

Villa Hospital, Bathurst Street between Carrville Road and Highway 7, is having a Christmas Bazaar from 1 to 4 pm Saturday at the hospital. There will be stuffed toys, knitted goods, Christmas decorations, gift items and novelties made by the patients there offered for sale. There will also be a tea court, and a draw for a homemade quilt.

Proceeds from the bazaar will go to the young people's wheelchair fund.

The Blue Lake Hunt Club, Eagle Lake, Haliburton, enjoyed its 20th year of hunting, bringing home three deer and two bears. Fred Allen, Wally Clapham and Harold Fawn got the deer. Rob Moorley of Richmond Hill and Howie Walker of Thornhill brought down the bears, bringing the grand total for the club to 83 deer and 15 bears.

Eight of the original 12 members attended this year's hunt. They are Joe Roberts, Frank Moorley, Bill Neal Jr., Nels Bone, Wib Smith, Howie Walker, Wally Clapham and Jim Wignall.

The Girl Guide Movement in Richmond Hill is adding a new group to its numbers. A small group of girls met last week with Mrs. Jane Foley, 60 Laverock Avenue, to make plans for organization of the 1st York Rangers. Rangers are the senior group in the movement. The program is designed for girls 14 to 17, and no previous Guiding experience is necessary.

Up to the present, there have been two active companies of Rangers in Richmond Hill—both east of Yonge Street. The new group, says Mrs. Foley, will probably draw mainly from those living on Richmond Hill's west side.

Meetings are planned for alternate Tuesdays, and the next meeting will be at 8 pm December 5 in Richmond Hill Municipal Building, Yonge Street North at Wright Street. For information call Mrs. Foley, 884-5713.

DOUGLAS DENNIS Western Graduate

About 80 couples dined and danced last Thursday evening at the YWCA Century Ball at the Black Hawk Motor Inn. This gala event was a part of the businessmen's campaign to aid the Richmond Hill YWCA during its current fund raising appeal.

There is still time to contribute to the Y campaign. Donations may be mailed or delivered to 25 Yonge Street North. Receipts will be mailed for amounts of $2 and over.

Audience Invited To Hiss Or Cheer At Opening Melodrama

Richmond Hill Curtain Club will unveil its new theatre Friday night, and if all goes well, there'll be just as many boos and hisses, as there will be cheers.

For its old fashioned "mellodrama" time, with panting heroines and lecherous villains matching wits and curses in the club's initial production, "East Lynne". And, according to Publicist Tony Whitney, the audience is expected to participate, too, showing its displeasure when it feels that perhaps the villain has gone too far, and showing its pleasure when he gets his comeuppance.

Or, if you prefer to hiss the heroine, instead, well she's fair game, too. In presenting "East Lynne" for its opener, Mr. Whitney said the club tried to choose a play which would offer a broad appeal in an effort to get the season and theatre off to a good start.

So far as the new theatre itself is concerned, he said that all the painting, which, along with all the other work in the theatre, was done by club members whenever they had a spare moment, was finished now, and most of the seats were in.

Almost completed, too, is the grading around the building for car parking. There are still numerous small touches to attend to inside the theatre, Mr. Whitney said, and the players, themselves, in true melodrama fashion may not get a chance to try the new stage until just before opening night.

In the meantime, rehearsals continue at the old theatre, which Mr. Whitney says, will pass on some of its old atmosphere to the new. "We interviewed people and asked them what they liked best about the old theatre, and mostly it was its intimate atmosphere," he said.

As a result, the club has tried to recreate some of the old with the new in setting up the Newkirk Road location. Numerous dignitaries, including Barney Danson MP,

Winner of the $500 jackpot at the weekly bingo at St. Mary Immaculate Roman Catholic Church last week was Mrs. Helen Stieber 13 Jones Court, Aurora.

In sending a Christmas card, we think of the recipient, in receiving we think of the person who sent it. Can-save is asking Canadians to widen the circle to remember all the world's children.

Canadian artists have donated original works to appear on the cards. Canadian Save The Children Fund Christmas Cards are on sale at Richmond Hill YWCA, 25 Yonge Street North. For information on the work of the fund, call Mrs. Dave Schiller, area co-ordinator, at 884-8216.

Dr. David Ouchterlony, principal of the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto, was the guest of honor and speaker at the fourth annual recital of the Markham Township Chapter of the alumni association of the RCMT.

Presented in recognition of "Canada Music Week", the recital was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sissons in Markham on Wednesday of last week. Many of the participants were from the Richmond Hill area.

Rev. Dana Lamb, the new pastor of St. John's Baptist Church, met with his board of deacons for the first time on Monday evening. Plans for the Advent season and the Christmas Services were laid.

Because of the many programs for December, the induction service for Mr. Lamb will be delayed until early in the New Year.

Duplicate Bridge
 On November 20, duplicate bridge club winners were north-south Bob and Edna Dunn, east-west George Newton and Omar Khamissa. On Friday, north-south winners were Ann Payment and John Leonard, east-west winners George and Sally Newton.

On Monday an individuals tournament will be held. New members and guests are welcome to participate. Players (singles) must register in advance. Phone Marie Cole, 773-4280.
