

The Liberal

Subscription Rate $5.00 per year; to United States $6.00; 15¢ single copy Member Audit Bureau of Circulations Member Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association Published by Richmond Hill Liberal Publishing Co. Ltd.

> W. S. COOK, Publisher "Second class mail, registration number 0190"

Where Now, Lake Wilcox?

Who knows best what a community needs? The person who lives there? Who eats and sleeps there? Whose children go to school there? Or is it the disinterested, well-intentioned outsider? The objective viewer?

This seems to be the crux of the question confronting the York Regional Council as it prepares to approve appointments to the Lake Wilcox Special Project Committee.

The Lake Wilcox-Oak Ridges communities, like Topsy, were not planned; they "just growed". Thirty years ago it was not too far for Metro residents to travel on war-time rationed gasoline for a summer Sunday or holiday. The unpolluted lake was a pleasant place for swimming, and the beaches perfect for picnicking. Cottages sprang up like mushrooms and everybody was happy.

The war ended, gas was no longer rationed, and the cottagers moved on. People of more modest means, forced out of the city by a housing shortage, bought up the cottages and in many cases winterized and improved them.

But there were others, too; the indifferent and the improvident, the people who for some reason just never could make it, and the hoodlums and motor cycle gangs congregated, making life difficult at best, downright miserable and dangerous at worst. Those who had grown to love the area, who had pride in their homes and their community, struggled to make it a good place to live. It was not easy. There were problems water, sewage, garbage disposal, roads. Rundown and abandoned buildings became a fire hazard polluted waters a health hazard. The churches and the schools struggled to maintain a sense of community, to provide constructive leisure time activities for young and old, to give dignity to their modest homes. With the advent of regional government last January, Lake Wilcox and the neighboring Oak Ridges became part of the Town of Richmond Hill. A new spirit of community blossomed, and the town council agreed with the residents that a comprehensive study of the area should be undertaken as a prelude to restoration of the new wards.

Regional council was quite willing to let Richmond Hill go it alone on the study. But Richmond Hill, like the Towns of Markham and Vaughan, has its own planning director and planning committee, and these are kept going with local planning. It seemed like a good idea to make use of the expertise of the new regional planning staff, which also serves as a planning department for the other six regional municipalities.

Richmond Hill asked the region to aid in the study, and it was agreed in an open meeting of regional council that a committee of six should be set up to assess the need and to make recommendations. Richmond Hill Council was to appoint three representatives to the committee. The Regional Council was to appoint

It's hardly an exaggeration to state that the way of the new 1971

King Township Council - and particularly that of Mayor Ken Mac-taggart - has not been an unripples was the recent verbal pasting handed Mr. Mactaggart by 24 housewives at a "World Around Us" discussion at York Pines United Church.

the mayor was or was not handled in a somewhat unladylike manner by his aggressive female inquisitors.

The point here is that it did happen, which is further strong indication of a growing disenchantment with the present administration by King

the conclusion that the present council - all new members with the exception of Mayor Mactaggart - have done just about everything a wise body of politicians should avoid swept aside the format of the previous council, apparently without even so much as a thought about the tur-

With one complete motion they

And it is also impossible to escape

Township ratepayers.

doing in such a situation.

It's open to question as to whether

The latest ripple in a series of troubled one.

three. One of each trio was to be a resident of the area duly nominated by the local community association.

Richmond Hill Council promptly appointed Ward 5 Councillor Stewart Bell, Ross Farquharson, former reeve of Whitchurch Township which formerly had jurisdiction over the area as far west as Yonge Street, and Rev. Robert McElhinney of St. Paul's United Church, Lake Wilcox, a relative newcomer to the area, and a man with considerable experience in the social outreach program of the United Church.

