Photography Fun For Lake Wilcox Pupils

Crafts, cooking and eating, games, drama, sewing, folk dancing, photography were all part of an experimental elective program at Lake Wilcox Public School this fall.

For five consecutive Wednesdays from 2:30 to 3:30 pm children from grade 1 to grade 6 had their choice of activities. There were two types of crafts to choose from — papier-mache or model making.

The photography group tried their skills both indoors and out under the direction of Teacher Rod Anderson. The school now is turning its thoughts toward Christmas. Principal Robert Anderson is very pleased with the experiment and plans to carry out a similar program after the Christmas holidays.

Neighborhood Notes
Snowmobile Club 99 held its first executive meeting November 7 and elected the following officers: President Gord Achilles, 773-5063; Vice-President Rick Matternschall, Secretary Maribel McKenzie, Treasurer Tom Simpson and Past President Jack Starr.

The new executive met last Wednesday to discuss the snowmobile bylaw proposed by the Town of Richmond Hill. The club is now active and in the process of registering interested snowmobilers for the season. This packaging that is "non-recyclable".

Also on the meeting agenda was a discussion on the "O'Connor Subdivision" which has been the centre of controversy for over a year. Although it will be probably not be a reality for four years (even if it is approved), the subdivision's latest plans call for 33 homes laid out within an approximately 75 acre area.

Valerie Walls, part of the CCKT Constitution Committee, read out a draft of a proposed document and invited members to discuss it. The relatively flexible constitution spells out such things as CCKT will not (as a group) be affiliated to any political party and that they will provide an open forum for people to discuss items of concern. With a show of hands, the members voted in the constitution with minimal amendments.

Members were reminded of the candidates' meeting (held yesterday, November 22) at All Saint's Anglican Church and asked to present questions to the nominees and incumbents at that time. We hope to have a report on this in next week's column. As a matter of interest, one member said that in the last municipal election only 18% of the people in War 1 voted, and only 39% of the people in King Township.

The meeting adjourned just after 10 pm at which time coffee was served. The next regular meeting is scheduled for January 10.

Concerned Citizens
A meeting of CCKT was held at the King Library November 16 with 36 persons in attendance. Colonel Harry Parker was chairman and Mrs. Margery Coons recorded the minutes of the meeting which started almost 30 minutes late.

Mrs. Margaret Smithies, membership chairman, reported that as of that moment, there were 134 concerned citizens in the group. (Following the meeting, a few of the guests paid the yearly fee and became members, raising the membership figure even higher.)

Ruth Cook, who keeps tabs on King Township Council by attending their meetings on behalf of CCKT, reported that she had missed the last couple of sessions as council had made last minute changes in the times for same.

One of the members commented that Donald Findlay had been questioned at a recent Kettleby meeting with regard to "recycling" and Col. Parker said that in his opinion Mr. Findlay was "practising the word recycling if King Township's program was the extent of it."

A new member of CCKT David Lowe of University of Toronto's Pollution Probe, spoke briefly on "long-term goals". He said that Ontario's municipal garbage is increasing by 10 percent each year and that PP's aim is (among other things) to get the government to ban year there is a recreation committee which will be planning dances and many other activities. New members are invited.

Birthday wishes are extended to Doug Dukelow of the North Road, Lake Wilcox, who is once again 39, and also to his son Tom Dukelow who is 14. Both celebrate November 24.

Again we wish to remind everyone of the Christmas Bazaar and bake sale on Saturday from 1-4 pm. It is sponsored by 1st Jefferson Cubs and will be held at St. John's Church on Yonge Street North.

There will be a YWCA program for all ladies in the area at Lake Wilcox Public School each Thursday from 1:30 to 3:30 pm. A baby sitting service will be provided. The first four weeks will be devoted to Christmas decorations and after that craft, displays, etc., will be featured. For information call 773-5868 and ask for Louise Gore.

Oak Ridges Lions will be having a ladies' night November 25 from 8:30 to 1 pm. Admission is $4 for men and ladies free. There will be lucky draws and door prizes. Music for dancing will be provided by a disc jockey and there will be a buffet lunch. As with all Lions' activities the proceeds will go back into the community.

