Hey You Guys, Scum's Up!

There were capacity audiences for all four performances of "For the Hill of it" presented last week by students and staff of Bayview Secondary School. The focal point of the show was the Mill Pond and the star, a monster, by the name of Al G, which inhabited its waters. Although the pond was covered by scum in the early days, local bylaws prohibited scumming and above Mike Culham (left) a professional scummer, is airing his beefs to Ian Henderson, a representative of the parks department.

Shortly after this scene Mike threw his board into the Mill Pond and heard a loud scream, completely unaware that he had hit the monster on the head, This original and wild musical revue was written, acted, produced and directed by
