Owners, managers and supervisors in York Region businesses are being advised to come to Seneca's King Campus if they require help in developing business skills. More than 30 subjects are offered in the Continuing Education Program to begin September 24.

Three areas of study are receiving special attention. Management skills can be developed or enhanced by such subjects as effective communication, verbal and written; management for results, including principles, evaluation and objectives; organizational behaviour, which deals with psychology and leadership and personnel administration, stressing recruitment, placement, evaluation and compensation. Office managers will increase their abilities in solving management problems in a subject called business information systems. Selling, buying and retailing is covered in the basic retailing course.

As more businesses consider or adopt computer assistance, insights acquired in Computer Fundamentals will be useful. One of the easier programming languages can be learned in Fortran programming.

Employees will probably find one of the following helpful depending on their specific responsibilities: Effective selling, Pitman Shorthand, or office procedures.

These and 21 other subjects including bookkeeping, typing and small business management from Seneca King's effort to serve the business community. Details can easily be obtained by calling the admissions office at 884-9901.

Saturday is the first day of autumn, and this poem by Lucille Crumley expresses it well. Autumn is the time that brings — Birds going south on flyaway wings, Crickets that chirp in the flower bed, Sumac candles blazing red, Clusters of bitersweet on the vine, Apples, polished, and sweeter than wine, Chrysanthemums peeking through patterns of frost — Autumn is happiness without cost. The crunching of gold leaves under your feet, Crimson maples edging the street, The calling of geese from a twilight sky, Their wings in rhythm passing by, The chattering of squirrels at work in the trees, a tangy, smoke smell on evening breeze, A football game when your team has won, Early frost shining in late morning sun, A harvest moon in a Halloween sky, One single bright star hanging high, Ghost stories at midnight, Thanksgiving Day, All this is autumn coming your way.

Neighborhood Notes
Timothy Henshaw has begun his course at the University of Guelph. Best wishes Timothy, we know you will do well.

Good progress is being made with the addition to the church building, with the hope of having it completed in time for the anniversary services October 14.

Members of the Norman Rumble Family held a family picnic at the Humber Trails Conservation Area September 9, in honor of Mr. Rumble, who had celebrated his 90th birthday September 5. As well as the immediate family, guests were Mr. Russell Rumble of Weston, who was 86 in August, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Anderson, Mrs. Duncan Watson and Laura Harriston. It was a double celebration, as Mrs. Anderson was celebrating her 80th birthday that day. It was a happy day for all, and we wish them many more years of good health.

Mr. Rumble would like to thank the church for their flowers, friends for their calls, cards and other good wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Roots were hosts to the King City Lions Club for their opening meeting September 4. A steak barbecue was held and several members and their wives enjoyed a swim in the lovely pool.

The meeting of the afternoon unit of the UCW will be held at the home of Mrs. Ray Jennings has been postponed for one week, and will be held September 27, at 2 pm.

Bond Avenue Go Ahead

Bond Avenue, in the Oak Ridges area, is due for improvement in the near future. Richmond Hill Council September 10 accepted the tender of On-grade Construction Ltd. Bedford Park, Toronto, in the amount of $5,916.55 for the work of ditch relocation and associated works on that thoroughfare. This was the only bid received although other firms had picked up tender forms, it was reported.

It was also reported that a necessary easement had been secured and the indenture covering this was passed.

A sum of $4,000 had been included in the budget for this work, but that was before plans had been drawn, it was stated.

Georgina Exceeded Borrowing Limits

Last year's Georgina Council exceeded the maximum short term borrowing limit as set out in Section 382 of the Municipal Act by approximately $375,000, the township's annual auditors report, received recently, notes. Councillor Bob Pollock said the over-borrowing was due to two factors outside council's control.

One was the unanticipated breakdown of the ice machine in the Sutton Arena which cost the township more than $100,000. The other was a provincial decision not to allow residential development at West Park until municipal services are available.

Encouraged by the Department of Municipal Affairs, the township last year purchased West Park, planning to sell off 60 residential lots and to keep the remaining 180 acres as a park. Mr. Pollock said the province had agreed to septic tanks, and wells for the West Park Subdivision and then reversed itself and required municipal services.

The Municipal Act says: "If a member of council knowingly votes to spend or borrow more than certain figures which are arrived at by a formula which should be familiar to any member of council, that member may be unseated and may not hold office for a period of two years." Councillor Pollock says he is not worried on this account. "One was an act of God (the ice machine breakdown) and one was an act of Queen's Park." