

Double Arrest After Maple Break-In, Pre-Con Murray Strikers Given Fines

Charged following a break-in at Maple and facing 10 or 11 more charges for uttering stolen cheques, two Newmarket men at last report were in Don Jail after appearing in Richmond Hill Provincial Court October 22.

They were scheduled to be brought back to court in Richmond Hill today (Thursday).

Remanded without bail was Leonard Beasley of 217 Main Street, Newmarket.

Beasley is wanted in British Columbia for parole violation, Crown Attorney John Applegath told the court.

The other man charged is Robert Morton of RR 3, Newmarket (Woodbine Avenue).

Morton's bail was set at $2,500 cash or $5,000 property with one surety, by Provincial Judge Maurice Charles.

The initial charge against the two men is for a break-in and theft October 11 at Crawford-Ontario Sand and Gravel Company, Keele Street, Maple, Crown Attorney Applegath told the court the charge involves theft of a cheque writer and personal cheques that were uttered. He said a further 10 or 11 charges would be laid.

The recently settled strike at Pre-Con Murray Limited on Yonge Street in Richmond Hill its sequel in Richmond Hill Provincial Court last week as several former strikers faced charges.

Three Richmond Hill men October 22 pleaded guilty to causing a disturbance August 21 in a public place by impeding or molesting other persons.

They were: David Copping, 20, of 314 South Taylor Mills Drive; Lloyd Cooper, 20, of 329 Bluegrass Boulevard; and Michael Selig, 22, of 39 Benson Avenue.

On this charge the three were given suspended sentences and placed on two years' probation.

Judge Charles said he was giving suspended sentences on this charge because the three had already been fined earlier in the week on other charges. They were out of jobs and should have learned a lesson, he said.

The firm's Vice-President John Acton, 444 The Kingsway, Islington, took the witness stand and agreed to withdrawal of two other charges against the threesome.

Outlining the evidence on the disturbance charge, Crown Attorney Applegath told of an incident on Highway 7. He said the three were in a car driven by Cooper and followed a bus carrying Pre-Con strikebreakers.

The three accused threw beer bottles, rocks and other missiles at the bus. Mr. Acton followed them in his car, forcing the strikers' car of the road. The strikers abandoned their crippled vehicle and were subsequently caught.

Another striker was tried and found guilty on the reduced charge of common assault. William Henderson, 20, of 168 Garden Avenue, Langstaff, had pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault causing bodily harm.

Evidence was of an incident at the Pre-Con plant entrance in the picket line August 19 at 4:30 to 5 p.m.

Someone kicked in the window of a strike breaker's car, showering glass over the driver and passengers, and slightly scratching the driver's neck and arm. The driver and a passenger testified that Henderson picked up a piece of chrome-plated iron from the window and hit the driver over the shoulder.

Henderson denied hitting the driver, saying he ran up to pull a friend away from the scene when Mr. Acton came out to take pictures of the incident.

Henderson was fined $75 or 15 days in jail. He was placed on 12 months probation and given 14 days to pay his fine.

A Bradford striker pleaded guilty to threatening a member of the firm's management with violence.

Roy Brown, 28, of 198 Holland Street, was fined $75 or $15 days, placed on a year's probation, and given 30 days to pay.

Crown Attorney Applegath said Brown yelled "If I don't get you here, I'll get you at the track" (meaning the Pinecrest Speedway). This occurred July 2 at the Pre-Con plant gate between 2:45 pm and 3:30 pm.

In a decision October 22 for an October 8 trial, Judge Charles found Ralph Misener of Maple guilty of obstructing two Ontario Humane Society officers June 11.

The officers were inspecting and removing a large number of dogs from the custody of Mrs. Rose Misener at RR 1, Maple.

Judge Charles said Misener was guilty of obstructing, but was not guilty of the additional charge of assaulting the two officers.

Misener was fined $50 on each of the two charges of obstructing an officer, or five days consecutive on each conviction.

An Oak Ridges youth October 22 in Richmond Hill Provincial Court was charged with two break-ins in the town.

Melvin Nolan, 19, of 72 Elm Grove, had his case adjourned to October 26 and was released on cash bail.

Judge Charles set bail at $250 cash or $500 property with one surety.

It is alleged that Nolan committed break, enter and theft October 14 at St. Joseph's Separate School, Stoney Road. He is also charged with breaking into Foam and Plastics Industries Limited, 264 Newkirk Road October 14.

Hubbard Applegath, 23, of 42 Ronald Boulevard, Toronto, pleaded guilty in Richmond Hill Court October 22 to a charge of impaired driving.

He was fined $200 or 60 days, and given 30 days to pay. His driver's license is automatically suspended for three months by the Department of Transport.

The Crown Attorney told the court the offence took place October 21 at 3:45 am. A Vaughan police cruiser met a Volkswagen running down Keele Street at about 35 mph with a flat tire and a smell of burning rubber in the air.

The police turned and followed the Volkswagen as it went onto Highway 7. It turned off the highway, down into a culvert.

They found four people in the car with an open case of beer. Driver Applegath was found to be unable to walk on his own power and had a breathalyzer reading of 2.50, the court was told.

Crown Attorney Applegath told the court he was probably related in some way to the accused Applegath, but they were not acquainted.

Judge Charles said he didn't think there would be any conflict of interest and allowed the Crown Attorney to handle the case.

Edward Ferrill, 19, or no fixed address, was in court October 22 for sentence after earlier conviction for theft over $50 on September 4.

He was sent to Ontario Reformatory for six months indeterminate and nine months indeterminate.

Ferrill still faces trial November 24 for break, enter and theft during August and September at the Cascade Service Station on Highway 48. He is to appear in court once each week until trial.

George McKay, 17, of 8 Howard Street, Apartment "A", Toronto, was in court October 22 for sentence.

McKay was previously convicted of a July 21 break-in and theft at Provincial Smelting Company, Creditstone Road, Pinecrest, in Vaughan Township. He was also convicted for causing someone to fraudulently pass a stolen Provincial Smelting cheque at the Royal Bank of Canada Branch, 2766 Keele Street.

He had pleaded guilty and was given a suspended sentence. He was placed on two years' probation.

David Thorn, 19, of 5785 Yonge Street, Willowdale, in local court October 22, was sentenced to 12 months definite and 12 months indeterminate by Judge Charles.

Thorn had admitted committing break, enter and theft September 23 at a garage located at 521 Yonge Street North in Richmond Hill.

A Willowdale woman in Richmond Hill Court October 22 was fined $100 or 15 days for assault. She was given 14 days to pay.

She pleaded not guilty to the assault charge and to a threatening charge which was withdrawn.

The complainant was a Richmond Hill woman who worked as manager of a business owned by the accused woman's estranged husband.

Evidence in court was that an ear ring dangling from a pierced ear of the complainant was painfully pulled and that the complainant and the accused both were receiving a large number of harassing telephone calls.

Vaughan Township Police Sergeant James Nugent ducked and was narrowly missed by either an ash tray or a cup and saucer thrown at the complainant by the accused.

The complainant said she was no longer a manager for the accused's husband, but still saw the estranged husband from time to time when he came by to talk business.

The accused woman blamed the complainant for estrangement of the husband. The accused repeatedly had to be silenced by Judge Charles, and nearly had to be restrained by police.

The accused woman's lawyer told the court the situation was also the subject of action in civil court.

A charge against a Richmond Hill youth for marijuana possession was dismissed by Judge Charles in Provincial Court September 28.

Stephen Bird, 16, of 260 Ruggles Avenue, pleaded not guilty. No evidence was offered by the Crown Attorney.

Bird was charged June 20 along with two other youths.
