and has been besieged by offers to move up into Major "A" ranks but he has resisted them to date.

The reason being that he hopes (much the same as last year's Rams such as Bill and Dick Weber, Steve Colp, Wayne Stokes, and yes, Daryl Rice) to further his education and hockey by attending university.

The Rams can feel fortunate in having Carr back this season but it's highly unlikely he'll be around next season. It'll likely be either major junior or university for Carr.

How did he get around to playing in goal in Etobicoke where he played all of his minor hockey? Something of an old story.

"Our goalie didn't show up one day and they put me in the nets. As I recall, we won the game 4-2 and I've been in them ever since."

Another thing you notice about Carr is the fact that he's an exciting player. Some have it, some don't. He's lanky and he catches your eye out there. He's worth dropping around to see in action. I recommend that you do.

IT'S A MISTAKE

I see that it's about time I started catching up with some mistakes of mine before they get too far out of reach and even out of sight. Mmmh.

Firstly, in last week's piece of resistance I mentioned the names of some Dynes softball players drafted by the proposed new professional loop. In that list I had Billy Drennan likely to play for Newmarket Rays next summer.

I'm here to tell you that the player in question was Lester Downing. Drennan's name sneaked in there after Downing and before the brackets announcing his moving to Newmarket. I've tried to tell you and tell you shouldn't believe everything I write. Let that be a lesson to you.

JUDD TO RETURN

While on the subject of softball, I'm informed by the executive of the Toronto and District Softball League that former Dynes Pitcher Ray Judd is available for next season. Judd's still remembered around here as being one of the all-time greats.

My informants tell me Judd played with Providence last season in the New England League and compiled a win-loss record of 32 and 8. He was named the second best pitcher in the league, just behind another great, Metro Szeryk. (I confess I'm doubtful about the spelling but have been unable to find out anyone who knows how to spell it for sure. Anyway, it's pronounced Zer-wick, mother).

One Russell "Casey" Cripps has already indicated interest in bringing Judd back to the Hill but this remains to be seen. It would be quite a drawing card what with a trio the like of Domik, Drennan and Judd.

SORRY, WRONG NUMBER

Also, in a recent article about the Richmond Hill Squash and Racquet Club I suggested anyone interested in joining it should call Paul Binkley. Yes, I put in the wrong phone number. The number is 884-2181. Honest.

Kings Beat Port Perry First Win In 5 Games

Grueling was the word for it.

The word for the Oak Ridges Kings who got back on the win-track Monday night with a 6-2 win over Port Perry in an OHA Central Junior "C" game after going winless for the previous four games played over a period of five nights.

During that time they lost 5-1 to Bowmanville, 10-5 to first place Cobourg; 5-3 to Cobourg; and then tied Bowmanville 4-4.

But it was a different story Monday night thanks to the two-man combination of Terry Rice and Kim Mabley who were the major point-getters in the game played at the Bond Lake Arena.

Rice scored twice and assisted on two while Mabley scored once and assisted on three others. Other goals were by Peter Stuart, Bruce Hipkiss, and Greg Woloski. Ted Prentice and Harry Fair scored twice for the visitors.

Oak Ridges led 2-0 after the first period on goals by Rice from Mabley and Hipkiss at 5:51; and from Stuart at 11:51.

Port Perry's Prentice broke through at 15:26 of the second but the Oak Ridges boys came right back with two more goals to take a 4-1 lead. Mabley's goal came at 9:26 from Bill McIlwaine and Rice; and then it was Rice's turn at 18:25 from Mabley.

The Kings outscored Port Perry two to one in the final period to skate away with the win.

It was a different story in the December 3 game which saw them lose to Bowmanville by 5-1 which was the start of a three-game losing streak.

McIlwaine from Mabley was the only goal managed by the Kings in this one.

They then went on to Cobourg and a 10-5 pasting December 4 at the hands of the league leaders who have only lost one game this season.

That game saw Garth Beer and Ed Clarey lead the
