Carol Singing At The Heintzman House

Residents of Thornhill Green had the opportunity December 19 of meeting and greeting their neighbors as they joined in carol singing in the beautiful setting of the Heintzman House. The Thornhill Green Society Committee was host for the festive event. The event drew a full house and is reported to have been a most enjoyable affair, as the sounds of traditional carols rang through the neighborhood.

Criticize Thornhill School Site At Junction Of Two Busy Rail Lines

Plans for three subdivisions that will bring school children into the Thornhill area were considered by York County Board of Education at its meeting December 13.

Two of the plans will not call for new schools. There will be room for the new students in existing schools or in a school now under construction.

The third at Bayview Avenue and John Street the board is accepting because it has no alternative.

Trustees have repeatedly protested location of a school at the junction of two railway lines. But, pointed out Markham Trustee John MacKay, if the 50-acre subdivision for condominium townhouses and high-rise apartments, is approved by the Municipal Board, the board must provide school accommodation.

It was agreed that Markham Town Council and the Department of Education should be informed that cost of construction of a school in such a location will be considerably higher than construction of a school in a quieter area. Trustees have counted 28 trains a day using the CNR Bala line and CNR bypass which intersect at the southeast corner of the school site.

Staff was directed to study noise levels at the school site and to prepare a report indicating what techniques and costs will be required to overcome noise that would interfere with a normal school program.

The board will ask the town council if it is willing to share costs of the noise level study and its probable affects on the subdivision.

There will be no need for a new school to serve a 7.7 acre subdivision on Henderson Avenue between Clark Avenue and the CNR bypass, staff reported. The plan is for nine single family and 46 semi-detached houses which will bring in about 66 elementary school pupils and 19 of secondary school age. These, staff reported, can be accommodated at E. J. Sand School, Woodland Senior School and Thornhill Secondary School. Cost of this accommodation is estimated at $186,200.

The board anticipates, however, that additions will be needed to both Sand and Woodland Schools before 1975.

Students that will be moving into 74 single family homes planned for a 16.9 acre subdivision at Bayview Fairways north of Bayview Country Club will be accommodated at the Bayview Fairways School now under construction, at Woodlands Senior School and at Thornlea Secondary School. An addition to Thornlea will be ready for use in September 1972. The school now has 13 portable classrooms.

Cost of providing classroom space for the subdivision is estimated at $179,900.

Christmas Surprise Features Pantomimers

The "Christmas Surprise Program" presented December 11 by Thornhill Public Library in the auditorium of Royal Orchard Public School, drew a bumper crowd of 160 children. The surprise was a live pantomime performance by students from 3C Theatre Arts Class at Langstaff Secondary School, who presented several skits based on boygirl relationships during the 1920's — in a restaurant, at the beach, etc. — and even an improvised Santa Claus.

In the above picture (left to right) Louise Scott, Dave Storey and Lisa Lisutin were caught during one skit, presented with strobe lights. Thornhill Public Library holds a weekly program every Saturday morning for the youngsters. It alternates films with live performances. A holiday has been declared until mid-January when the programs will be resumed and continued until the end of March.
