Volleyball Our community can be very proud of a number of its girls who have been playing volleyball in inter-school competition on the Langstaff Secondary School teams, and who have contributed a great deal towards winning of the two awards in the past two weeks.

The juniors, last Saturday, took the GBSSA Award at Port Perry after playing the best-of-three games against Orillia, Markham, Barrie-Eastview and Orillia again, winning the last three out of these four matches.

With Debbie Hughes as captain the team includes Leslie Bullock, Lorraine Deska, Lorraine Sherman, Beth Voigt, Cathy Burlington, Rita Caranci, Sandy Morlock, Barbara Madill and Debbie Dowdall.

These girls were coached by Lorna Madill and coached by Miss Janet McCowan, physical education instructor.

The girls have asked that we extend their thanks to their coach, manager and all those who helped them.

Saturday, November 7, the Jamboree Trophy for volleyball was won for the seventh straight year by Langstaff. This is a day-long competition of grade 9 students only, coached and handled by senior students only, with no assistance from staff at all.

Senior Citizens

A good turnout was on hand, November 9 for a Remembrance Day Service with Dr. Ramsay Armitage and Rev. B. F. Andrew conducting the program.

Dr. Armitage presented the call to worship followed by a prayer and Scripture reading.

The entire group read, in unison, Lt. Col. John MacRae's "In Flanders Fields" the subject of Mr. Andrew's address.

With Mrs. Miriam Lepper at the piano, "For All The Saints" was sung, and Mr. Andrew piped the lament "Flowers in the Forest" followed by a period of silence and as the reveille "The Green Hills of Tyrol."

Dr. Armitage pronounced the benediction and the assembly sang O Canada and God Save The Queen.

A short business meeting followed, when President Paul Snider presented the suggested program for the coming month, including a day of games, November 16, a film or slides to be shown November 23, bowling to be arranged for November 3 and a shopping trip to a large plaza, possibly Yorkdale, December 7 or 8 and a combined second anniversary and Christmas dinner for December 14, with a speaker and entertainment.

Following the business, a sing-song was enjoyed with Mr. Andrew at the piano, and featuring some of the songs of World War vintage.

Testament United

A reminder to keep in mind "Testament Expo '70", the annual Christmas bazaar, November 27 at 7:30 p.m. This is an evening of fun for everyone in the family with a feature of the bazaar geared to all ages.

There will be the ever-popular tables of home baking and preserves, a flowering gift shop, sewing, produce, the post office, cut up fresh beef, trash n' treasures, a candy booth, kiddies' corner and for the wee ones, Santa!

Presbyterian Church

The ladies of St. Andrew's are presenting an evening of "Treasures in Tupperware" followed by a table of Christmas Baking, just in time to put away some mince pie, butter tarts, fruit loaves etc in the freezer for those busy, busy, days before Christmas!

This will be a great opportunity to enjoy an evening of games and fun with your friends, and at the same time to cross some of those names off your shopping list!

Plan an evening out, November 24, at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Some improvements in the kitchen at St. Andrew's were noted last weekend after the young people of the two Bible classes combined their efforts to put a coat of paint on the kitchen cupboards.

The leaders of these two groups, Pearl and Duane Forrest, are to be complimented on the efforts they and the young people have made already this year, and the season has really just got underway.

For such busy people, they are doing a marvellous job!

Women's Institute

Maple WI held a very interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. John Corhill of Thornhill, November 11, with Mrs. Doris Payne presiding.

The roll call, "A Thought For Remembrance Day" brought forth sad memories of two World Wars.

Mrs. Jean Jackson gave a splendid account of the WI Area Convention held in Toronto. She stressed the fact that resolutions are necessary for the life of a nation, to improve the quality of the people and children need good models to live by.

These are excerpts from speaker, Toronto Alderman June Marks at the convention. She also spoke of politics and giving opportunity to the young people. The activities included home economics, interspersed with music.

Dr. James Huntley spoke of the 75th anniversary of Guelph University. His text was "Let All Accept The Challenge Of Life Together For A Better World."

Mrs. Payne reported on the FWIC Convention held in Winnipeg.

Maple WI has become a member of the Vaughan Historical Society. Mrs. John Corhill, who took a nursing assistant course, gave a graphic account of her experiences from enrolment to graduation.

She told of the different hospitals she nursed in, conferences about patients, and made light of the hard work involved. Her humorous comments showed how much she enjoyed helping others.

Mrs. Corhill is now giving her time to World Vision of Canada, an organization helping orphans and children in need around the world.

Mrs. Corhill showed pictures of a trip to West Virginia, featuring the beautiful Blue Ridge Mountains and the wonderful scenery of the caverns, hawk's nest, bee tree and observatory.

Mrs. Doris Payne thanked all who participated.

Home and School

We have been advised that this story is required reading on the list for the senior school students, and they would all be well advised to see the movie if at all possible.

George Bailey

On November 1, Rev. Norman Bookers of Maple United, delivered a thoughtful and tasteful outline of the meaning of Remembrance Day to the students of the senior school.

Yesterday (November 18) Merrill McPhail's grade 8's visited the traffic courts in Richmond Hill as part of the safety program as well as citizenship training.

Mrs. Eleanor Profit's class is expected to make the same visit in December.

Joseph Gibson

Monday, November 9, Roy Robson and the staff of the Gibson School were hosts at an afternoon tea. The setting was the beautiful library-resources room of the school and the guests were former staff members and a group of volunteer helpers.

The use of volunteer parents is not new to the educational system. However, it is new to the parents here. It was initiated when a parent saw a void that she could fill. Since that day, she has spent one hour each morning listening to a group of little people read.

It is the school's belief that each child should read aloud each day and unless a teacher devotes the bulk of her day to reading, it is difficult to accomplish this end. Now, each child is heard and has a greater opportunity to express himself. As a result, some 20 volunteers arrive at different times during the day and become part of the working team in the school. They listen to children read, help a child drill on mathematics facts, mark assignments, run off stencils, type assignments, and assist the teachers in many other ways. One of the most beneficial aids is the one-to-one relationship that has been established with the children.

The children are pleased, the teachers are pleased and the volunteers are pleased that they can contribute something to the community. ## Form Bus Safety Patrols In Vaughan

By HAROLD BLAINE
School bus student safety patrols are being formed at Vaughan Township schools in a pilot project undertaken by the Vaughan Police Department in co-operation with the York County Board of Education.

Most of the students within the Township of Vaughan are taken to their respective schools by bus. The project is aimed at providing increased safety for school bus travellers, such as student traffic patrols do on the streets in urban centres.

Vaughan Township Police Traffic and Safety Officer Jack Hamilton, in conjunction with school officials, has organized the first school bus safety patrol at the George Bailey Senior Public School on Keele Street in Maple.

This first patrol consists of 11 students chosen by school Principal Russell Urquhart. The patrol members were chosen because of their special academic and leadership abilities in the school.
