LOOKING AROUND

Our community was saddened and shocked last weekend to hear of the accidental death of Mrs. Florence Strachan of Railway Street. She leaves a son, Stan Donaghan and two brothers Harry and Earl Cooper and sister Helen (Mrs. Dick Taylor) of Maple. The body rested at the Marshall Funeral Home in Richmond Hill, with the service from St. Stephen's Anglican Church and interment in Maple Cemetery.

those who are in hospital including Mrs. Ethel Kerswill who has been moved from York Central Hospital to the understand. Our Lady of Mercy, to be nearer her family.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Madge Carter, who is now at home following surgery. Get well wishes also to Mrs. Agnes Keffer and to Ed Borrett both in York Central Hospital.

To all those children still with chickenpox, we hope they don't itch too very much, and that they will all disappear quickly and the children will all be headed back to school and their friends.

Congratulations to the lucky winners of the Maple Lions Lucky Draw last Friday evening held in conjunction with a dance to the music of the High Hats. The lucky holder of the $500 ticket was Pat Fuller of Yonge Street, Oak Ridges and Mrs. Helen Warnford of 7230 Topping Road, Mississauga won the $250 prize.

Congratulations also to the lucky winner of the Maple Plaza Merchants Draw for a $50 certificate to be redeemed at any store in the plaza. Miss Lori Fraser of 39 Goodman Crescent was the lucky winner of the draw held last week in the Humber Valet Cleaners. Her ticket was drawn by Frank Steele of Lancer Drive, Maple. The draw this week will be held at approximately the same time, 8 pm at the Maple Drapery store.

Please don't forget to have your newspapers bundled in reasonably small bundles for this Saturday when the boys and leaders of the Maple Scouts will be out, the first Saturday of December, to pick up in Maple for the newspaper collection. In case of bad weather, most of the readers will have seen the green sign on the garage behind the old Lawrie Hardware on the southwest corner of the stoplights at Major MacKenzie and Keele, and papers can be left there any Saturday morning.

conducting the entire service. With the service at 10 am, everyone is invited to join them in their own special service of worship.

Senior Citizens

On November 20, the seniors were pleased to have Vaughan Council Candidate Jim Cameron speak to them for a few minutes and then answer their questions. Several had a list of questions concerning, primarily senior citizens, and the questions made for some lively discussion.

One of the questions posed was that of the new bus service to be extended from the CNR yards to the village. It was pointed out that although this service would be convenient to a very few, the service would serve the whole community if it were to continue to Richmond Hill and loop there, and then back to Maple and down Keele. Although the survey taken had indicated that the Keele extension would be most important, it was interesting to see that most of those present would welcome the extended service to the "Hill".

This Monday the seniors celebrated their fourth anniversary with a dinner served by the Ladies of Maple United Church—more on that next week.

Election
Be sure to vote in the municipal elections on December 4, your decision could very likely determine the future character of Kleinburg.

To be elected the candidates of your choice need strong support right across the town therefore your vote is needed.

You may vote for a total of five councillors, a regional representative, two public school trustees and also a Roman Catholic representative to the York County Board of Education.

Help
The next training session for volunteers will be held on November 30 at 7:30 pm. Dr. Bunny Lacombe, a psychologist and the director of volunteers for mental health services at York Central Hospital, will be a guest and teach all who attend how to relax.

Dr. Lacombe will also attend the December 7 luncheon meeting and some of the other guests expected are Mrs. Beverley Hurbutt, chairwoman of the education committee of Markham Family Life Centre; Police Chief Bruce Crawford; Barry Young, recreation co-ordinator for Vaughan, and nurses from the Regional Health Unit.

Gifts Wanted
Rev. Arthur Hamilton has asked that a gift collection for the Mental Health Association be brought to your attention.

The local branch of this association distributes gifts every year just prior to Christmas.

These small gifts bring a lot of joy to troubled minds and although some children are involved the collection is mainly for adults.

If you have a small item that would make a suitable gift kindly deposit it in the box at the post office.

Please make note of the contents that are wrapped.

Snowdrifters
The Snowdrifters appear to have a great season of snowmobiling planned.

Weather permitting a trail for adults gets underway on December 16 at 8:30 pm. This is followed on Sunday with a cook-out and trail rides for both adults and children at 2 pm.

An itinerary has been drawn up outlining dates and times of activities up to the end of January.

Teston Tidings

Church News
There will be a Christmas Eve Concert on December 24 at 7:30 pm. Please keep this date open and plan to attend.

Next Sunday we will begin Advent and will light our first candle.

The bazaar was a great success. The various booths did exceptionally well and the hard work that was expended was much appreciated by all and most of all the Church.