The planning committee of the region was charged with the responsibility of appointing the three remaining committee members. But apparently its Chairman Garnet Williams, mayor of Vaughan, was not listening when the region laid down the ground rules. Nor were the rest of his committee. Their nominees were Councillor Robert Pollock of Georgina, Councillor James Jongeneel of Markham and Mayor Richard Illingworth of Aurora — none of them a resident of the area, and none of them nominated by the local residents.

Mayor Williams was not listening, either, when he told Richmond Hill Mayor William Lazenby in an open meeting that Richmond Hill should nominate three people as regional representatives. When Richmond Hill put forward the names of Regional Councillor Gordon Rowe, a resident of the area for 24 years, and Robert Roth, the citizens' nominee, it came as a complete surprise to Williams. They agreed on one name, however — that of the Aurora Mayor.

Planning Committee Member Gladys Rolling, Mayor of East Gwillimbury, protested that the committee was "unaware" of the amendment stipulating that a regional nominee must be a resident of the study area. The Regional chairman blustered that it was all a mistake. Mayor Illingworth and Councillor Jongeneel offered to step down to make way for Rowe and Roth. Councillor Pollock maintained a discrete silence. Whitchurch-Stouffville Mayor Kenneth Laushway added his voice to those of Lazenby, Illingworth and Rowe in urging council to ratify the appointments recommended by Richmond Hill, but they were outnumbered and the question was referred back to the absent-minded committee.

Naming of the committee is scheduled to come back to council today (Thursday), and since this study, like all studies, is merely a prelude to action, let us hope that there are no more delays. A six-man committee that includes five local representatives may appear to be a bit lop-sided, but Mayor Illingworth is not a man to be ignored or pushed around. We feel that he can be relied upon to be objective, and to make his views known loud and clear. Rehabilitation of Lake Wilcox is long overdue. Let us not put more obstacles in the way. As the mayor of Aurora said at the last meeting of the regional council, "Let's get on with the moment does encourage such sales but estate taxes at the federal level will be eliminated by the legislation presently before the House of Commons so that this should not be a consideration in any such sale except for any estate taxes applied by the provincial government. BARNETT DANSON MP,

WHEAT CHAMP - The winner of the Canadian National World Challenge Trophy for Wheat at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, Toronto, is Gerald Malcolm Unger, of Alectown, New South Wales, Australia. Unger won the 1971 title with an entry of winter wheat called Petatz Surprize. Shown presenting the trophy and other prizes are: (1 to r) "Miss CN", Claudette Laporte, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Plant, Deniliguin, Australia, who accepted the trophy for Unger, and W. D. Piggott, assistant vice-president, Canadian National.

Letters to the Editors

ESTATE AND CAPITAL GAINS TAXES Dear Mr. Editor:

> York North, House of Commons, Ottawa, Ontario.

WE NEED INDUSTRY IN ELGIN MILLS AREA

Dear Mr. Editor: In the November 11 edition of "The Liberal" there is a report that the present town councillor for Ward 1 intended to appear before the committee of adjustment to protest an application for a severance in the Elgin Mills Industrial Area. Surely, no councillor in Richmond Hill has ever so deliberately turned his back on the citizens in such a manner. The town is crying for industrial and commercial assessment to ease our tax burden. While there was no great increase this year, remember that this was possible only because of a non-recurring grant from the province of some $4,500,000. Next year, we will have to make this up in direct property taxes. To object to traffic in an industrial area, on a road that is shown as a major artery in Richmond Hill's Official Plan, indicates a lack of knowledge of the town and of planning in Igeneral. The weak argument Street. That lot will probably that people in the area might be be developed commercially in discomfitted was presented. El- the not too distant future.

