Flowers White And Blue

Blue delphiniums and white daisy chrysanthemums formed the beautiful setting in Richmond Hill Baptist Church for the July 10 wedding of Mary Jane Bertrand to Cecil Leslie Cochran. Rev. Hal McBain performed the ceremony and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Eleanor Charlton of Beechy Drive. Vocalist Margaret McFadzean sang, "There Is No Greater Love."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Bertrand of 284 Browdale Crescent and the groom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Leslie Cochran of 234 North Taylor Mills Drive. Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a floor-length, white-dotted

CECIL COCHRAN WEDS MARY BERTRAND

Elizabeth Ann Bertrand was her sister's maid of honor. Brenda Boustead and Sandra Oliver served as bridesmaids and Diane Lucas as junior bridesmaid. They wore floor-length gowns with short puffed sleeves, with daisies dotting the material. The senior attendants were in pale lilac and the junior bridesmaid in pale pink. Bouquets of mauve daisy mums, pink roses and baby's breath were carried in white wicker baskets.

Following the ceremony a buffet supper was served in the church hall, Mrs. Bertrand, in a gown of petal pink crepe with a sequin-trimmed neckline, received the guests. Her accessories were white. The groom's mother wore a gown of yellow lace with matching hat. Both wore corsages of white and pink carnations.

Among the 100 guests were people from Thornhill, Summerdale, PEI, London, Clinton, Kingston, Brighton, Campbellford and Stirling.

Following a wedding trip to Northern Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cochran are residing at 110 Inverlochy Boulevard, Apartment 703, Thornhill.

Lovely Country Place Latest Nursing Home

The latest in nursing homes, Country Place, is scheduled to open in Richmond Hill in a few weeks. This beautiful octagonal-shaped residence is now nearing completion just east of Bayview on 18th Avenue (the former Dr. Noble home). It fulfills a dream of its creator, John Fedyna, of giving older people a place to live in the country while still being able to participate in city activities.

Country Place will accommodate 100 residents and will cost in the neighborhood of $400,000. Fedyna, a local contractor, has also built a nursing home in Markham.

In his latest venture he has embodied his own ideas of the needs of residents in the design and structure of the building. The X-shaped wings will give a beautiful view and a feeling of country estate living for every resident, he says.

RIDING SCHOOL
Points of interest in the landscape and a quiet, ever-running stream with a walkway, bridge, pond and restful overhanging shade trees. There is a riding school where children and grandchildren can exhibit their riding skills or a resident may get back in the saddle.

For those with a green thumb, there will be ample opportunity on the 16-acre grounds to garden.

The common rooms are designed for multi-uses such as the dining room doubling as an auditorium and the physio and occupational therapy room being used for arts and crafts.

"People who are active in old age," says Fedyna, "are enjoying life more than those who are just sitting around." So Country Place is designed to encourage the continuation of life's normal activities.

Members of the staff will be chosen to support the philosophy that what's best for the resident is best for Country Place. The building and staff will produce an atmosphere which will reflect a brighter, happier and more comfortable old age, Fedyna told "The Liberal".

Institutional Only

Bid Too Low, Georgina Wants School

Georgina Township lost out on its bid to buy Pefferlaw School earlier this month, but it has not given up.

When tenders were opened November 4 there were two bids for the school and the $7,500 offered by the township was high bid, but it was lower than the appraised value and was turned down by York County Board of Education.

At a meeting November 8, the board received a letter from Georgina Clerk Mrs. Evelyn Waggett stating:

"It is the intention of the council of the Township of Georgina that the school properties being offered for sale by the board will be zoned institutional.

"We would appreciate it if you would so inform the purchasers of these properties prior to finalization of sale.

"Under this zoning, no residential building permits will be issued on these lots."

Newmarket Trustee Jack Hadfield protested that such action was not in the best interests of the people of the region.

"We are trying to get a fair price for the taxpayers," said Hadfield. He urged the board to protest the action.

East Gwillimbury Trustee William Bales said he had spoken to Regional Councillor Robert Pollock, chairman of Georgina's planning committee, and Pollock said he had no knowledge of such a decision on the part of council.

Georgina Trustee Mariane Gillan declined when asked for an opinion. "I wouldn't dare," said Mrs. Gillan. She said, however, that the area has never been zoned, that so far Georgina has no Official Plan. Richmond Hill Trustee Deena Simpson wanted to know, "Who would authorize a clerk to write a letter like this?"

There was a second letter from Councillor Gerry Burnie of Pefferlaw expressing disappointment at the loss to the municipality of Udora School which was sold at tender October 25. There were seven bids ranging from $500 to $4,650. The highest bid from A. Mills and M. Wong was accepted.

Mr. Burnie said the township would like to acquire the Pefferlaw School for use as a library. At present, he wrote, the entire east end of the township from Sutton to the limits is without library facilities.

"I am sure that you must agree that no individual has a greater right to this property than that of the municipality, and that the cause of education and enjoyment of learning would be extended by its use as a library."

To make sure trustees got the message he concluded, "I would point out to all those who may have interest, however, that I am adamant on the point that no use shall be made of the property except that it be public and I would caution all potential purchasers of this certainty."

Councillor Pollock had met earlier with the special

Sandra Silcox To Fill Library Board Vacancy

Mrs. Sandra Silcox has been appointed to represent York County Board of Education on King Township Library Board to serve until December 31, 1972.

Mrs. Silcox will replace Mrs. Eleanor Harding who has resigned from the board. In nominating Mrs. Silcox, Trustee Mrs. Margaret Coburn said Mrs. Silcox has been a resident of the area for about 15 years. The mother of three school-age children, she is very much interested in education, is a member of the executive of the Canadian Pony Club, a member of the auxiliary for Blue Hills Academy for Emotionally Disturbed Children, and president of the York Central Hospital Auxiliary.

SHARON — East Gwillimbury Township Council has given two readings to a bylaw which will require four foot fences of either wood or chain link around outdoor pools. All support posts will have to be set in two feet of concrete. No barbed wire or electric strands will be permitted. A fine of $300 is provided.

signs on the school property; advising that it is to be zoned for institutional use only.

Markham Trustee Jack MacKay argued against Trustee Hadfield's proposal that the board make an official protest. "We want to co-operate with the municipalities and try to show them what we are doing, not battle with them," said MacKay.

Trustee Kinnee said he objected vigorously to the township's putting "red placards" on board property advising that residential use would not be permitted. However he said Councillor Pollock had apologized and he felt discussion should continue.

Trustees agreed to have further discussions with members of Georgina Council.
