Enumerators To Be Knocking At Doors Sept. 5 For 1972 Municipal Elections

Enumeration of voters for Ontario's first uniform municipal election starts September 5 and will continue until October 10. For the first time this year, almost all Ontario municipalities will vote on the same day - the first Monday in school boards with complete lists showing school December, and municipal elections will be held every two years in the future. A few municipalities which have a three-year cycle for elections and which cycle does not expire until 1973, will join the two-year cycle in 1974.

In the past, lists of voters in municipal elections have been prepared by the clerk from the assessment rolls. But that is now changed to an enumeration similar to the one conducted for the federal and provincial elections. Up to 10,000 enumerators, named and paid by the provincial government, will be calling from door to door on all residential and commercial property to list the names of eligible voters. Cost of this enumeration is estimated at $1.8 million. The enumerators will carry a form containing existing information on all residents of a property. The individual will be asked to verify whether this information is correct and complete.

Both the enumerator and person checked must sign the enumeration notice and the enumerator must leave a duplicate copy at the house.

Assessment commissioners will have to supply * * * * *

Persons eligible as voters must be Canadian citizens or British subjects of the full age of 18 years and resident in the municipality at the time of enumeration. A non-resident owner and spouse are also eligible. Where a person owns land in more than one ward, he or she may have a vote in each ward for councillor or on a money

Another major change in the conduct of Ontario municipal elections is the elimination of the formal nomination meeting. Instead candidates may be nominated during the seven days immediately preceding nomination day, which will be November 23 this year, and until 5 pm on that date. The prescribed form must be signed by at least 10 electors whose names are on the polling list. They must be persons entitled to vote in an election to such office.
