Hill Minor Soccer: Boom Season

The rapidly expanding Richmond Hill Minor Soccer Association laid tentative plans at its annual meeting Friday night to stage a soccer tournament this summer as one of its contributions to the municipality's Centennial celebrations.

It would likely be held in July or August although the association will have to present its proposals to the Centennial Committee to establish what would be the appropriate time.

The tournament would be held on the new minor soccer turf at Crosby Park. The new facilities will be floodlit and will greatly help in easing the lack-of-playing fields suffered in the past.

The annual meeting saw the re-election for another term as president of Robin Kernohan.

President Kernohan reported on the "very successful" past season which saw 458 boys signed up with over 600 registrations expected in 1973. The growth of minor soccer in Richmond Hill is phenomenal, he said, "and there appears to be no let up in sight."

Other items touched on at the annual meeting included:

Over 800 attended the annual presentations and awards night in the fall with trophies being presented to teams for league or playoff achievement in the house league and the North York League.

Every effort is being made to upgrade the refereeing standards. More coaches are needed. Eight coaches on staff received their preliminary badges while four others were going for their intermediate.

Congratulations were extended to Derek Smith who was recently appointed president of the Referee's Association of Ontario.

Items also covered were outdoor soccer facilities, indoor soccer facilities for training during the winter months; the urgent need to keep the boys off the streets through the year to give them something to do.

Convenors reports were received from all divisions and, with one exception, the year 1972 had been a very successful one. Three convenors were appointed at the meeting. They were George Vass, Squirt Division; Jack Craig, Atoms; Sid Dinning, Mosquitos; with three other divisions to be decided.

Auditors for 1973 were also appointed. They were Pat MacNamara and Don Washington.

Other items discussed were registration fees, constitutional amendments and centennial projects.

The executive reported that there was a distinct likelihood that a ladies auxiliary would be formed in a short time. Some 29 ladies have volunteered their services.

It was also reported that the local association's relations with the National Soccer League were excellent. Exhibition games were played at Stanley Park Stadium during 1972 before crowds of 5,000 and 6,000. It was acknowledged that this sort of exposure for the Richmond Hill teams was good.

Girls' soccer had proven an asset and is here to stay although coaches are needed for the girls. The meeting saw a special request put out for any parent, however reluctant he or she might be, to join the association with a view to assisting in the running of some of the teams.

A resolution was passed thanking the parks and recreation committee for all the fine work it did during 1972 with special thanks to Parks Administrator Al White.

The association is still trying desperately to obtain school gymnasias for indoor soccer training during the normal evenings of the week at a cost within its financial limits. The association will do all in its power to secure some facility so that indoor soccer training can be put into action even if a little late this year.

President Kernohan concluded his report by stating that "this year should be good for all Richmond Hill."

R.C. Board Sets '73 Committees

Committee appointments for the York County Roman Catholic School Board for the coming year were announced by Chairman Eugene Jacobs at the regular board meeting held January 16. Duties and assignments were set out in a comprehensive brief presented by the chairman.

EDUCATION

The education committee is charged with appraising and recommending priorities in educational programs (based on school report analysis, administration proposals and related suggestions) for the 1973 and 1974 budget years. It will also form part of the joint teacher, principal, trustee, administration committee which meets every other month to consider development and assess progress in curriculum areas. They are to report on the priorities for the 1973 budget year to the budget committee by March 1 and for the 1974 budget year by November 1.

Members of the education committee will be Chairman Mrs. Noreen Lee of the Town of Vaughan, Frank Bescoe of the Township of King, Richard McIsaac of the Town of Markham, Rev. Father Francis Robinson of the Town of Richmond Hill, and Leo Wigglesworth of the Town of Markham.

FACILITIES

The facilities committee will be composed of Chairman John McDermott, Town of Whitechurch - Stouffville and Township of East Gwillimbury, Gus Clarke of King Township, Frank McElroy of Georgina, Malcolm Peake of Richmond Hill and Mr. Wigglesworth.

This committee will appraise and recommend priorities in the areas of maintenance, facilities improvement and transportation and determine in conjunction with the liaison committee trends in accommodation requirements and their impact on facilities over the next three years. It will also consider the board's responsibility to provide grade 9 and 10 programs and to see to it that there is further Catholic higher education available to the students of York County.

LIAISON COMMITTEE

Alexander MacGregor of Markham will head the liaison committee, which will also include Mrs. Lee and Mr. Peake. Their assignment is to meet with neighboring school boards to discuss and make recommendations regarding pupil accommodation and other matters of mutual interest.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

Chairman of the public relations committee will be Malcolm Peake. He will be assisted by Mr. McElroy and Mr. McIsaac. Their duties will be to supervise the publication of the board newsletter "Focus" and to encourage, sponsor and/or initiate total meetings between board officials and ratepayers.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION & FAMILY LIFE

This committee will be chaired by Father Robinson, who will be assisted by Mr. McIsaac, John Taylor of Richmond Hill and Mr. Wigglesworth. It will be their duties to continually appraise the program in religious education through discussions with administration, consulting staff and the clergy in the county. They are also charged to dialogue with administration and the York County Family Life Association, make appraisals and recommendations with respect to the effectiveness and extension of the family life program and to regularly review, with administration and principals, the conformity of the staff to the "practicing Catholic" requirements established by board policy.

BUDGET COMMITTEE

The budget committee will be composed of Chairman John Taylor, Mr. Clarke, Mrs. Lee, Mr. McDermott and John O'Mahony of Au-rona. They will be required to prepare a preliminary budget for 1973 based on recommendations of other committees and administration, reporting to the board in the early part of April. They also are to prepare a rough draft budget for 1974 and present it to the board by the end of November.

SALARY NEGOTIATIONS

The salary negotiation committee will have Mr. O'Mahony in the chair and Mr. MacGregor and Mr. Bescoe as members. They are to meet with the corresponding teacher committee to reach a 1973-74 salary agreement.

SCHOOL REPORT APPRAISAL

The personnel of the school report appraisal committee will be Mrs. Lee, Mr. McDermott and Mr. Taylor with the administration staff. This committee will be chaired by Superintendent Joseph Hodge. Its assignment is to review the annual school reports and present recommendations to the board.

Mr. Jacobs announced that an hour of each meeting will be devoted to "program evaluation." At the January 16 meeting the religious education consultants presented a report and at the February 6 meeting the board will hear from Murray Pound, commissioner of planning, Regional Municipality of York. Future meetings will hear reports from the French, physical education, music education, family life education, special education, primary education and speech correction programs.

Two "bull" sessions, when trustees meet in a non-official way without members of the administration and discuss informally, expressing opinions and concerns in many areas. The topic for the first of these, scheduled for January 30, will be "The Role Of The Trustee". The other will be held the fifth Tuesday in June.

Charge Oak Ridges Man On Phone Calls

York Regional Police have charged a resident of the Oak Ridges area of Richmond Hill with sending false messages, following complaints in the area over a nine-month period.

Complainants were Mrs. Dolores MacKay, OPP, Oak Ridges, who said that she had received a call January 12 of this year, saying that a bomb was going to go off at Our Lady of Annunciation Church, Oak Ridges; Mrs. Lenore Paxton, Bond Lake, who also warned of an alleged bomb at her home last April.

The final call was made January 16 to the Richmond Hill Police, informing them that a school bus had overturned and all the children inside it were injured.

All the calls proved to be false.

Charged was Michael Judge, 6 Bond Avenue, Oak Ridges.