I was interested in your lead gin Mills was widened before The town has spent much taxeditorial of November 4 entitled any of the houses flanking it payers' money servicing the El-"Negative Economic Policies." | were constructed. People gen- gin Mills Industrial Area. So While I could comment on erally realize that concession far, only Reynolds Aluminum many facets of the editorial roads are main traffic carriers, has located there. No member of gree I think it important to corpurchase price of homes near erately cause taxes to rise berect one major point of fact. them. In the case of Elgin Mills, cause of his own feelings. Our system is the reason for the the south side of the road allowance and some trees have commerce — are we to have then say "especially estate tax- been planted as a sight and their efforts wasted?

sound barrier. Only two houses | ERIC GEORGE, P. ENG., It is true that the absence of actually front on Elgin Mills, 413 North Taylor Mills Drive, the capital gains tax at the and one of them is near Yonge Richmond Hill.

A child is a dream and a wish, it bursts into the world like the morning sun through the dawn over the mountaintop

A child's first loud cry tells us: I'm here now, I'm alive. I can feel, so make me feel warm. I can hear, talk to me gently. I can see shadows of light, so let the soft golden light shine into my face. I'm hangry, so feed me.

Now he is warm and cuddled. He feels peaceful and secure and understands the first moments of love. He looks up into the most familiar face, the face of his mother. He gives her a big smile, oh and now a loud laugh of joy.

He is exercising his body, on his tummy. Now up go his legs into the air. With shouts of laughter he tells the whole world: Make room for me. I want to crawl and explore

One day he stands up, slowly, with one step forward, one, two, three . . . here he comes with a happy smile and down again, but only for a moment because there is no stopping now.

Soon it will be a fast run. A child's first words are followed by new words and with that the days are filled with lots of questions. He wants to learn about life and everything around him.

One day, it is a special day. There is a big chocolate cake with five candles. Soon he walks proudly and straight into the new classroom. It is the beginning of his new world. LYDIA HACHMER, 95 Cartier Crescent, Richmond Hill.

Wanted - A Big Brother For Johnny And Others

Since schools reopened in September, just about every week brings a new fatherless boy to the Big Brothers of York office in Richmond Hill looking for a man to call a friend,

Social Worker Doreen Wright chats with the boy and his mother tries to match him up with a suitable Big Brother. There are always more boys than men, however, reports Mrs. Wright. She has about 14 lads on her waiting list and for some the need is urgent. One of these made the following plea:

over 21 whose girl friend or ada.

"A hard - working, weary come Communist tyrants?

"One man is needed mature on international affairs. entually be identified to Johnas 'My Big Brother.'

mond Hill 884-9121. The phone number belongs to Ronald's the countries involved? Federated, a local industry Where would we draw the York County Board of Educarict of the Big Brother Move- istan, Indonesia, Iran? ment of York Region. A mes- It would be better if the desks and obsolete books avsage may be left on weekdays. world were full of liberal dem- ailable at no cost to recognized

Without Partners.

a panel and small groups, will for Pravda. That's a hazardous and that the society could make be held at Markham Library from 8 to 10 pm on three suc-

On the first evening the panel County Children's Aid Society;

is free and coffee will be served. Mrs. Pamela Beldan.

OTTA WA REPORT

John Roberts MP YORK SIMCOE

Ottawa Is Not Going Communist

In the last couple of weeks I way to settle world problems. is Johnny. In a letter to "The have received several letters- A recognition of that fact led Liberal" last week, Mrs. Wright some puzzled, some angry - the United States and the U.S .complaining that the Canadian S.R. to set up a "hot line" so "Wanted: Man to go bowling, Government acted as host to that if crises recurred they skating or hiking once a week Mr. Kosygin and Mr. Tito dur- would be dealt with directly with a ten-year-old boy. A man ing their recent visits to Can- not in round about ways.

If it is good to understand wife and family will share him Does this indicate the gov- the position of your friends in for part of each weekend with a ernment is going Communist? the international community it fatherless boy is needed. John- Are we selling out our friends is wise to understand (not supny who lives in a female-orien-in the United States? Why port) the positions of those opshould liberal democrats wei- posed to you.

