerry Forler of the Kitchener Junior "A's" and Roger Neilson of the Peterborough Petes to name just a few. Man in charge overall is Bob Nadin who is a senior referee with the OHA.

Cost is $6 which will include a luncheon and receipt of a 150 page manual. Sounds like an ideal set-up for local minor hockey coaches and managers. There's such a clinic in Kitchener and it's proven to be quite a success.

TURKEY SHOOT

And, for all you people who shoot and like to eat turkeys. The Oak Ridges Lions Club is holding its annual turkey shoot this Saturday at Mitchell's Farm on Yonge Street, 100 yards south of the South Lake Road on the east side. Proceeds will go toward various Lions community projects. Bert Wallace is in charge of the shoot.

FINALLY

Finally, former well known Pro Goalie Ivan Walmsley of 426 Lynett Crescent, Richmond Hill, scored a 172-yard hole-in-one at the Summit Golf and Country Club at Jefferson the other day. Ivan is currently the netminder for the NHL Old-Timers.

Hill Firemen Have Quiet Week Answer Two Calls For Resuscitator

Firemen were called last week to revive a Bradford woman who won $50 at bingo at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Yonge Street North, in Richmond Hill. Still in intensive care recovering from a heart attack at York Central Hospital at press time was Miss Helen Bantam, proprietor of the Helen Bantam Store, 29 Holland West, Bradford.

She was taken ill just as she was receiving her winnings at about 9:20 pm September 29. Also in York Central Hospital after a Vaughan Fire Department resuscitator call at 5:56 pm October 3 is Edward Kersey of 14 Jackson Avenue, Maple. Mr. Kersey is undergoing tests.

Except for these two resuscitator calls, local firemen had just about their quietest week of 1970 so far. Town firemen had no other calls. Vaughan Firemen October 2 at 8:32 am were called to 125 John Street, Thornhill, the home of Joe Parnick, when a truck fire was reported. The hoist had broken on a cartage truck and oil was spilled on the truck muffler. But there was no damage.

A tree branch broke a hydro wire on Maple Avenue in Jefferson September 28 at 6 pm. Vaughan Firemen were called and stood by until the break was repaired. Vaughan Firemen October 3 at 1:41 am received a report through the North York Fire Department that an oil tank truck was burning at Yonge Street and Highway 7. But this proved to be a false alarm.

Police Accident Report

Crossing Guard Injured In Richmond Hill

A Pickering man died in Markham Township while a crossing guard and child were injured in Richmond Hill last week in motor vehicle accidents.

Garnet Littlejohn, 68, was killed on arrival October 2 at Centenary Hospital. His 1969 model car went off the road at about 5:50 pm on the Markham-Pickering Townline, about two miles south of Highway 47.

The car went gradually off on the west shoulder, then kept going further off the road and hit a tree, Markham Township Police said.

Damage was estimated at $2,500. A local coroner is to be appointed and whether or not there will be an inquest won't be known until then, police said.

Richmond Hill school crossing guard Mrs. Olga Hawryliw, 30, of 52 Markham Road, Friday at about 8:30 am was knocked down by a car driven by Geoffrey Parker, 37, of 394 Osiris Drive.

Mrs. Hawryliw was taken to York Central Hospital where she had six stitches in a head cut. She was also treated for bruises to her hip.

The crossing guard was injured at Markham Road and Yonge Street, where Highway 11 traffic is being detoured east to Bayview Avenue around extensive construction work.

The car was southbound on Yonge and was making a left turn onto Markham Road, town police said.

"I think something should be done about that corner. It is very bad," crossing guard Hawryliw told "The Liberal" after her accident. Mrs. Hawryliw is a registered nurse and housewife who undertook the crossing guard duties because nobody else could be found to do it. Advertisements were unsuccessful and a plea was sent home to parents from the school.

Mrs. Hawryliw says she doesn't think the traffic lights are adequate at Yonge Street and Markham Road now. She says many vehicles are turning on the detour. GO transit buses are now turning the corner, and increased numbers of tandem gravel trucks from Maple are competing with the cars.

A policeman has been directing traffic at the corner during school hours, and Mrs. Hawryliw doesn't know whether she will be going back on duty or not.

An 11-year-old schoolboy was struck down by a car at 5:40 pm September 29 at Bayview Avenue and Markham Road.

