Basketball Action Underway At Don Head

He could be saying, "now this is a basketball", but it's really not the case. It's Ed Alan (with the ball) shown with the above participants as he launched his Saturday Morning Basketbal League at Don Head Secondary School last week. In the picture with him are Mike Hiscott, Duane Reid, Rick Carton, Steve Collett, Greg Henderson, and Brian Seath.

It is the fourth year Ed has been holding his basketball leagues. He's a high school referee. Each Saturday features two segments of basketball. From 9 am to 10:30 am will be for those 16 and under. From 10:30 to 12 is for those above age 16, including adults if they wish to get some exercise. "Drop over," says Ed.

Peter has another word for it. He considers it a challenge. He's also an optimist. It all helps.

"I figure that was the best team I've coached," states Artemchuk. "If I couldn't win that year I felt it was time I took a rest and figure out what went wrong."

Enter the challenge bit. "I had coached the midgets for the past five lead in four ends and led 6-2 Paul Terry years. We'd won the North York League every year. The challenge was virtually gone. I wanted to move up."

The opportunity to move up he had with three different clubs. But there were no openings for the place he wanted to stay.

LOTS OF LOCAL BOYS

It wasn't very surprising that some of his selections included names like Colin Wood, Tony Bellevance, Steve Addley, Scott Mabley and Larry Kellett, etc. They'd all played for Pete and they were with him that fateful year he lost to Leamington.

Most of his picks moved up to "A" and they are still there. In fact, he has a goodly number of

ROAD AND TRACK MAGAZINE ROAD TESTS DATSUN 1200 COUPE

We've aiways looked upon Road & Track magazine as one of the fairest auto mags around. They tell it like it is when they check out cars. And what is most important, they have a panel of testers give the car a thorough going over - the car is not at the mercy of a writer who might have just squabbled with his wife or have a bad hangover. The road test write-up is the combined effort of several knowledgeable journalists. And this is what they said about our Datsun 1200 coupe: "An excellent car - a really practical little fastback at a good

"The body form is very good,"

"It's on the inside that the Datsun 1200 really comes into its own, with excellent, fully adjustable front seats and a fold-down rear seat that allows an uninterrupted cargo space 54 inches in length and 17 cu. ft. in volume (below the level of the windows - it can be nearly twice that if you're wanting to tote home a potted palm and vision to the rear isn't required). The deck opening is standard size, not including the rear window as on the Vega coupe or 240-Z, but bulky objects can be loaded without too much difficulty. Upholstery is of good-quality black vinyl."

All-around vision is good, unobscured by the headrests when in their down position. The windshield washers are tremendously effective. "Driving the car is enlightening. How can a little 4-cylinder engine working hard, remain so smooth and quiet? Datsun engineers deserve great praise for this (as well as close attention from other makers who hope to compete in the small car market we could mention domestic newcomers with distinctly less refined engines). Datsun is a very light car - the curb weight is only 1645 lbs. - its 69 bhp and 70 lb-ft of torque make it very lively; much livelier, with only a driver aboard, than our test figures indicate. The gear ratios are well chosen for strong pulling with a minimum of shifting: no conscious effort to keep engine speed up is

"Handling and ride are both excellent. The steering is light but positive."

"For both cornering and comfort, the Datsun's suspension is really doing its job.'

"The brakes, discs in front and drums at the rear, are

"All in all, the Datsun 1200 is a really driveable, fully usable . . . sporty family car that's hard to improve upon for around-town daily use. It's economical in first cost and fuel economy and gives every indication of being economical in that more important way - dependable service. It's big enough for a family of four (with more backseat room than some Ponycars) and with the rear seat folded down has St. Bernard-size cargo capability. Most important, everything seems to have been designed for convenience and ease of operation - it's a friendly car that does almost everything well.'

The wonderful world of speed and competition Nations and manufacturers and people all over the world are always trying to prove something-like they're better, faster, more "achieving" than the competition. Time and time again Japan has proven itself as one of the most "achieving" countries. It's manufacturers have built reputations based on advanced-design fine quality products. It's people are proving they can beat the best in the world at things that are new to the Japanese. One of the most remarkable achievements was that of Moroshita Masaru He skis. Oh boy, how he skis! In fact, he's the fastest skier in the world. Would you believe 113.887 mph? Masaru (now called "the missile") set a new world record of 113.887 mph in a ski speed competition known as the Kilomotro Lanciato, or kilometer flying start on a remote and lofty glacier above Cervina in the Italian Alps. Dressed in a skintight outfit, crash helmet designed with points similar to the prow of a ship, and on a special pair of Kazama 240 cm. downhill skis weighing 20 lbs., he blasted down the mountain like a bullet in a superstreamlined "egg" position. Even his ski pole baskets were cone-shaped to reduce wind drag. The 117-pound champion beat the previous world record of 104.86 mph by a healthy margin. His time was followed closely by Nishi Masaru at 113.733 mph and Satoshi Shimizu at 113.539 mph. What's all this got to do with selling and caring for Datsun cars which is the name of my game? Nothing, I just thought you might be interested . . . Watch for our next Import Auto Talk, Feb. 3rd.