The visits of Mr. Kosygin mother will trust her son with The simple answer is that in- and Tito correspond to this this man, knowing he has been ternational visits of this kind need of unplugging the changiven personal and medical in no way indicate moral ap-nels of communication. references, has cleared a pol-proval or support for the for- Mr. Kennedy's establishment ice record check and has been eign country or its government. of the hot line with Russia, the chosen for her boy on the basis It is simply part of the process Diefenbaker government's estabof mutual interests and personal of opening channels of com- lishment of commercial relamunication in international aftions with China, President "Sisters may wish they had fairs. We establish embassies, Nixon's forthcoming visit to such a friend, but all family send official delegations, visit Peking - none of these conmembers will know the one-to- and receive visits, not to indic- note moral approval; all of one friendship is not to be ate endorsement, but as part of them indicate a desire to open the normal process of carrying up paths of communication.

That is the explanation for enough to know he may have to Perhaps it would satisfy our the Kosygin and Tito visits go 75 percent of the way for sev- sense of moral idealism if we a helpful device in internationeral weeks, suggesting outings, refused all truck and trade with al relations not a shift in Canand sounds. A man who will ev-

At a meeting November 8

The committee suggested that standard of democratic proprietny's friends loudly and proudly be to place us in a ghetto, in Board Gives Old Desks Where does this man inquire contact with few countries. But about Johnny? He calls Rich- would that help our interests? To Historic Society Would it help the peoples of which donates office space, tele- line? Russia, Rhodesia, South tion agreed to give some of its phone service and much good- Africa, Argentina, Thailand, unused cast iron school desks will to the Richmond Hill dist- Portugal, Algeria, Greece, Pak- to the Aurora and District Historical Society and to make old Professional staff may be cratic governments. But it is historical societies and museums not make it so. We must deal, On November 2 Norman Jolly in international affairs, with of the historical society and members of board staff, visited Topic Of Discussion But if we must deal with Lloyd School to examine stored these powers, whether we like furniture and equipment for its The needs of children in sin- them or not, surely it is better historical value. gle parent families is the topic to do so with as open lines of They found about 75 old cast for the first of a series of three communication as possible. Du- iron desks and reported that abprograms to be presented by ring the Cuban missile crisis out 24 could be used to furnish Markham Family Life Centre the United States and Russia an "old time" classroom. in co-operation with Parents Governments found themselves The committee reported that communicating through a Wash- a number of obsolete text books The discussion sessions, using ington columnist and a reporter are stored at another school, use of several copies of each title that have historical sig-December 6 and December 13. Students To England nificance.

The con the books be sorted and approvwill be Ruth Chambers, York In Mid-Winter Break ed groups be given the opportunity to select those that would Lillie Johnson, York Region A field trip to England for be of value to them. These or-Community Health Nurse; Mario 30 students of Langstaff Sec-ganizations would be respons-Bartoletti, director, Family Life ondary School was approved by ible for transportation of the Centre. Moderator will be Tom York County Board of Educa- items. Newall, chairman of the Family tion at a meeting November 8. The board is also attempt-and Mrs. Gail Newall, also a appreciation of drama. member of the education com- Cost of the tour to the stud- ance. The land, located south of Life Centre's education commit- The students will make the ing to collect old school rectrip during the mid-winter ords from defunct boards and The second session will deal break, March 18 to 26, and will school districts throughout the with marital breakdown; legal pay the full costs themselves. region for its own archives. Rec-aspects and the family court sys- The tour is described as an ords were often stored in the tem. Members of the panel will English and theatre arts en- homes of secretaries or officials be Mrs. Pat Evershed, clerk of richment program. Students will of the small area boards that the juvenile and family court in visit the British Museum, Vict- antidated the township and Newmarket; Larry Calcutt of oria and Albert Museum, the county boards and many have Single Parents Association, and National Portrait and Tate Gall-still not been accounted for. Stouffville Lawyer Gordon Ness. eries in London. They will also AURORA: Reg Sheppard and The series will wind up with visit Stratford. the Ontario Heritage Founda-

