Rev. David Michell of Dorset, England, who was rector of Maple, King and Oak Ridges from 1948 to 1962 will be guest speaker at the service of morning prayer at St. John's Anglican Church this coming Sunday at 10:30 am as the church continues its 125th anniversary celebrations.
Everyone present at the service is cordially invited to join the congregation in the basement for luncheon after the service.

A bike hike is scheduled for the afternoon at 3:30 if weather permits. If not, it will be held Monday starting at 10:30 am. If the weather is still bad, it will be held the following Sunday at 3:30 pm. This year it is not a bikathon, as in other years, but just a happy outing. All on the hike should bring a light lunch. Minimum age will be 13.

Last Sunday there was a celebration of Holy Communion at 10:30 am at St. John's. The final confirmation class was held in the evening.

Markham Council

Unanimously Favors

Sunday Closing Law

The aims of all programs are to develop in youth the attributes of good citizenship and to stimulate their interest in the air element of the Canadian Forces.
In short, the air cadet program will provide you with a rewarding outlet if you give your best. It can be a career-building opportunity for the future. So if you have an interest in the air movement, it will be natural that you would want to join the best — the Royal Canadian Air Cadets for young men and women between the ages of 13 and 18 years.

Sunday closing of most stores by provincial regulation was unanimously endorsed Tuesday of last week by Markham Town Council with all members present.
Council was considering a resolution originated by Newmarket Town Council and circulated to the councils of all York Region municipalities and to all Ontario's regional and county councils. Notice of the Markham endorsement of Sunday store closing is going to the premier, the Association of Ontario Municipalities and local Members of the Legislative Assembly.

The Newmarket resolution is as follows:
"This council endorses the recommendation of the provincially appointed Committee on Sunday Retail Selling, the recommendations of the Ontario Law Reform Commission and the recommendations of the Provincial Uniform Store Hours Association, which in essence recommend that only certain types of stores be permitted to conduct business on Sunday and that these stores be regulated as to size and hours of operation. These recommendations are as a result of studies which indicate that Sunday selling would increase retail costs considerably and that Sunday should be retained as a compulsory day of rest for the social attitudes and mental hygiene of any community."

Invitations Out For Legion Midget Hockey Buffet And Dance

Thirty-three blue-blazered Thornhill Barbershoppers sang their way into the hearts of 200 people at the Legion Hall Friday evening, of last week.
The immaculate all-male chorus, in perfect voice, sang songs like "Laura Lee", "Sweet Adeline" and "MacNamara's Band", and had the audience applauding and singing along with them for about 90 minutes. It was all done for charity.
As Barbershopper Bill Tuplin explained, "We're all members of SPEBSQSA, and the proceeds from our appearance tonight will go to Logopedics".
For the benefit of WASPS, POP'S and CUPE's who may not be familiar with the abbreviation SPEBSQSA, it represents the largest singing organization in the world: "Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America".
Apparently in 1938, a man named Owen Cash of Tulsa, Oklahoma was repulsed by the flood of "canned music" from radio and movies. Along with Rupert Hall, a man of similar spirit, he endeavored to form an organization which would appeal to men who wished to sing the old songs in old-fashioned four-part harmony.
As a result, according to Bill Tuplin, there are today over 35,000 men enrolled in 700 chapters of SPEBSQSA in Canada, the United States and Britain.

Queried about Logopedics, Bill said the Institute of Logopedics is a village community in Wichita, Kansas, consisting of 51 buildings which house over 500 children who are being taught to overcome serious speech handicaps. Its program includes teacher training and research in addition to clinical treatment. It accepts children who are deaf and blind as well as handicapped by speech defects.
Since its founding in 1934, more than 12,000 children have graduated from the institute. Since its adoption as the service project of the Barbershoppers in 1964, Ontario chapters have raised in excess of $75,000, and have sponsored the rehabilitation of more than 125 Ontario children.
Bill said that the Thornhill Chapter of Barbershoppers is three years old and has a membership of 65. It meets each Monday at 8 pm. Men who like to sing and wish to enrol are invited to telephone Henry Benoit at 889-0468. "Besides singing for benevolent endeavours," Bill says, "we sing to test our skills against other Barbershoppers in competition. But mostly, we sing because we love to. The singing may not always be perfect — but it sure is fun!"
The Royal Canadian Legion heartily agrees.

In other notes obtained at Friday evening's session, we have it on record that Comrade Frank Barrott will not subject himself to another haircut unless Russ Andrews can sing.
Comrade John Tsinonis will not appear in a photograph unless his name is spelled in Greek.
President Douglas Hopson

Following the recent Legion Midget Hockey Tournament, the tourney organizers decided appreciation was due in many respects to those people in Richmond Hill who supported it.
Accordingly, some 150 invitations have been sent out to those who worked on the tournament during the week, and to about 100 families who billeted players from out of town. The invitations are to a buffet and dance to be held at the Legion hall.
As stated in the letter, it is important those people wishing to attend telephone the number provided on the invitation. This is in order that proper catering facilities may be provided.
Failing to phone could mean a difference between feasting on filet mignon or potato chips.

NEW MARKET: Project SWEEP, the South Lake Simcoe Conservation Authority's make-work for students program, last year cleaned up and landscaped the former town dump site. This year the program will take on the clean-up of roadsides, dump sites or streams. Council will make some suggestions as to projects which may be undertaken.

Extend Keele Bus Service To Maple: Vaughan Town

Vaughan Town Council will extend its Keele Street bus service to Maple at a cost of $22,000 as quoted by the Toronto Transit Commission.
But it won't go for two other additional services recommended in a public transit study by Marshall Macklin Monaghan Ltd., in 1972 because of the considerable cost.
The recommendations included minor changes in the Yonge Street service and a new rush hour service on Jane Street to Highway 7 and an additional bus morning and evening on the Islington Avenue route.
It was pointed out that the estimates of the above services varied greatly between that of Marshall Macklin Monaghan and the TTC quotations.
A report to council states that the TTC cost estimates "differ considerably from those in the study by Marshall Macklin Monaghan and in fact that firm now concludes that the recommended changes are not warranted in view of the per rider deficit of .57 to .97 cents.
The comparative deficits are as follows with the TTC quotation followed by the original Marshall Macklin Monaghan estimates in brackets:
Islington Avenue (additional bus) $12,600 ($7,900); Jane Street (new service) $15,100 (0); Keele Street (to Maple) $22,000 ($5,700).
No estimate was given for the Yonge Street Service as the three municipalities concerned have not yet agreed on all aspects.
The Keele Street service will be implemented only on a trial basis.
Council also approved the following expenditures for public transit at a total figure of $47,300 (the appropriate forms will be forwarded to the Ministry of Transportation and Communications in order that the 50 percent provincial subsidy may be obtained):
Deficit, Yonge Street Service (10.77 percent of total deficit), $1,900; deficit, Keele Street Service (existing) $20,900; deficit, Keele Street extension to Maple (approx. 5 months only) $11,100; deficit, Islington Avenue Service (existing) $7,900 for a total operating deficit of $41,800.

An additional $5,000 for the bus loop and turning circle at Maple and $500 for subsidization of senior citizen's fares for a total of $47,300.
