Many Teenage Blood Donors

Concerned teenage citizens predominated among the astonishing and gratifying turnout of 100 new blood donors at last week's record breaking summer Red Cross clinic held in the Lions Hall, Richmond Hill, according to Acting Community Volunteer Chairman Mrs. Marion Hohener of Duncan Road, Richmond

The 270 donors who turned out at Richmond Hill contributed greatly toward reducing an acute summer shortage of blood for local hospitals during the summer vacation period.

Telephone Convener Mrs. Hohener described the great turnout of teenagers. "They showed they are the something for the good of others. The history of blood clinics held at local high tfc8 good," she said.