Neighborhood Notes
Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Margaret Reid, who fell and broke her ankle and to Carol Saweyell who has been sick at home for the past couple of weeks. By all reports both are doing better and we hope they will soon be back on their feet again.

The bazaar was a great success. The various booths did exceptionally well and the hard work that was expended was much appreciated by all and most of all the Church.

The way the passenger lists for the shopping trips proposed are going, there will be NO TRIP ON DECEMBER 5 but probably one on December 12 and likely one on the 13th. Lists must be complete by December 4 at the latest.

Tuesday Morning Group
The ladies wish to say thanks to Claire Coates from Woodbridge, and Jim Cameron from Maple for giving their time to speak to the group November 21. They explained the policies for their candidacy in the December 4 municipal election.

For December 5, the morning group wishes to announce a visit from Mrs. Ann Wilson. She will be giving the ladies instructions on making Christmas decorations. They are looking forward to her visit, and everyone is welcome. Those interested call Mary Norcliffe at 832-1324.

Of special interest to parents at this point might be the dates of the winter holidays, March 17 to 25 inclusive and the Easter Weekend April 20 to 23 inclusive. Now is the time to mark the calendar.

Wednesday evening, a good turnout of parents of grade 8 students met in the Bailey Auditorium to see slides presented by Karl Patterson of Travelways Bus Lines on a proposed trip to Ottawa sometime in May.

Although the school board will not permit more than one day off school, the parents and teachers as well as Mr. Patterson agreed that the three day trip would be far superior in schedule to a two day trip, which would be much too crowded and tight in schedule.

In the meantime, a good list of parents have volunteered to assist the students in raising the money required for the trip, by performing services to the community.

The first item on the agenda is the sale of candy and nuts for Christmas and we urge anyone who has one of the students come to their door to buy their Christmas goodies and support this most worthwhile venture.

The students are also making a survey to see if the sale of Christmas trees is feasible.

Several other projects have been suggested for the months after Christmas and we know that our community will support the students in their projects. We will try to keep the readers posted on their activities.

The Voice Of Concord

Sympathy
The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Freeland, Vaughan Boulevard, and their daughter Lorraine of Stroud on the sudden death of a son-in-law and husband, John Clapham, on November 18.

John, the father of Glenn and Mark, worked as a mechanic at Bowes Superstent and was well known as a race car driver at Pinecrest Speedway.

Take Note
A 10-year-old black and white parrot owned by Mr. and Mrs. Mauno Leppanen, King High Drive, was poisoned by rat poison and died last Thursday.

An autopsy showed the dog ate enough not to kill a rat but a large dog.

Be advised to watch your pets for signs of poison and take him immediately to the veterinarian.

Also warn small children not to eat any food stuffs they find.

If your animals are poisoned call the York Regional Police and report it.

School News
In recent years it has been the custom of the pupils and staff of Concord Public School to give a Christmas Concert, but this year they have planned a different type of activity.

On December 13 in the evening they will hold a social gathering of pupils, parents and friends, which will be a culmination of a crafts program the children will undertake over the next few weeks when they will be creating Christmas gifts, centerpieces, tree decorations and so on that will be offered for sale at a bazaar on that evening.

The proceeds from the sale of items will be directed toward people in special need at the Christmas Season.

In addition Santa will arrive for the children (of all ages) and refreshments will be served.

The teachers ask for your support on this venture realizing that it is close to Christmas to be holding a bazaar but since there has always been a good spirit in this community especially where the school is concerned they look forward to spending an evening with you at that festive time.

It is sincerely hoped that you make it a point to go with your children to see what they have made and I know you will be anxious to purchase the items displayed.

DON'T FORGET TO GET OUT AND VOTE!

Presbyterian Church
The ladies of St. Andrew's wish to remind their friends that their Christmas Bazaar, to be held this Saturday at 1:30 pm will not be held in the church hall for lack of space, but will be in the centrally located Masonic Hall. For more details see the Coming Events column of "The Liberal".

On Sunday a unique service will be held at St. Andrew's with the members of the young people's group and the junior Bible class

Several other projects have been suggested for the months after Christmas and we know that our community will support the students in their projects. We will try to keep the readers posted on their activities.

MILT SAVAGE

Seeks Vaughan Seat

Milt Savage, candidate for council in the Town of Vaughan, is a 50-year-old successful farmer who has lived on Bathurst Street near Richmond Hill all his life. He is a milk shipper with other business interests.

His family of two boys and a girl, his wife Olive and Mr. Savage have all been involved in community activities for years and have been part of the dedicated group who work so hard to make the Richmond Hill Fair such a continuing success.