David Collins had a head cut about six inches long that required a total of 60 stitches in three layers at York Central Hospital.

He is the son of Len Collins, Apartment 203 at 170 Bayview Avenue South, Richmond Hill. David was pushing his bicycle along a crosswalk when he was hit.

Driver of the car was Douglas Collier, 19, of 40 Reaman Street, Richmond Hill, according to Markham Township Police. Collier had an estimated $50 damage to his car.

Driver Collier was northbound and swung around to miss two cars that stopped ahead of him. Also involved in the collision, but not damaged was a southbound car turning left and driven by Martin D'Alessandro, 44, of 422 Marybush Crescent, Richmond Hill, police said.

A broken collarbone, glass cuts and bruises were suffered by Mrs. Anne Davids of 196 Dew Street, King City, in a three-car accident October 2 at Bathurst Street and Maple Road.

Mrs. Davids was treated at York Central Hospital and is now recovering at home.

Her car had an estimated $500 damage, according to Vaughan Township Police.

The car driven by Joe Hilberdink of Mississauga had about $20 damage and the car driven by Gabriel Alich of Aurora had an estimated $250 damage, police said.

Cars driven by Michael Duder of 141 Centre Street, Thornhill, and Paul Dove of Paperbirch Drive, Don Mills, escaped damage October 3 in a three-car collision on Bathurst Street opposite the Villa Hospital in Vaughan Township.

Police estimated the damage to the third car driven by Maxwell Bloom of Goldfishinch Court, Willowdale, at $600.

There was an estimated $300 damage October 3 to a car driven by Mabel Carter of Fontenay Court, Islington, in a collision on Steele's Avenue West near Bathurst Street.

The other car was driven by

Irving Gold of Bathurst Street, Toronto, and had damage estimated at only $20.

In another accident Friday at 1:30 pm on Yonge Street at Markham Road, only a few hours after the crossing guard was hurt at this spot, there was a two-car accident in which one driver was charged.

Frank Costello, 78, of 72 Dixon Avenue, Toronto, was charged with careless driving.

The other driver was Bernard Bosch of 25 Cougar Crescent, Apartment 603, Scarborough.

Police estimated total damage in the accident at $150. The collision took place where the two northbound lanes of Yonge Street narrow into one lane at a detour sign.

Driver Earl Drake of Nelson Street, Brantford, was injured at 8:40 am October 4 when his southbound car left the road and hit the ditch at Bayview and 16th Avenue, Markham Township.

He had facial cuts and a sore back. Damage to his 1962 model car was estimated at $150, Markham Township Police said.

TOWN OF MARKHAM — The historical museum has finally received its long awaited log cabin. Mayor Alma Walker and Historian John Lunau led the parade as the 125-year-old structure was moved to its permanent site. They rode in the town's old Rugby fire engine.

STOUFFVILLE — John Wakins recently got a hole-in-one at the Summit Golf and County Club, north of Richmond Hill, the first in his 30 years of golfing. The "ace" came on the 15th hole, a distance of 165 Yards. He used a six iron and has three witnesses to prove his feat.

NEWMARKET — 17-year-old Jim Cowell has signed with the Ottawa 67's Junior A Hockey Club following a two week try-out. He will be playing regularly as a centre this season with the Ontario Champion Junior "C" Redmen last year he scored 23 goals and 17 assists.

Increased Hockey Fees Prohibitive Should Minor Hockey Be Subsidized?

Should the operation of the Richmond Hill Minor Hockey Association be subsidized by town council? This was the question posed by Councillor Lois Hancey at the September 28 council meeting. "I know it's too late for this year, but from the number of phone calls I have received recently, I feel that we should give the question some thought," she stated.

"Concerned parents have asked me to see if there is anything that can be done to keep the fees charged for participation in minor hockey at a more reasonable level. They claim that children from lower to average income families can not afford the $16 per season and 30c per game charged."

"The association runs a $40,000 to $50,000 operation each season and asks no help from the taxpayers," Mayor William Lazenby pointed out. "Actually the people who should be complaining, aren't. They are making whatever sacrifices are necessary so their sons can play hockey. They work it out somehow, and enjoy it."

The mayor later cautioned that subsidization of the youngsters could lead to a demand for pay for the volunteer workers," because John Doe down the street is not willing to do his bit."

