St. Paul's Lutheran Women Host Fall Assembly

For the first time St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Bayview Avenue South, Richmond Hill, hosted the annual fall assembly of Central District Lutheran Church Women recently. This district reaches from Peterboro to the Niagara Peninsula and as far north as Lake Simcoe.

Feature speaker at the day-long event was Miss Joan Notting, missionary administrator with the Board of World Missions, who works in India. She wore a beautiful blue sari throughout the day. Pastor Clinton Rohr, of Grace

Lutheran Church, Oakville, conducted the afternoon Bible study and musical selections were presented by the Harmonaires of Keswick and Soloist Joan Plume.

Motorcyclists Fined Riding At CN Yard

Three Metro youths were fined recently in Richmond Hill Court for riding their motorcycles in the CN's Concord Rail Yard September 22 in Vaughan Town without permission.

Charles MacLean, 18, of 590 Souden Avenue November 16 pleaded innocent but was convicted after Provincial Judge Russell Pearce heard evidence from CN Police during trial. MacLean was fined $25.

Police said there were "No Trespassing" signs at both entrances to the yard. When caught the youths refused to identify themselves until after another constable and a CN special agent were called.

Admitting the 12.30 am charges in the court the week before were: Peter Ross, 21, of 161 Banff Road and Robert Hoocy, 19, of Glenam Avenue. They also were fined $25.
