

Delegations Welcome If Procedure Followed

York County Roman Catholic School Board recently announced procedures for delegations wishing to appear before the board.

A request for an audience should be sent to the board ten days in advance of the meeting date stating the subject for consideration.

Each delegation will be asked to appoint one spokesman for the group. Board members may ask questions of the spokesman for clarification, but will not enter into any discussion of the matter, and no conclusions will be attempted in the presence of the presentation.

The subject of the presentation will be studied at its next regular meeting, and as soon as a decision is reached the information will be forwarded to the delegation spokesman.

Hale-MacGillivray

A pretty summer wedding took place at Our Lady Queen of the World Roman Catholic Church August 15 when Mary Judith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan MacGillivray of Bluegrass Boulevard, Richmond Hill, became the bride of William John, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hale of Toronto.

Rev. Father Michael Grace performed the double ring ceremony and celebrated nuptial Mass.

The bride entered the church escorted by her father, to the sound of folk singing which was the theme throughout the ceremony. She wore a wedding gown of white crepe with lace borders and fingertip veil and carried a cascade of summer flowers.

"... With This Ring I Thee Wed"

Her three attendants, Ann Landry as maid of honor, Pat Bellevance and Adele MacGillivray as bridesmaids, wore identical floor-length gowns of mauve chiffon and carried bouquets of mixed flowers.

The flower girl, Cathy MacGillivray, niece of the bride, wore white carried over yellow taffeta and carried a basket of the same flowers. Robert Brown was best man and ushers were Ricky and Gregory MacGillivray, the bride's brothers.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Herbert Whiffin of Vancouver and Mrs. James Landry of Nova Scotia, the bride's aunts.

For a honeymoon trip through the New England States and Nova Scotia the bride wore a two-piece ensemble of brown and beige with matching accessories. They are residing at 6000 Yonge Street.

Previous to her marriage the bride was guest of honor at a shower on Bluegrass Boulevard, co-hostesses being Marlene McLeod and Lois MacKay, and also at a shower given by her attendants.

Hoover-Davis

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Cockram, 254 North Taylor Mills Drive, Richmond Hill, was the scene of a beautiful wedding September 1 at 7 pm, when Kathryn Elaine Davis became the bride of Wesley Philip Hoover.

The bride looked lovely in a white satin gown as she was escorted by David Weston.

She was attended by Miss Mary Bertrand and the groom was attended by Cecil Cockram.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. George Grant and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Andrew Jones of the Missionary Church.

The reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoover on Anzac Drive.

Out-of-town guests were the bride's mother, Mrs. Joseph Davis of the State of Michigan and a great-aunt of the groom, Mrs. John Lehman of Stouffville.

The happy couple are now residing in Rexdale, following a honeymoon trip.

MR. AND MRS. PHILLIP DIEMERT

Now Living In Downsview

The marriage of Barbara Jean Purdie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Purdie of Driscoll Road, Richmond Hill, to Barry Phillip Diemert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Diemert of Toronto, took place June 27 in St. Mary Immaculate Roman Catholic Church. Father John Weber officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a gown of silk organza over bridal taffeta, featuring a sheer bodice with stand-up collar and belled skirt, highly accented with bands of daisies and dainty swiss lace. The detachable bouffant train was further enhanced with daisies and lace. She wore a chapel length veil and carried a shower bouquet of pale pink roses, stephanotis and English ivy.

Bridal attendants were Marjane Terry of Richmond Hill as maid of honor; Jane Dyelle of Port Credit and Kim Armstrong of Sault Ste. Marie, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaids; Maureen Nelson, niece of the groom, was flower girl. The best man was Ray Bonnah and the ushers were Joseph Di-Cresce and John Volpe. The maid of honor and bridesmaids were dressed alike in pelican chiffon gowns. The empire waist and puff sleeves were trimmed with white lace interwoven with berry pink ribbon. They completed their ensembles with mohair picture hats trimmed with maline veiling and carried posy bouquets of pink and white carnations. The flower girl wore a pale pink gown with the same trimming and carried a basket bouquet of pink carnations and white daisies.

John Shields sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Ava Maria".

The bride's mother wore an aqua ensemble of suede crepe with a corsage of yellow roses and the groom's mother wore an ensemble in pale yellow.

After the ceremony, approximately 150 guests were received at Brennan Hall, St. Michaels College, where dinner was served and dancing enjoyed.

Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Diemert have taken up residence in Downsview.

Police Check 3,000 Fruitless Leads Still Hunt Gormley - Palgrave Killer

It is now five months since the first of two mysterious rape murders last May at Gormley, York County and Palgrave, Peel County.

And police seem no closer to solving the mystery than they were in May.

Killed in their homes during the day were the wives of two school teachers. They were shot to death with a 22-calibre gun.

Mrs. Doreen Moorby, 34, died May 6 at Gormley.

Mrs. Helen Ferguson, 37, died May 19 at Palgrave.

Police haven't given up their active investigation yet.

Chief Inspector Robert MacGarva of Ontario Provincial Police District Headquarters at Downsview told "The Liberal" this week that he still has a team of 12 to 14 plainclothes OPP officers on the case.

This is exclusive of what local police departments may be doing.

Inspector MacGarva said the OPP team will continue working until it has no place where it can go further with its investigation, and this point hasn't been reached yet.

The number of leads being received each week has dwindled to four or five. Each and every one is checked out.

Most of the leads now come from other police departments in Ontario, or elsewhere in Canada. They usually involve some person picked up for another reason and who has some possible connection or resembles the composite photograph the police have made of the Gormley-Palgrave mystery killer.

The police poster carrying this picture and information on the $14,000 reward offered, can be seen at local police stations and other public places.

"Such cases are never closed. We still have a team working on it. There's nothing startlingly new, it's just old-fashioned police slugging," said Inspector MacGarva.

So far 3,000 telephone and letter leads have been checked out by police, plus thousands of cars that might resemble the partly painted 1964 or 1965 Rambler American automobile believed driven by the killer.

The drawing of the killer was done by Detective-Sergeant James Majury of the Metro Homicide Squad, and is based on a description given by the only witness the police have, the late Mrs. Ferguson's nine-year-old son Dale.

Inspector MacGarva says the Gormley-Palgrave mystery is unusual. There are no similar rape murder cases in the RCMP or FBI files, he says.