"The hockey association hasn't turned any boy away because he couldn't afford the fees," Councillor Shaun Beggs reported.

"But some parents won't ask for charity," countered Mrs. Hancey. "They would rather deprive their boys of hockey than apply for this help."

"If they would rather discuss their difficulties with me, confidentially, I will be glad to listen to their problems and will pass the information on," volunteered the mayor.

However, the mayor pointed out that a seven-year-old boy had collected enough money a year ago from retrieving refundable pop bottles and turning them in to buy himself a $50 bicycle. "It took him only three or four months. My plaza is littered with bottles every day, which are broken by youngsters as young as five years, rather than return them. I see enough pop bottles around to pay the hockey fees of several boys, but nobody, child or adult, is sufficiently ambitious to take advantage of the opportunity to raise a considerable amount of money. They have to show some initiative. If kids want hockey badly enough they'll earn the money."

The mayor went on to estimate that the minimum subsidy could well be $10,000 with a top of $20,000 required.

"I sympathize with the association," stated Councillor Beggs. "It tries to give as many boys as possible practice time and hockey time. But they are up against the same lethargy of parents as is evident in this election. Practice time used to be at 6 am, when ice time cost $12, but because of lack of co-operation of parents prime time, (at 6 pm) which costs $30 an hour has to be used for practices. If people want these luxuries they have to be prepared to pay for them."

"I have a son involved," contributed Mrs. Hancey, "and I know the costs. But my son earns his fees by caddying and doing other odd jobs."

RHupHuS talks about SPORTS

By CINDY McALISTER

This is the first of many (I hope) columns about the fantastic achievements of the athletic department at Richmond Hill High School. We, the students, are guided through our strenuous activities by four marvellous teachers: Mrs. Bonnie Parkhill, Miss Laima Vaiceliunas, Mr. Don Fleming and Mr. Jim Muir. Boys' interschool activities also involve a few other teachers outside the department who voluntarily give up their spare time to help out the teams.

As anyone knows who has been lucky enough to attend RHHS, the inter-school program is not all we offer. For those who do not wish to compete on the inter-school level, the Athletic Council convenes intramural sports. Each of the students in the school belongs to one of the four houses: Stewart, Richmond, Mills or Harrison. Each time a student enters a sport, he acquires points for his house. The players compete in team sports according to their houses. At the closing of the school year, the house with the most points is declared the champion.

The intramural program had a splashy beginning this year with the swim meet. The champions were as follows:

Junior Girls — Cara Welsh, Richmond House
Junior Boys — Randy Diddams, Stewart House
Senior Girls — Mary Lamb, Stewart House
Senior Boys — Mark Griffiths, Harrison House
Stewart House, besides holding two of the individual champions, also swept all the relays, which all helped it to become the winning house. The others in order, were: Harrison, Mills and Richmond.

Right at the moment, the boys are engaged in soccer. The girls, anxious not to be left behind by their mighty men, are starting touch football. To enlighten their ignorant minds, male coaches may be necessary!

Now to let you in on the happenings of our tremendous inter-school teams. Football seems to be foremost on everyone's mind right at the moment. We're not too far into the season as yet so the Seniors have played only Langstaff and Thornhill. Despite numerous injuries, we wiped Langstaff with a score of 20 to 0. Unfortunately, their losses became evident when Thornhill defeated them last Friday night. Chris Campbell, left guard on the offense, had this to say of the team, "We're small, but a high-spirited team."

Our junior football team was well-described by John Barnett, right half-back on the offense. He said the team was "inexperienced, but gaining momentum with much desire." They have lost both to Langstaff and to Thornhill, but after watching them I know they never stop trying.

Some boys not involved in football, enjoy playing on the school's soccer team. The team this year has not been completely successful, but has improved of late. They seem to have better games with the cheerleaders and school support behind them.

It would appear the girls' volleyball teams are having the best luck in the school. Both the junior and senior teams are tied with another school for the top place in the zone. With just three matches left in the regular season, the standings show a tight race.

Work has begun on forming the Grade 9 girls' volleyball team. The team should have a good chance at the tournament as there is a high ability level this year.

Both boys and girls have joined our cross-country team. They ran Wednesday of last week and did very well, particularly in the girls' races.

Enthusiasm is running high in the school this year with hopes for both our intramural program and our interschool teams. With help from everybody, this could be the greatest year in RHHS history!