a discussion of the emotional The participants will be grade tion have signed a final agreeneeds of the single parent. 13 English students studying ment on almost 60 acres of con-Panelists for that evening are the social and historical back- servation land, here, known as Douglas McMurchy of Parents ground of English literature Sheppard's Bush. The founda-Without Partners; Mrs. Beverly and theatre arts students in- tion will enter into an agree-Hurlburt of the Family Life terested in studying theatrical ment with the South Lake Sim-Centre's education committee, tradition, stagecraft and critical coe Conservation Authority for its development and mainten-ents will be $285. They will Ross Street, includes the char-The public is invited to parti- be accompanied by two teach- ming old residence of Mr. Shepcipate in the series. Admission ers, Mrs. Georgia Stein and pard and has been appraised at

Gala Benefit Aids Happiness Fund For South York Retarded

By HAL BLAINE

"We need a community residence. What we need very much is money to support our work," a gala benefit in aid of the retarded in Southern York Region was told on a recent evening in Richmond Hill.

The event was a Canadian film festival and sherry party at the Richmond Hill Odeon Theatre. Sponsor was the York Central Association for the Mentally Retarded, 321 Enford Road, Richmond Hill, in co-operation with Richmond Hill Cable TV Limited.

In attendance were about 300 invited guests from the towns of Vaughan, Markham and Richmond Hill, Included were many leading citizens. Noticeable too were a large number of Southern York Region politicians from the provincial and municipal levels of government, both the successful and the unsuccessful in recent elec-

It was an unusual opportunity for local residents to see award winning examples of the new wave of Canadian films. On hand to introduce the films was noted CBC film critic Gerald Pratley. He is a director of the Ontario Film Institute and recently served as chairman of the Canadian film awards

The feature shown was the for $25,000 to meet the op-Canadian film "Going Down the Road", depicting the ex- dustries, 321 Enford Road, I know will devote the rest ploits and sad fate, without redemption, of a pair of Nova Scotians. They journey tation centre; to Toronto to seek their fortunes. Although the fateful ending and earthy language dustries; were a little hard to take, it was a real thrill to see a A capital requirement theme, people and events. The short film "Ski de Fond" was a pleasant, exacting, exciting and colorful exposition of the physical and the straining dogged speed of cross-country skiing. Another French film short

"Essai a la Mill" left the audience wondering at its doleful symbolism. French and English speaking watchers were equally confused about defining the actual meaning of this film. It reminded one of the last 15 minutes or so of the recently popular U.S. feature film "Odyssey 2000". But the photography was similarly exciting.

movie on Canadian places,

The film festival at the Odeon Theatre was complemented by a program series of award winning Canadian films on Richmond Hill Cable TV Channel 10.

Continuing his talk on the 'Although there is a great Southern York Region re- can change our children for tarded, York Central Assoc- the world's sake, there is no iation for the Mentally Re- doubt how much we must tarded President Wentworth change the world for our Dowell listed the following:

• An annual requirement erating deficit of ARC InRichmond Hill, the Southern York Region adult rehabili-

· A capital requirement of $100,000 to provide a permanent building for ARC Inof $225,000 as the local community share to be added to a government grant of $200,-000 to build a community residence in the proposed Markham general hospital complex for boys and girls of all "That's why your association needs your help. Mental retardation is no respector of persons. It can strike anywhere at any time. It is as unpredictable as the accident that can cause it in any family," President Dowell told the audience. "We have volunteers, although we can always use more. Our volunteers have been working, raising money and spending endless hours since 1954," he said. "Jerry Weingold, a former director of the New York association for the retarded and an Oxford educated parent of a retarded boy said, program and needs for the doubt about how much we an executive in the provincchlidren's sake'. And that of experience working for is the task to which so many good people in this community are dedicated. Some ganizations.

of their lives to this cause." Dowell said.

