Spring Fashions In Thornhill

Local women were the models when Holy Trinity Anglican Church Women presented their "Shows of Fashion" in the parish hall in Thornhill on April 28.

Apparel from casual to formal came from Gilliam's, with emphasis on uncrushable, easy care fabrics as demonstrated in the picture above in which Mrs. Doris Dunnett demonstrates the glamor of an ensemble of hot pants and floral sleeveless beach coat.

Footwear for summer came from Kinney's, and Mrs. Lois Jempson was the commentator. Spring flowers flanked the runway while Gay Hunter provided piano accompaniment for the swinging suburban models. The Norm Sharpe quartet entertained during intermission, and guests had an opportunity to take a second look at the new fashions during refreshment time.

The attendance cup was earned by room 6, Richard Colvin's class.

Baptists Mark Mother's Day
Mother's Day was very special at the Baptist Church. On entry each lady was presented with a carnation and ladies took the place of deacons at the door. Four teenage girls took up the offering, a ladies chorus sang "Whoever Wears a Mother's Heart" and Mrs. Hugh Martin rendered a lovely solo "Count Your Blessings". Mrs. Mabel Webber led the service, Mrs. Carol Dow spoke to the children and Mrs. Lynn Law read the scripture.

A poem read by Mrs. Ernie Johns was composed by Mrs. Lila Ross. It gave advice to parents and children on how to get along together.

"To Live in Love" was the theme of messages given by Mrs. Dorothy McGowan and Mrs. Norah Taylor and these were very thought provoking to parents and children alike.

The Rev. Ernie Johns thanked the ladies for giving him the opportunity of sitting in the pew and felt having so much talent in the church was a challenge to him.

Leonard Castelletti — grade 11
Leonard likes the choice of subjects as he is not restricted to taking subjects he does not like. He is also pleased, because he does not need to sign up for one particular area; like ST and T, A and S, B and C, as in the regular high school. He does like Radio Thornlea and thinks that the announcers are getting better because they are more experienced.

Leonard Castelletti, a member of the scuba club said that the water was too calm and underwater visibility was poor. Leonard also said that Reg hopes the water will be rough on their next trip. Twenty-two members attended this trip but only 19 tried for the award.

On Sunday afternoon May 9 the children who attend Ukrainian school at St. Vladimir's Ukrainian Cathedral on Bathurst Street, Toronto, presented their annual Mother's Day concert. Victor Pawlenko, grade 5 teacher was Master of Ceremonies. Children from kindergarten to grade 6 performed. The concert consisted of singing, recitations and dancing.

During the program Mrs. M. Foty, principal of the school, who resides at Oak Avenue, Richvale, chose Mrs. Kateruna Shecherban and Mrs. Lida Olechny as Mothers of the year. Miss Christina Plishka and Miss Elisoveta Trofymovich presented the ladies with bouquets of flowers. These fine ladies have devoted much of their time and energy for the good of our children and we thank you.

Your correspondent's three children attend this school and took part in the concert. Enjoying this performance with us was young Edward Fitchett of Duncan Road.

The spring bazaar which was held at the Emmanuel Anglican Church on MacKay Drive, on Saturday May 8 was a success, especially for the Senior Citizens' ladies who sold all their knitted articles.

On Monday May 3 the Home and School Association of 16th Avenue Public School held its meeting. There was a fair turnout but a lot more could have been accommodated. Miss Pat Bailey, Master Art Teacher at Toronto Teachers College talked to the pupils about art for a while, then had them produce paintings of their own. While the young artists were at work, Miss Bailey showed us how a child's art progressed from one year to the next as he grows thus expressing himself through his paintings. Then we had the privilege of viewing the masterpieces. Very well done children. To put a happy ending to the meeting everyone enjoyed some homemade cookies, juice and coffee.

On Monday May 3, the grade 5 and 6 students of 16th Avenue Public School, along with Mr. Bone and Mr. McKelvey, who is the principal, visited the Burlington Outdoor Resource Centre, commonly known as BORE. There the students had the opportunity to explore nature as it is. Oh, did those feet and muscles ever hurt the next day.

A summer program for the children of this area will be held at Roselawn Senior Public School and Charles Howitt Public School. Since we of East Richvale belong to Richmond Hill we have the opportunity of sending our children to these schools for summer fun.

The cost is very reasonable and the program very interesting. More information and forms for registration will be distributed from the school near the end of June. So mothers let us help our children to forget this statement, "I have nothing to do."
