"The Liberal" is always willing to publish items regarding people and events contributed by its readers in Maple, Concord, Edgeley and Kleinburg.

LOOKING AROUND

We were all sorry to hear that Paul Snider, RR 2, Maple, was taken to York Central Hospital last week and was in intensive care in the coronary unit for several days.

Roly Keffer enjoyed a happy weekend when he drove to Waterloo to spend two days with Rev. Emil Lang and Mrs. Lang and their family.

Mr. and Mrs. Roly Keffer returned from their Caribbean cruise December 19 with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hadwin of King City.

This is a particularly happy occasion for Jill Davidson, Maple, whose birthday, December 24, was celebrated with all the family together for Christmas Eve.

We were pleased to receive a copy of the new Gray Coach Lines Time Table for January 1971.

Their many outings and bus trips. The group gathers between 1:30 and 2:00 pm each Monday afternoon, and a stranger soon feels that he is among friends.

The latest outing planned by the Ice Follies, January 26 with the cost of $3.75 to be in by January 16 in order to reserve the bus and the seats in the front row greens at Maple Leaf Gardens.

The meeting of the Seniors Monday afternoon was cancelled because of the slippery roads, but will resume next Monday as usual.

At the 11 o'clock service December 20 the Sunday school presented a Christmas Pageant the enacting of the Christmas Story as told in the Bible with readings by Mrs. Mary Davis and Jennifer Lines.

In the pageant, Barbara Gedes played the part of Mary, the Angel Gabriel played by Ken Jellinson, Randy Tinline played Joseph, Walter Nixon the Inn Keeper, the Three Wise Men were Jimmy Jellison, Stephen Bormeman and Tommy Weidenfelder.

Susan Gipps was the tradition reader, describing some of the customs of Christmas, with a group of the children singing "Deck The Halls" carrying greenery, Kim Birnie, Irene Long, Dale Tinline and Gail Bormeman.

The children of the primary class stole the show with their singing of "Jingle Bells". The pageant ended with Mrs.

Ingham - O'Brien

Wed In Kleinburg United Church To Live In New Nobleton Home

Pink gladioli and white daisies formed the setting in Kleinburg United Church for the November 14 wedding of Margaret Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh O'Brien, King City, to Ronald Gilbert Ingham, son of Mrs. Beryl Ingham and the late Gilbert Ingham of Kleinburg.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full-length A-line gown of white tulle with a long train and long bell-shaped sleeves, with a chapel train built into the sides of the skirt.

Guipure lace trimmed the collar, empire waist, sleeves and appliques were scattered over the front of the skirt and down the chapel train. Her long face veil of nylon illusion was scattered with the same appliques and was held in place by a cluster of roses on a bow with roses framing her face and tendrils falling back over the veil.

Miss Muriel Adams, niece of the bride was maid of honor, the bridesmaid was Mrs. Donna O'Brien, sister-in-law of the bride and the junior bridesmaid was Miss Karen Shaw, niece of the bride.

The groom's mother assisted in an ensemble of lilac silk worsted, the dress was empire-waisted with an A-line skirt, small cap sleeves and was trimmed with guipure lace appliques. The princess-line coat had long straight sleeves with Peter Pan collar. Her headpiece was a small bow of matching material. Her corsage was of yellow cymbidium orchids.

Davis lighting a tall white candle representing Jesus as the light of the world, and four children Robin Birnie, Michaela Weidenfelder, Kim Anderson and Rebecca Matthews dressed as the four races of the world, carried their four candles, also in the colors of the races, Black, Red, Yellow and White, to be lighted from the "Light of the World".

On December 29 at 7:30 a magician, Jack Holland, Mr. Magic, put on quite a show of magic for the children of the Sunday school who enjoyed their party with their teachers. During the evening, the little 9 year old boy from Macao, who is sponsored by the Sunday school, had sent his thank you letter, including a picture of his parents and three sisters, and the picture was passed around and enjoyed by all.

The ladies of the ACW served cookies and ice cream to the children and each child was presented with a candy cane before he left for home.

The Sunday school and congregation got together for their annual Christmas program with all singing the processional hymn, The First Noel. Wendy Davidson gave a recitation, "Christmas Meaning". The junior choir under the leadership of Mrs. Rita Moore sang the "Huron Carol". This choir and their leader spent a lot of time and hard work in the preparation of their program and includes Sonja Boersig, Donna Davidson, Gail Keffer, Lydia Bundschuh, Debbie Hansen, Lynda Kunst, Janice Moore, Karen Thiel, Vivian Hansen, Christine Budwith, Allan Moore, Frank Surkau and Chuck Theil.

The primary class with Dorothy Wolfgram, Yvonne Wolfgram, Julie Keffer, Gary Hansen, Timmy Moore, Jimmy Bundschuh, Steven Graham and Michael Arbuckle sang "Away In A Manger" and "In A Lovely Manger". The junior choir gave their rendition of "Bring A Torch". The grade 2 class presented in verse "Did You Know?" with Krista Theil, Michael Kunst, Darlene Budwith and David Budwith.

The congregation joined in with "What Child Is This?" followed by the grade 3 choral reading of St. Luke 2: 8 - 16 and sang "While Shepherds Watched". These were Wendy Davidson, Nancy Pogue, Albert Wolfgram, Scott Graham and Maureen Allen.

The choir presented "The March of the Three Kings" and "Mary, Mary". The congregation sang Angels From The Reception at the Humbervale Inn on Concession 10, the bride's mother received her guests wearing an ensemble of blue polyester suede with a princess line dress and long full chiffon sleeves accented with beading around the neckline and cuffs. Her headpiece was a whimsy with a bow on top matching her outfit. Her corsage was of mauve cymbidium orchids.

