Century City Planners Facing Foreclosures

About 20 farmers of the Uxbridge Township east of Stouffville are taking legal action against Revenue Properties Company Limited and its subsidiary, Century City Developments.

The farmers are among 90 people who sold land to the development firm which had planned to develop 6,000 acres in three model communities which would house 150,000.

The plan was later modified for a population of 50,000 but the developers now owe more than $200,000 in back mortgage payments, including principal and interest, most of them due in May or June.

Revenue stopped paying following release of the province's Toronto-centred plan which would freeze the area as greenbelt. Revenue had arranged to borrow $800,000 a year from a Los Angeles firm but the company informed the developers about a month ago that it will not renew the agreement unless the government approves the plan.

The developers have invested about $7 million in the area, but Municipal Affairs Minister Darcy McKeough reported last week that his department is just beginning to study and analyze briefs submitted from municipalities north of Metro and it could be six months before it arrives at a decision regarding the Uxbridge area.

Meanwhile the farmers who sold land to Revenue are becoming impatient.

"We can't wait that long for our money," says Frank Hulshof of Concession 2 who is waiting for the $6,000 owing on the 70 acres he sold to the developers.

Even though writs of foreclosure have been filed, however, Century City and Revenue will be given six months from the date of court judgement to bring their payments up to date.

"Hopefully we will have some word before that as to what the government intends to do," said Louis Devor, an official of Revenue.

Reformatory Term In Robt. Kish Fraud Case

Robert Kish, 33, former special projects manager at Eaton's, October 21 was sentenced to one year in reformatory for defrauding the department store $27,500.

Kish, who lives in R.R. 1, Markham, pleaded guilty before Judge Charles Oppar.

Crown Attorney David Hobson said Kish converted the store's money by making up cheques to his own use between May, 1969 and last September. Full restitution has been made on November 11 from 5 to 8:30 pm. Get your tickets now. They may be obtained from any member of Victoria Square United Church Women or from Mrs. Stanley DeFoe.

Turner. The toast to the ladies was proposed by Lion Tony Compagna, and Mrs. John Lee replied.

Mr. Walker thanked the club with a few well chosen words.

"The Lord is my Pacesetter, I shall not rush, He makes me stop and rest for quiet intervals. He leads me in ways of efficiency; through calmness of mind, and His guidance is peace.

Even though I have had a great deal to do each day, I will not fret, for his presence is here. His timeliness, His all importance will keep me in balance.

My cup of joyous energy overflows. Surely harmony and effectiveness shall be the fruit of my hours, for I shall walk in the place of my Lord, and dwell in his house forever."

Gala Day At Union Villa
It was a glorious day Saturday when crowds attended the official opening of Union Villa, the senior citizens' home at Unionville. Buttonvillians should be very proud of the contributions made by local people. Bill Hood has acted as building chairman, and received the key from the Architect, Ted Stevenson at opening ceremonies. Ray McTavish, Bud and Beryl Lunney received plaquidts for their contributions — Ray as chairman of fund raising from industry in the area, Bud as board treasurer, and Beryl as president of the Auxiliary.

Tony Roman has been chairman of the finance committee; Keith Kennedy who is the new councillor for the Town of Markham representing this area has carried a very heavy load for several years as chairman of the Board of Union Villa.
