Community Life In King City Area

Library News

The Saturday morning program at the library on January 15 was called "Very, Very Small - Strange Adventures." Mrs. Gillian Ball, well known for her activities with the Aurora Drama Group, told the children about the book called "The Borrowers," written by Mary Norton, published by Harcourt, Brace and World Inc.

Church News

In true ecumenical fashion, the clergy, choir and congregation of All Saints Anglican joined that of King City United on Sunday, for a joint service of worship, with Miss Mary McWhir at the organ. Officiating were the clergy of both churches, Rev. Neville Bishop and Rev. Norman Gibson. Special guest was Dr. Stanley Osborne, who headed the committee to produce a new joint hymn book for the Anglican and United Churches in Canada.

Osborne does not feel that this book will be in use very long as some tunes go through fashions and are dated in their use.

Its time once again for the annual vestry meetings of the churches. All Saints held theirs this Sunday at 2 pm beginning with coffee and dessert. At King City United, the congregational annual vestry meeting is set for the same day, beginning with a family pot luck dinner at noon hour.

A meeting to organize an evening unit of the UCW was held on Wednesday of last week at the home of Mrs. Thelma Hadwen on Banner Lane.

At Sacred Heart, Miss Florence Cain and her helpers were thanked for their efforts in selling Christmas Cards and articles for a rewarding profit. Don't forget the Valentine's Dance sponsored by the CWL tomorrow night at the Schomberg hall. Tickets are available by calling Mrs. John Gilmour at 833-5821 at a cost of $5 per couple.

Prayers at Sacred Heart were asked for Mrs. John Bannock who is in St. Joseph's Hospital, Dr. H. Beatus, OSA of Marylake is in Wellesley Hospital, Miss Ida McCormick is in York Central.

The new official Roman Catholic Book of Worship for Canada will be out February 20 and the church has ordered 200 books. The Sunday morning bulletin of Sacred Heart on January 16 introduced a new marriage rite within the Roman Catholic Church, which includes an approved rite for marriage outside mass and for marriage between a Roman Catholic and an unbaptized person.

The Good Morning Group met at All Saints Anglican on Wednesday of last week and members were pleased to have Mary Elderkin show her slides taken in 1963. A tour she took included Warsaw, Moscow, Leningrad, Budapest and back to Frankfurt. Mary read excerpts from her diary at that time which provided even further insight into the past.

Although many years have passed since World War II, evidence of bombings was still to be seen. Drab colored clothing in Russia was very noticeable although everyone tried to have at least one bright spot of color, however small, on their person. At the meeting it was confirmed that King City UCW will join the GMG for a friendly meeting.

The 1st King Pack of the Wolf Cubs of Canada on Wednesday of last week held their kubkar rally. There were 81 Cubs racing their homemade wooden boxes (approximately 6" long) in the auditorium of King City United.

Launching their cars two at a time down a sloping ramp, the boys watched eagerly to see whose car was the faster. The winner of each pair was retained for the finals, eliminating the slower cars, gradually getting down to the final pair. Cub leader Abe Binnendyk raised the starting gate and the two cars rolled down the ramp and across the floor with everyone excited beyond words.

Winner without a doubt was the "Blue Flame" made and raced by 10-year-old Kelvin Bowler of 92 Martin Street, King. Kelvin attends Doris M. Patton School and tells us that each boy had one week in which to make his car from a plan given them by the Cub organization. When asked how his car had gone so fast and straight, going the entire length of the auditorium, he went into some detail to explain how he fastened the wheels so they would run free and true. Congratulations, Kelvin!

Coming in at second place was "Flashing Red" by 9-year-old Rodney Thurston of 142 Kingslynn Drive, King. Rodney attends Eva L. Dennis School.

Following the race, the Cubs gathered in a circle around the winner who blew out a candle on the victory chocolate cake to the cheers of "Hip - Hip - Hurray".

Our get well wishes go to George and Maggie Blackmore of James Street, King, who were involved in a car accident recently, and to Brian East who's been troubled with a sore shoulder.

Happy anniversary to Ross and Ruth Irwin of RR 1, King who celebrate seven years of marriage on January 30. The next Township of King Council Meeting will be on February 1 at 1 pm. Sorry, no book review this week.

7th Heaven In King

Noise Bylaw Debate Baffles His Worship

King Township Mayor Ken MacTaggart reckons it will be like "living in seventh heaven if our noise bylaw does all it's supposed to do."

His comments came Monday night of last week as council worked its way through the proposed new bylaw which has still to be given third reading.

The bylaw covers everything from whistling Dixie to the sounding of bells. Also covered are roaring cars or ski-does, and playing music too loudly.

The rather touchy portion of the bylaw lies with the qualifying phrases.

You can do some of the above things as long as they don't create an "unusual" noise, or disturb the peace, quiet and customary repose of any person." Such things as that.

Mayor MacTaggart pondered as to how you would decide what constituted an unusual noise.

"You take it to court," commented one councillor. Mayor MacTaggart wondered again how "you" would prove the whole thing. How can you prove a noise is too loud? You might have to tape record it.

Council will discuss the bylaw further.

King Wants No Part Of Hydro Powerline

By FRED SIMPSON

An Ontario Hydro official got a polite but firm brush-off Monday night of last week when he appeared before King Township Council to clear up what he considered to be some confusion over the proposed high voltage power installation through King's portion of the Region of York.

There was no confusion as far as council was concerned. "They don't want any power line through the municipality. Simple as that."

They don't even want to talk about it anymore. "Why doesn't Ontario Hydro just get on with the job. There's been enough talk," muttered one councillor.

Object of the council's cold shoulder was Ronald Miller, Ontario Hydro Property Analysis Manager, who said he was "confused" about council's "feelings on the power line question."

It was at a previous meeting that council voted 5-2 against the installation. It involves running a 500,000 volt line from Nanticoke on Lake Erie to Pickering on Lake Ontario.

Miller said his interpretation of the resolution was that council favored a northern route as a possible alternative to a southern route through the municipality.

Councillor Murray Sheardown observed that "at no time did anyone suggest we favored the northerly route. This is what got us in trouble with Newmarket Council when it was mentioned we did favor such a route."

He was referring to Hydro's meeting with Newmarket Council at which it was suggested King might favor a northerly route. That brought on a storm of objection from Newmarket sources.

The line to the north would affect a greater number of buildings, property owners, and acquisition of about 1,250 acres of land, it was said.

Mayor Ken MacTaggart backed Sheardown saying "This council isn't asking for an alternative route through the municipality. We have decided we don't want the power line at all."

Councillor Sheardown added, "We're aware we have no choice on the site picked by Ontario Hydro."

Miller also ran into a blank wall on another question as to whether any of Hydro's proposed routes would interfere with any planned development in the township.

This brought Councillor Roy Wilson to the fore. He pointed out that any "statement from this council that the proposed route would interfere with planned development might be taken by Hydro as a blessing to carry on."

Councillor Sheardown wondered how "you define planned development? It doesn't necessarily mean just what the municipality plans to do with the land. It could involve planned development by individual land owners."

Miller said the hydro studied the township's Official Plan which showed no specific interference. He then asked that council draft a letter to the effect that the line didn't appear to interfere with any planned development according to the Official Plan. Miller said this was "to get something we can take back on paper."

Council didn't want anything to do with this either. Mayor MacTaggart reiterated that the council had washed its hands of the matter when it passed a resolution opposing any hydro line.

It was up to Mr. Miller to draw his own inferences and conclusions.

The hydro line has been a source of pro and con controversy between residents of the township.

Opposition has been forthcoming from those fearing the aesthetic damage the line would do. Another fear is that it may lower property values for area properties.

Those favoring the line have included the persons who stand to benefit from Hydro's purchase of their land. They will still be able to use it after the line is up. The word for it all is "controversy."

A Chance To Discuss

Ward Five Problems

The forthcoming meetings on the redevelopment study of the Lake Wilcox area was the main issue discussed at an executive council meeting of the Ward 5 Citizens' Association on the morning of January 15.

Bob Roth and Bob McElhinney are on the recently appointed committee which will set the guidelines for the redevelopment study. It is hoped they will be able to relate to the Ward 5 citizens some of the ideas the committee will be discussing.

Other issues raised at the meeting were: the post office parking problem, the smell of the municipal water, house numbering, and a day care centre in the new Town of Richmond Hill.

Chairman Ron Johnson of the Ward 5 Citizens' Association reported that "federal and provincial representatives have expressed interest in attending our meetings."

Ken Acton, a student at Seneca College, was introduced to the executive. Ken is at present in a two-year social service course which requires that he do practical work in a community. He will be working in the Ward 5 area and is an asset available to some of the citizens' projects.

A public meeting was tentatively set for the first Thursday of February. If you have opinions on any or all of the above issues, please attend this meeting and you will have the opportunity to express them. If people get together and combine their opinions and influence there is more chance of these problems being resolved.