The Monte Carlo Night, sponsored by the Lions, was well attended. After an exciting evening of play there was a buffet followed by a spirited auction for many useful items.

There will be an All-Candidates' Night at the Oak Ridges Public School November 29 at 7:30 pm. All eligible voters are invited to come out and meet the people who will represent them on municipal and regional councils. If you are in doubt or if you have any questions don't miss this opportunity.

Official King Flower Carefree Geranium

While Richmond Hill has been known for many years as the self-proclaimed rose capital of York, the Township of King will henceforth be identified with the geranium.

At a meeting November 6 the township council was told that several horticultural groups in King have asked council to officially adopt a flower for the township. These groups have also recommended that the flower adopted should be the "Carefree Geranium".

Council agreed that the "Carefree Geranium", a new species developed to withstand many diseases ordinary geraniums are subject to, should be adopted as the township's official flower.

November 10-12 was the Mission Festival for the charge, and those who attended found it a very interesting and informative experience. Exhibits of crafts, food, pictures, and music featuring Indian and Canadian Indians, was proof of the thought and time that had gone into the planning of this event.

Guest speakers were Rev. Norman Mackenzie of Toronto, who spoke of his work on the Rama Reserve, and led a discussion on problems facing our Indian population, and Rev. B. A. Paradkar of Poona, India, who spoke at the Sunday morning services. Mrs. Paradkar accompanied her husband, and sang a doxology in her native tongue. A social hour at the close of the Wesley service was a fitting close for the very fine weekend.

Earle Stotesbury and some of his friends from the Saugeen Reserve were present at the Saturday afternoon program for young people and Sunday school members.

The Afternoon Unit of the UCW met at the home of Mrs. Wilfred James on November 16, with Unit Leader Mrs. Gordon Hampton in charge. Devotions with the theme "Let's Look At Christmas" were led by Mrs. Stewart, Paxton, assisted by Mrs. Fred Hare. Roll call was answered with articles to be sent to the Saugeen Reserve for Christmas. A collection of new, or good used toys will be made to go to the Rev. Stotesbury along with today's gifts. Articles may be left at the church before December 10.

The Evening Unit of the UCW met for their meeting in the church on November 14, with Unit Leader Mrs. Barbara Skerratt in charge. Mrs. Shirley Orser led in devotions, and Mrs. Kathie Prentice led a discussion on "Being Human", the first in a series of studies planned for future meetings. Mrs. Marilyn Beynon served light refreshments. Plans are made for their annual bus trip early in December for a skating party in Nathan Phillips Square. Further details next week.

Neighborhood Notes

Mrs. Aubrey Lloyd of Delhi spent a couple of days with her father, Norman Rumble of Bond Avenue, during the week.

Miss Catharine James and Master Gordon James entered their 4H Guernsey calves in the 4H class at the Royal Winter Fair this week, and were placed in the "B" grouping in the showmanship class. Charles Burns of Temperanceville had the trophy to the winner in this class.

King's Fire Study To Be Kept Secret

King Township Council has agreed to allow the Ontario Fire Marshal to make a study of the township's fire protection services. But the public may never know what appears in the Fire Marshal's report, nor is council bound to adopt any provisions of the report.

At a meeting November 6, council was informed that the Ministry of the Solicitor General is prepared to finance the study and that the township's three area fire chiefs have agreed that the study should be made.

The resolution presented to council recommended that the office of the fire marshal be requested to carry out a study of King's fire protection needs.

The resolution stated, "It is understood that this study is carried out at no expense to the Township of King, nor is the Township of King obliged to adopt any provision of the said report."

It also stipulated that the survey report is to be strictly confidential between the office of the fire marshal and the municipal council.

Good Morning Group
The GMG was very pleased to have as guest speaker November 15, Mrs. Liz Beadle of the Consumers Association of Canada. This 25-year-old organization is a volunteer, non-profit group working with the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs, but not part of it. The association also works with the Canadian Standards Association (CSA) and has a liaison with groups such as the Women's Institute.

Her first rule was never to go shopping without a list. Read Wednesday's newspapers and remember that a house brand may still be cheaper than the advertised special. She commended Loblaw's for their new no-frill ads placed at random in the newspaper.