"I think it becomes clearer and clearer in this world that whatever a parent does for the other fellow's child, he's doing for his own and this is the burden placed upon us. "Yes my friends, there is ever so much to do. Pearl Buck, beloved brilliant writer and parent of a retarded child, wrote, 'In every age, however troubled, there are always heartening events. One of the most encouraging in our time is the awakening of the public to the needs and rights of the mentally retarded child. For too long he has been the hidden citizen — the forgotten one. But thanks to those who know his plight and his potential he is coming into his own'," said Dowell.

"Let us be grateful, not only for the sake of the child, but also for the sake of civilization! The test of any civilization is the measure of consideration and care which it gives to its weakest members," said the retarded association president.

市市市市 ial government Department of Trade and Development and a Richmond Hill resident, spoke of his many years the retarded in the local, trical shock. provincial and national or-out of every 100 people in Canada. More children suffer from it than from the total of four major childhood disabilities, he said. Genetic causes are but a small share of the total of those affected. Brain damage, however caused, is bas-

"If you ask what is retardation, I would say it is a boy sitting alone because other children don't play with him," said Dowell. "Retardation is the little girl whom it took years to train to tie her shoelaces. Retardation is the handsome 17year-old painfully trying to explain something.

ically to blame.

"Retardation is parents shopping the medical world because they won't accept their doctor's diagnosis. They want that unobtainable hope their child is all right.

"Retardation is the heartbreaking case of mothers and fathers whose fate has placed in their care a mentally retarded child for whom they know not what to do, or where to turn," said Dowell,

"As many as 200 factors have been investigated as causes of fetardation," said that's where the York Centhe association for retarded German measles in early pregnancy, injury at birth, lack of oxygen for any reason, near drowning and elec-

It can happen in any family. No one is immune, said Retardation effects three Dowell. It can happen just as a child in any family can be hit by a car. "The list of causes shows retardation is something that can happen to anybody. It could be your family or your children's family that discovers after three months, or maybe after three years, that a child isn't using a spoon, or isn't using his crayons or isn't concentrating. Yes, it could be your family that stood outside the doctor's office when he made the discovery a child was retarded," Dowell told the audience at the film festival benefit.

"Maybe you cried and asked why this has happened to you. It could be your family that learned its boy was born with an imperfection in his brain . . . your family that had wanted for the boy perhaps fame - and sports - and a profession - and success. "It could also be the members of your family, too, who could learn that their boy could still have a happy life. That different than it used to be in another day and time, he wouldn't be the shame of his family. And tral Association comes in!" said Dowell.

"I was asked to speak tonight because I have been a part of this volunteer group for many years. I moved to this community because we had moved our school from (Continued on Page 14) cillors.

meetings which were barred to the press and public. This was certainly a sudden and drastic decision to make Then with the turning of the former planning board into a planning moil they could be creating. One lesson the present King Coun-They started handling the bulk, cillors have to learn is that while a the "nitty-gritty" decisions of the new broom sweeps clean, a new polmunicipality in closed committee itical broom should sweep very carefully and slowly in the begin-for a completely new body of coun-committee of council, it was also decreed that this phase of the municipality's business would also be barred from the press and public. Planning board meetings in the past had always been open, and rightly so.

Troubled Waters In King

gations would be heard in committee with, of course, the press barred again. The end result of all this, of course, has been to turn council into a rubber-stamp type of operation with the press picking up any crumbs

Adding to the above changes was the decision that all ratepayer delethrown to it by the politicians. Again, it's not that the sudden changes in King were so revolutionary. It's a pattern being followed or developed, wrongly in this newpaper's view, by numerous other municipalities. But King has been even more drastic in its policies.

What is really getting council into hot water is the seemingly thoughtless, "don't care what the taxpayers think of our decisions" attitude of council. It's an attitude that smacks of "if you don't like what we do, vote us out".

ning as well as cleanly. The lessons to be learned?

It may or may not be too late for council to retreat from its present disastrous course. Maybe it has no desire to do so.