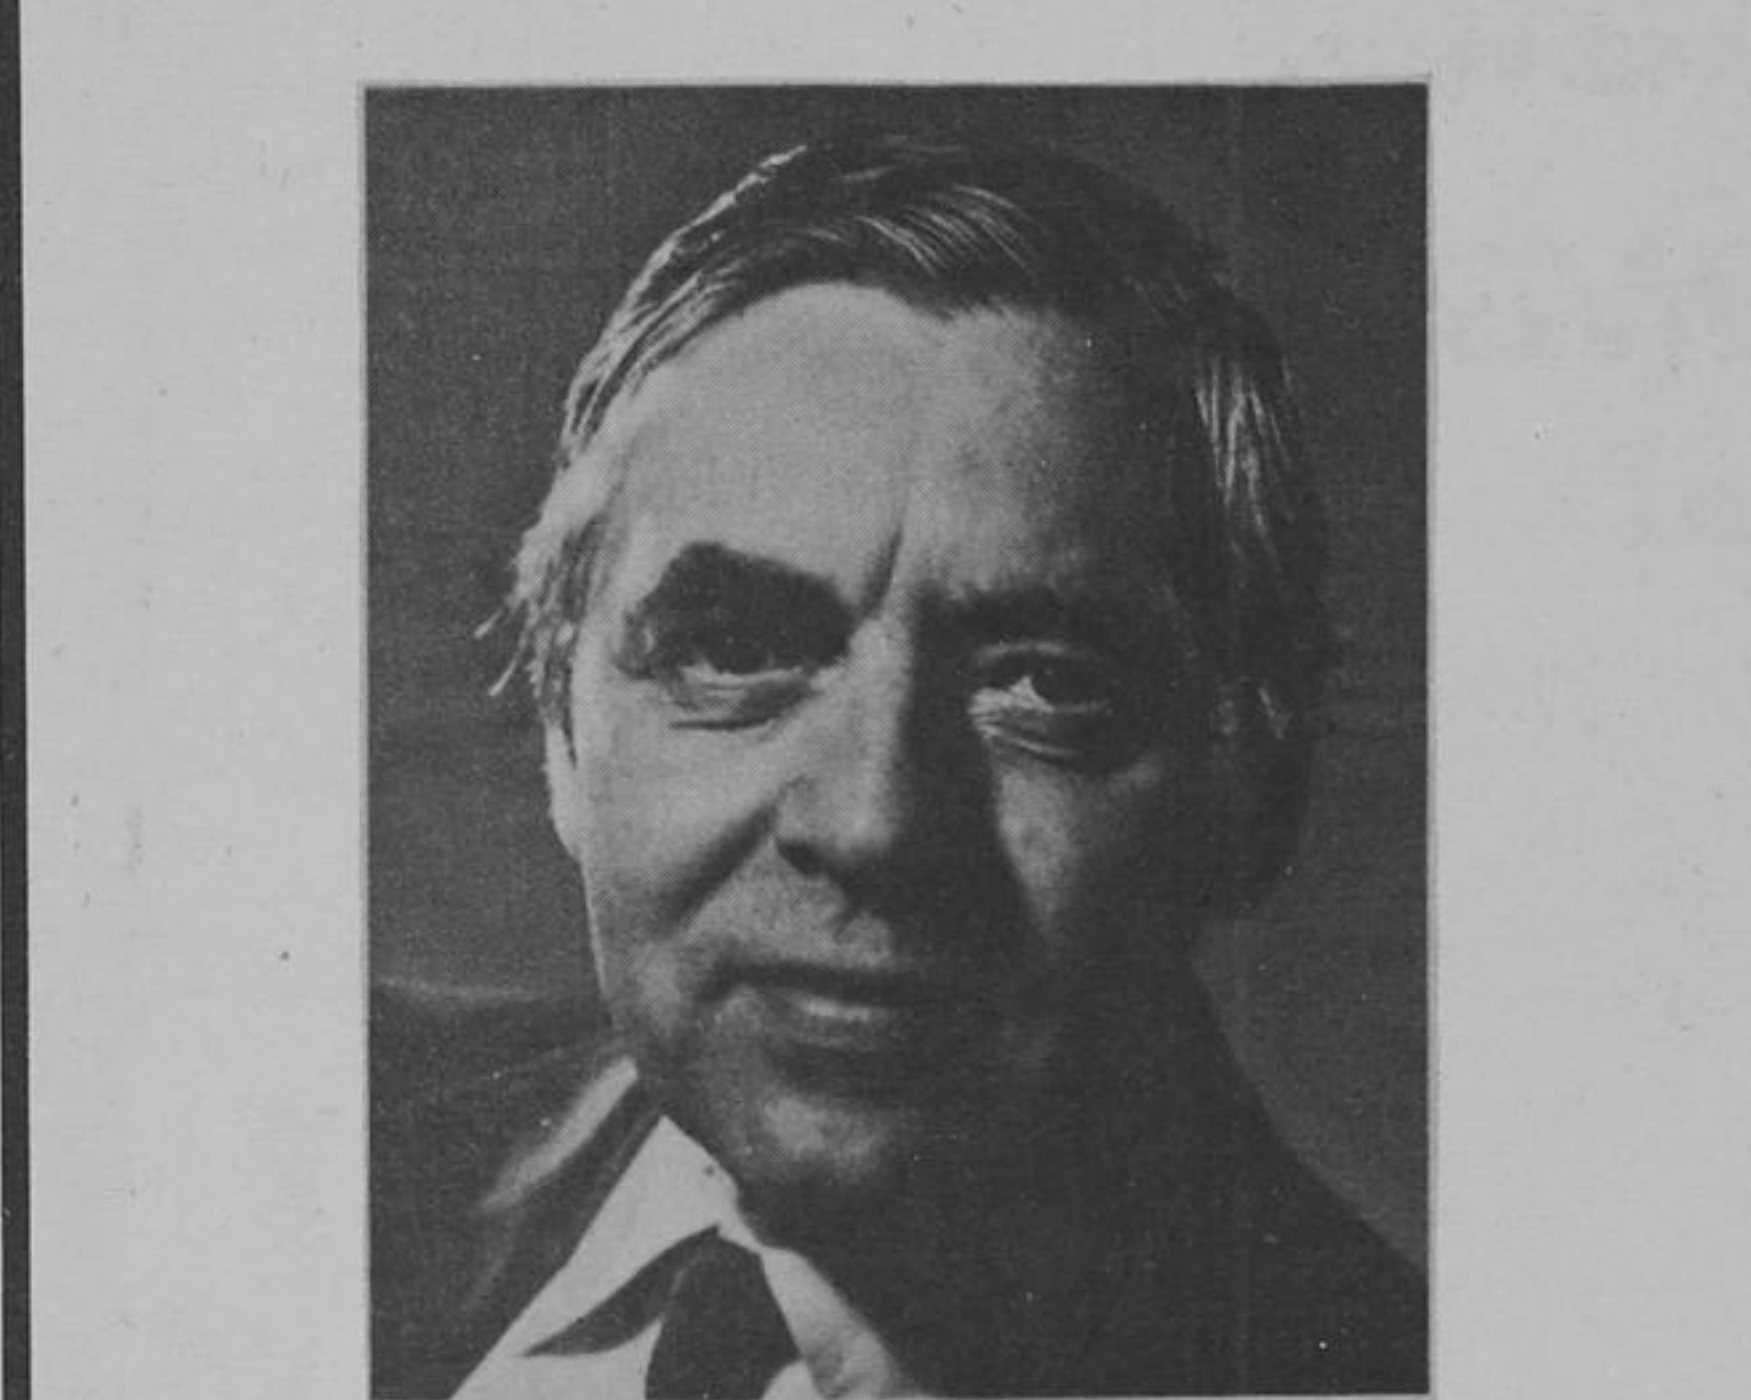

Along with his work with the Vaughan and York Federations of Agriculture, Mr. Savage has served 17 years as a school trustee in Vaughan and was a member of the first amalgamated school board in the township.

He has become increasingly concerned about the attempts to establish garbage dumps in Vaughan because he knows these increase traffic he has held for the value of adjacent lands. He charges the present council with encouraging establishment of a dump and although the courts have ruled against that one, he is determined to discourage any further dumps being established in the Town of Vaughan.

The fourth generation of his family to live in his municipality, Mr. Savage feels strongly that Vaughan urgently needs representation pledged to support only that type of development, if any, that present property owners desire and not development that outsiders would thrust upon the people of Vaughan.

The only election promise Mr. Savage will make is to serve no single group but work instead for policies and changes that reflect the wishes of all the people of Vaughan.

More Adults Should Visit Schools Says Trustee Kinnee

A trustee with 23 years of school board experience, Morley Kinnee of the Town of Vaughan has been nominated for a third term as one of Vaughan's two representatives to York County Board of Education.

Other Vaughan nominees are the board's present Chairman Ross Jofflette of Thornhill and Lawyer John Poot of Edgeley.

His greatest satisfaction, says Kinnee, has come from his work as chairman of the advisory vocational committee, first with York Central District High School Board, then for three years since the county board was formed in 1969.

The committee has been responsible for establishing vocational programs in the school, particularly the Don Head Secondary School in Richmond Hill which offers vocationally oriented programs for students who are not academically inclined. The committee is also re-