The CAC has worked with the government on the packaging and labelling bill for standardization of packaging. It is hoped this bill will soon become mandatory.

She recommended buying in quantity where circumstances permit and said that some stores will sell by the case.

Cents-off labelling on packages is now illegal, but cents-off coupons are a valid saving and should be used.

Spur of the moment buying can wreck any budget. Make use of your freezer. Day old bread may sell for almost half price, and after freezing, is as good as fresh.

She mentioned Gallagher's Grocery in Oak Ridges as one of the most co-operative stores to shop in. If you want a piece of meat cut in a certain way, or cooking advice, just ask.

The Department of Agriculture in Ottawa has many booklets available free on freezing meats and produce. Code dating is voluntary. The number of the month comes first, followed by the day and year. The date shown is the date that the product should be removed from the store's shelves. Complain if this is not done.

The CAC also works with the Toy Testing Council and on the Hazardous Products Labelling Bill covering much more than household chemicals. At present this code is voluntary.

She gave out recipes for home-produced cleansers which were tested and proved as good as the commercial products.

Household Cleanser
1 gallon water
6 oz. fluid ammonia
1 cup low-sudsing detergent

Mix well and store in a suitable jug with screw top. Very inexpensive to use full strength to remove built up wax and dirt. Dilute one part to ten parts water for general cleaning.

Spray Cleaner
25% ammonia
75% water
Dash of detergent

For a really professional touch, add a few drops of photographic wetting agent — Kodak Photoflo 200 — to help break down surface tension.

She recommended the Ford tot guard and the General Motors infant carrier. These are the only recommended car seats, soon to be by law the only model on sale. The CAC is working to reduce the price, now in the $25-$30 range, and to remove the 17% import tax imposed on a finished plastic product.

Mrs. Beadle was thanked by Jane Busby and invited to return.

After the guest speaker had concluded, Sandy MacDonald presented Rev. Neville Bishop and Dawn Ballard, representing the wardens, with a new slide projector for the Christian Education Department. This gift was to thank the church for the hospitality extended to the GMG each Wednesday morning.

After more than 20 years service in the Sunday school department of All Saint's Anglican Church, Jack Whalley is retiring. The church will be hard put to find someone to fill his shoes.

Movies
Apparently there is no interest or need in King for either afternoon or evening movies. The experiment has failed in spite of the efforts of Ben Arnold who gave a lot of time, energy and money. Thanks anyway, Mr. Arnold!

Kingerfrats
Kingerfrats will hold the second Saturday of their annual sale of work November 25 from 10 am to 4 pm. There will be demonstrations of handcrafts, ceramics and other interesting things.

Donna's Bits and Pieces
There will be a turkey shoot November 25 at Stan Roots on Dufferin Street. Gillian Ball will speak at the Good Morning Group November 29 telling what your local library has to offer. Everyone welcome.

November 28 is the birthday of John Roberts, former Liberal MP and is also the second anniversary of his wedding to wife Beverley. The first grandchild of Lorne and Mary Scott was christened November 12 at 4 pm at the Scott Farm on Jane Street. Kimberley Jean Scott is the daughter of Bill and Donna and was born August 15, 1972. Bess and Rolph Theis stood up as godparents. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Mart in Jenkinson with a buffet supper being served afterwards.

Happy birthday to Susan Lorenz, daughter of Ben and Wendy Lorenz of Forde Crescent. Susan will be five years old November 26.

November 27 is the 19th wedding anniversary of Bruce and Ruth Gray of Keele Street South. Best wishes!

Get well wishes to Heather Wallner of Laskay and to Lyn Busby who are recuperating after having tonsils removed.

Sympathy is extended to Pat Stonehouse on the death of her husband, James Bruce. Mr. Stonehouse passed away November 11 at his home. He was the father of Robert, Vicki Lynn and the late Lori Anne.

A pioneer market will be held at Teston United, November 24 at 7:30 pm.

The men's group of KCU are providing a roast beef dinner, November 25 at 7 pm. Musical entertainment. Tickets are $3. from members.