The groom's mother assisted in an ensemble of lilac silk worsted, the dress was empire-waisted with an A-line skirt, small cap sleeves and was trimmed with guipure lace appliques. The princess-line coat had long straight sleeves with Peter Pan collar. Her headpiece was a small bow of matching material. Her corsage was of yellow cymbidium orchids.

For travelling the bride chose a mauve foxtel ensemble with black accessories. Her corsage was a mauve orchid.

Since their return the happy couple have been residing in Kleinburg until they take up residence in their new home in Nobleton.

Realms of Glory" with the angels therein, or the girls of the choir presenting "O Little Town of Bethlehem".

The program closed with "Silent Night" and the children received candy bags and refreshments were served in the Sunday school. A most unfortunate accident marred the beauty and joy of the evening when Mrs. Maria Surkau of Nobleton fell outside the church and dislocated her shoulder and had to be taken to hospital for treatment. We would sincerely hope that she has completely recovered by now.

Members of Zion Lutheran are being advised that their annual meeting will be held January 24 and that confirmation classes will begin tonight (Thursday) at 7 pm.

The next Maple WI meeting will be held at the United Church Christian education hall January 13 when Maple WI will entertain York West District WI members.

The Maple Lions are pleased with the New Year's Dance this year which was attended by approximately 150 people. This is a special affair during the year, one which is not intended to be a money raising event, but rather to provide fun and entertainment for village residents.

From all reports we would gather that the Lions succeeded in exactly that! Door prizes were awarded during the evening to H. J. Clapp of King City, Mel Weldrick also of King City, Ken Fontenot, Reg Thacker, Reg Rouse and Rick Soderberg all of Maple, Howard Clegg and J. Schwartz of King City and Walt Field, David Marwood and Jo-Anne Whelan all of Maple.

The men from Willow Bank Conventual Home were guests of Kleinburg Rotarians at the annual Christmas supper at Mae Watt's Humbervale Inn, Nobleton. A tasty m.e.a.l. Christmas Carols, old time songs, lucky draws and gifts for each guest made it a festive occasion.

Ted Kaiser, manager of the home, said the "boys" look forward to this annual event. Last summer the Rotarians were guests at a barbecue supper at the Willow Bank farm.

Kleinburg ladies bowling league had their turkey roll December 17. Winners were Doreen Hossack, Barb Cuffe, Emelie Dunne, Carol Keffer, Diane Woodley and Greta Wilkes.

Winners of chocolates donated by the Nobleton Bowl were Jackie Chefero, Evelyn See, Heather Spence, Ede McKend, Ann Mossenta and Patricia Deans.

Winners of the "Christmas cheer" draw held by the league last Thursday were Joan Love and Heather Spence with two winnings each. Wendy Love, Lorna Stairs, Gail Dunne, Greta Wilkes, Pat Guthrie were also winners and Vera Carman won the booby prize.

Win Contest With Favorite Fictional Characters

Winners have been selected in Maple Library's Young Canada Book Week Competition and prizes awarded. Young patrons of the library were asked to write about "My Favorite Book Character."

This was the first such contest at the library, and Mrs. Ellis was pleased with the response. She hopes to have another such event for the young people.

Kleinburg Klarion

Friends and neighbors are invited to an open house for the Richard Swartwout family of Kleinburg Sunday afternoon at Kleinburg United Church.

Earning their golden bars were Lucha Kordez and Julia Atherley. First year stars went to Heather Beever, Sylvia Guthrie, Julia Atherley, Lucha Kordez and Marsha Donner. Susan Ford earned her collector's badge recently.

A farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Don Mitchell, RR 1, Woodbridge, was held in the Orange Hall on December 28. There was a dance and buffet, and Don and Norma received TV trays as a parting gift. They are moving to Belleville where Don will manage a BP oil distributing base.

Don will be missed by Kleinburg Lions, vacating the position of treasurer. A charter member of the club, he personally was responsible for the huge decorated tree in front of Kleinburg Library a year ago. He has also been a leader of Scouts and Cubs of Humbervale in Nashville.

School children who rode on the bus Nora drove were sorry to see her go. She also transported many of the Scouts and Cubs to the summer day camp at Hill-Jac. We hope the people in Belleville appreciate their new neighbors as much as we have.

Kleinburg-Nashville Women's Institute will meet January 19 at 1 pm at the home of Mrs. Paul Chiefero, 52 Donhill Crescent. All ladies are welcome. The topic is "crafts" and the motto, "Character is like embroidery. It is made stitch by stitch."

In the last few years I have been wondering how I could cut down on my Christmas card list, which had grown to 200. This year I was not well enough to send cards, and guess what? I received only 80, so my eliminating problem was solved.

Kleinburg United Church had a noisy ward last Wednesday when the Hi-C group held a Smashathon, hammering an old car to a pulp. Their aim was to raise money.

The Christmas Eve Candle-light Service was well attended. There was music by the choir accompanied by Organist Mrs. Lorne Whetstone and Bradon Pletzer on his accordion.

Rev. William Reid's sermon last Sunday was "A Song In A Strange Land". The choir sang "In The Bleak Midwinter" accompanied on the accordion by Hi-C Member Bradon Pletzer.

During collection of the offering Bradon played "Bless This House". Kleinburg United Church annual meeting will take place January 17 beginning at 6.30 pm with a pot luck dessert and coffee.
