What's Cooking At Ross Doan?

There is no home economics room at Ross Doan Public School in Richvale, so the library serves as a cookery centre for students taking part in a new elective program at the school. Cookery is just one of several options offered to the children in a program which got underway recently and will continue each Wednesday to the end of the term, March 15. Pupils have their choice of arts and crafts, mathematical games, cooking, gymnastics, folk dancing, drama and skiing for the final hour of the school day. Parent volunteers are assisting teachers in the program.

Teachers Of Retarded Can Earn Certificate

Teachers experienced in schools operated by retarded children's authorities, who lack the basic Ontario teaching certificate, will be able to obtain it through a six-week conversion course to be held this summer at Hamilton Teachers' College, it has been announced.

Three years ago when school boards became responsible for classes and schools for trainable retarded, many of the teachers had less than grade 13 background. Or else they had advanced academic training but did not have a teaching certificate which was valid in this province. The Department of Education ruled they were qualified to teach trainable retarded children.

Graduates of Ryerson, the Institute of Child Study and colleges of applied arts and technology with courses in child study and development summer and department courses were also allowed to teach trainable retarded children without a basic teaching certificate. Those who took a summer or winter course were granted a certificate for that course.

The new course is the final stage which will allow such teachers to become fully qualified.

"Moonlighting", Common Cold, Lack Of Rest Can Kill You

of death. He said such a heart inflammation can develop overnight. Mrs. Butler's death could have been caused by certain medications, but not those found in her system.

He said where this heart disease is discovered in time, and treated, it can recur as long as 11 years later and no medication can get it out of the heart tissue. It kills by causing the heartbeat to go wild by affecting the heart's timing system. The inquest was told the Butler's had a good marriage with no threats, serious fights or physical violence. Mrs. Butler's parents and an 18-year-old niece resided with the couple and ran in when she was stricken. The Butlers were married in 1965.

The inquest jury took only a few minutes to bring in its verdict. The jury from Richmond Hill included foreman Brian Eggleston of 20 Bryson Drive, Joanne Dunne of 441 Elmwood Avenue, Edward Daniels of 411

Has your insurance kept pace with rising costs?

You don't have to be a contractor to know that building and labour costs have skyrocketed. Materials have increased more than 25% over the last 6 years and still going up. What if fire or other hazards made it necessary to repair or replace your home? Would your present insurance cover the expense?

One of the independent insurance agents in your neighbourhood can help you to answer that question. If more insurance is needed, ask him about a low-cost, Economical package. And for complete peace of mind, add Economical's Inflation Guard endorsement to the policy. It automatically increases protection dollars in pace with rising replacement costs.
