Neighborhood Notes

Gorgeous weekends we've been having this year, so far. Over the past one, I spent a couple of days at Balm Beach, up near Wasaga — beautiful. There is less and less wildlife in this area, with industry making such inroads south of Highway 7, so police and roadmen were more than surprised when two dead deer turned up recently. Two weeks ago today, Thursday, a motorist reported to police that he had struck one of two deer which had leapt in front of his car on Don Mills Road near Miller Road. One of the animals was killed, but there was no other damage. Then Tuesday of the following week, the York roads crew spotted another good sized fawn in the ditch near the same spot. It had been killed also. There is going to be a gala affair at Union Villa tomorrow night, June 4, when the auxiliary will sponsor a Polynesian buffet barbecue and dance. You won't want to miss this if you remember last year's Hawaiian luau. The time is 8:30 pm, and tickets are available from Mrs. Ryan, 297-2848. There was a swinging fashion show held at the Villa Hospital on Bathurst Street Wednesday last. Residents and community members got into the act with verve and imagination. Some of the dresses were gracious gowns of earlier days, and others were fun things. Members of the Markham Little Theatre group modelled their version of the "Hot Pants" craze, and one lady sported a "Tea" gown — a creation decked with tea bags. Wednesday, June 9, the Brown's Corners United Church Women will wind up their current season with a pot luck luncheon and get-together at the home of Mrs. Alf Miller. The time is 12:30 pm and all the ladies of the congregation are invited. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Stewart Rumble. In case of inclement weather, the group will meet at the church. Friday, June 11, York Central Hospital auxiliary members (Buttonville branch) will hold their end of season pot luck luncheon at the home of Mrs.

Andrew Glenn, 16th Avenue, Unionville. Friends will be happy to learn that Mrs. George Kelly was released from hospital early last week a day or so after she became ill at Fenelon Falls. We think of her. Brother officers of York Regional Police honored Former Chief Harvey Cox at a party held at the North Thornhill Community Centre May 20. He will be greatly missed in the ranks of the local division.

The Agromart is turning into a one-stop farm service centre with top-quality farm products and the service to back them. Come on in. The coffee pot's on the stove, and we're ready to talk.

You can get a lot more than fertilizer from the CIL Agromart

Now, you'll find over 90 farm inputs in stock — and a new type of technical and business service

What's going on at the Agromart?

Drop around and see for yourself. It's turning into a one-stop farm service centre.

Right now, you can get most any farm input you want. Whatever crop you're growing. Whatever livestock you raise.

Brand-names you can trust

Every input was chosen because it gives the best results in this area — and the best value for your money.

You'll find names you know and trust — like Chipman, and Shell pesticides; Ayerst, Tuco, Norwich and Sepko animal health products. Northrup-King seed corn — Hyland Brand seed grain and our own CIL range of custom-blend fertilizers and feed pre-mixes.

Special Adviser Service

Your Agromart Manager knows local farming very well.

But there's so much new information pouring out, no one man can keep on top of it.

So, to help you and help the Agromart Manager, CIL has formed a special Adviser Service — a team of specialists to give you down-to-earth advice on what's new — and what works.

You can get on-farm advice about Feed, Seed, Soil Management, Fertilizer, Animal Health, Nutrition, and Farm Management — simply by asking your Agromart manager to call the Advisers in.

Agromart Farmers' Meetings keep you up to date

When we talked to farmers about this new service, a lot of them said "I've got to know what the new farm ideas are before I can get advice on them." Fair enough.

So this year the Agromart will run a series of Farmers' Meetings on what's happening in farming. Nothing formal. Just coffee and donuts. An agricultural specialist or one of our supplier's experts will talk a while, then answer questions. We'll announce the meetings in the paper. Plan to come along. You never know what you'll learn.

What else can the Agromart do for you?

The biggest problem a farmer faces is the battle to keep profits up. It's not a new problem. But CIL have some new answers.

CIL Agromart Managers, Advisers and economic specialists have been conducting months of research into crop-planning, livestock production and farm economics.

Now, solid farm management plans are being drawn up. The first is called "Planned Profit Farming". Its aim? To help you develop a long-term program for your farm business, using and adapting new and proven products and systems.

You can put "Planned Profit Farming" to work on your farm operation right now. Ask your Agromart Manager for more information.

Now you know a little more about the Agromart, why not drop in and meet the Agromart Manager? He's got a pot of coffee on the stove, and he's ready to talk.
