Ron McAndrews, who has been the inspiration behind the Richmond Hill Girls' Mic Macs Softball Team for the past 11 years, comes on with the big smile as Angus Philip (left) presents him with a plaque honoring his contribution to softball. Mr. Philip is a member of the Richmond Hill Ball Association.

The presentation was made at the annual dinner held November 29 by the Richmond Hill Legion which sponsors the Junior Mic Macs. Donor of the plaque chose to remain anonymous.

Honor Ron "Mr. Mic Mac" McAndrews

BY FRED SIMPSON

The Richmond Hill Legion-sponsored Junior Girls Mic Macs officially closed out the 1970 softball season November 29 with an awards dinner at the local Legion Hall.

Trophies were the order of the day as well as two special awards which went to Manager Cliff Soundy and Coach Ron McAndrews for their contributions to the team and girls' softball over the years.

Soundy was honored for his nine years service with the Mic Macs organization and McAndrews for his "outstanding leadership and coaching of girls' softball in Richmond Hill."

McAndrews started the whole got our bids in and I feel confident Richmond Hill will get it.

"The winner of the All-Ontario will have an expense-free trip to Newfoundland later on in the summer. I make no bones about it, I'd like it to be the Mic Macs."

Trophy winners honored at Sunday's dinner were: Most Valuable Player, Janet Thompson; Homerun Queen, Muriel Morton, second year in a row; Batting Champion, Brenda Laird, second consecutive year and Rookie of the Year, Peg Ollerenshaw. Individual awards were also distributed.

Legion President Douglas Hopson, who attended the meeting with other Legion executives, also received a trophy on behalf of the Mic Macs Juniors.

Angus Philip, a member of the Richmond Hill Ball Association, also participated in the presentation of awards. He also represented Glen Philip, president of the town ball association, who was unable to attend.

Coach Watson Still 'Optimist'

Hill Rams Lose By 7-3 To Tough Weston Squad

Definition of an eternal optimist. A hockey coach whose team has just lost a 7-3 game and currently is in 10th place in the 12-team Metro Junior "B" League with only 7 wins in 22 starts.

Who he? Scotty Watson of the Richmond Hill Rams. "Sure, they call me the eternal optimist," admitted Watson after Friday night's 7-3 loss to Weston in Weston.

"But this team hasn't been playing all that badly. We've been missing too many opportunities around the net. We either score in batches or we don't score at all.

"I feel we've got the guys who can score. I just pray that they start finding the net." Despite Friday's loss, Watson thought his team played reasonably well.

"We tied it at 1-1 but they came through with a couple of good shots and then we faded," he said.

Tom Colley was the big thorn in the Richmond Hill side as he rapped home three goals with the others going to Hal Murphy, a Richmond Hill boy, John Jaschuk, Doug Baxter, and Graham Hole.

Richmond Hill's goals were by Al Sims, Craig Terry, and Bill Mouncey.

Watson had special praise for the efforts of a Richmond Hill boy, John Barnett.

"Johnny is playing very well for us. He's a hard worker and he's been making a lot of good plays for us."

Also coming in for favorable comments was Goalie Louie Moore who "gave us a very steady game. I can't fault him on the score."

Watson admits to being disappointed in the recent play of his other goalie, Bob Smith, who "I figured would be the big stopper for us."

"I hope he still can be but of late he has been having his problems. But then, who hasn't?"

Watson, coming back to his eternal optimist theme, points out that the schedule is only halfway through and "we've accumulated 15 points in 28 games. Last year we only managed 17 points in 33 games."

He's also added an experienced defenceman to the roster in the person of Frank Teskey who played last season with Whitty and Ron Morgan, a left-winger.

Sport Spots

It's Curling, Sir

Curling is one of those games that I've never got around to really observing closely let alone playing. The others are cricket, chess, and tiddly-winks. I think that's all although I could be wrong on the latter score. I seem to recall plinking and plunking a few tiddly's at some point in my life but I wouldn't want to swear to it.

For years I've been peering through clubhouse windows of curling clubs and down at those madly sweeping people with a certain amount of bewilderment, even awe.

I'm still not an expert or even very knowledgeable on the game but the more I observe it the more tempted I am to grab a broom and start wheeling the rocks.

But in the meantime I'll settle for talking to the people who do and right now it's pretty 18-year-old Mary White of 171 Mill Street, Richmond Hill, I'm talking to.

Mary is a member of a Richmond Hill Curling Club rink which is currently embroiled in the All-Ontario Junior Curling Playdowns to decide who will represent the province in the Canadian finals in Saskatoon in February.

"It's the first time I or any of the girls on our rink have curled in this type of playoff competition and we're really enjoying it although I didn't really think we would get this far. It wasn't that I didn't think we were good but I felt we would meet some other team who was better. We haven't so far."

A cross of the fingers as Mary and her teammates — Lynn Paton, Janet Thomson and Diane Anderson — ready for the All-Ontario finals at Humberland December 28, 29 and 30.

Opponents will be five other qualifying rinks from Sault Ste. Marie, Weston, Ottawa and St. Catharines.

"I think it will be great if we can come through," states Mary admitting that the competition will be the best yet.

"There's always a lot of pressure," she said. "I'm always nervous just before the game starts. But once you throw the first rock you're too busy concentrating from then on."

NOT TOO NERVOUS

Mary and her teammates didn't show too much nervousness in getting to the All-Ontario finals via the defeated bodies of their opponents. They didn't really have too much trouble from other rinks despite their fears.

The Richmond Hill rink came out on top against three other rinks in Uxbridge a few weeks ago. "We played against Uxbridge, Bobcaygeon and Lindsay," she said. "It was a knockout series. One loss and you're out. We got off to a good start, stayed hot, and won it fairly easily."

Then, flushed with victory, it was off to Lindsay last week to yet another big series of wins

The Skier's Special — Datsun 1600

In our organization we have a number of skiers and we're all Datsun enthusiasts — so it was only a matter of time before we set up a Datsun specially for skiers. We loaded a high performance 2 door Datsun 1600 with winter gear to get you to the slopes safely. First we put a set of 4 Semperit Radial tires on extra wide rims (5 1/2" wide) with 2 additional rims with radial snow tires. These tires are made in Austria and the wide rims put more tire on the road; this combination makes Datsun's all independent suspension even more sure footed and safe. We added a pair of quartz halogen driving lights for better vision at night and of course a ski rack on the roof. In the event that all this is not enough to keep you on the road, the Datsun has towing hooks front and rear, let's hope you won't need those!

The complete package costs $2545.00. Give it a whirl!

Just thought you'd like to know ...

"Decob" the engine

A favourite seat-of-the-pants way to "blow the cobs" out of a sluggish engine is to take the car out on a high speed limit road. This is especially true when the car has been limited to low-speed stop-and-go city driving. As a result the spark plugs become dirty and fouled to a point where noticeable misfire occurs ... this despite the fact that plugs have low mileage on them.

The most effective way to "decob" the engine is to vary speeds on the highway. It's done as follows:

Accelerate slowly until the engine begins to miss. Then back off on the throttle until the engine runs smoothly again. Continue running at this lower speed for about one mile. Then accelerate slowly to the miss point again. Ideally, the misfire should be occurring at a higher speed. Decelerate again and repeat the process until the misfire reappears. If you can't get rid of the misfire it's a sign that the plugs are beyond redemption and plugs should be serviced or replaced.

Winter Tires

Because of high volume in one size, we are able to offer a great deal to our Datsun customers; 2 snow tires mounted on 2 extra rims just $59.95 — the extra rims overcome having to change tires at the start and end of the winter season.
