Easter

Get your instruments out, the horn, the cornet, the pipe, the harp, the clarinet, the cymbals, the drum, the big bass drum. This coming weekend, get on the housetop all Christians and shout for joy. This is a day of good tidings and we do not well to hold our peace. This is Easter, the time when we remember the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. He could say, "I am the resurrection and the life, though a man be dead yet shall he live and whosever liveth and abideth in Me shall never die."

Last Sunday week we went for a walk across the fields. It was like a desert of snow and yet only an oasis in Deep Freeze. It was lovely to feel the crunchiness under your feet and to be back in boyhood days again. It was the time of the morning when the sun is low in the eastern sky, before rising to its peak, the time when shadows are long, and even a chihuahua would dwarf an elephant with its shadow. My small son and I walked in the puddles as we came around the corner by Karl Wallace's place just to get the cracking ice. We thought it may stir a few memories around to hear this ice cracking.

This last week has been quite bright, although it has been very cold and is remaining very cold. We're all longing for the spell of cold weather to break so we can get out in our gardens. I was having a chat with Cummer Lee who mentioned that this was a very late starting spring so we look as if we are going to be behind for this year.

Neighborhood News

We were very sorry to hear of the passing of Blaine Mackay's father.

Sorry too hear that Forest McDonald has been in hospital, but he is now out again, and I believe is making good progress.

Carl Wallace was telling me that he has seen the grackles, and the red-winged blackbirds and some robins, so that's a real good sign, and while talking further with Carl he told me that he is intending to spend more time in relaxation in his garden and curling now that he has retired from secular work. We wish you, Carl and Kay, many very happy, vigorous and fruitful years.

Incidentally a male at 40, according to the insurance company has a life expectancy of 29 years and 25 days; one aged 50 has 21 years, 37 days; age 60, 14 years, 50 days; age 65, 11 years, 55 days; age 70, 8 years, 99 days; and at age 80, 5 years and 6 days. We've got you in there somewhere Carl, not turn anybody off by not Sorry we didn't have our column last week. I hope I did Sorry about that.

Don't forget, April 8 there will be a bazaar and tea at Headford United Church, commencing at 2 pm. There will be home baking, flower arranging, sewing and crafts. There will also be raffled, at that particular time, a very beautiful bed-spread, hand-made.

THAT'S FAITH
Looking away from my sin and my shame,
Looking away from my sorrow and pain,
Looking to Jesus, the Lamb that was slain—

That's faith.
Looking away from my knowledge and pride,
Looking to Jesus my Shepherd and Guide,
Looking to Jesus and Him crucified—

That's faith.

Looking away from my gain or my loss,
Looking away from the world and its dross,
Looking to Jesus on Calvary's cross—
That's faith.

Looking away from my faith or its lack,

Looking to Jesus, whose Word is not slack,
Looking to Jesus and turning not back—
That's faith.
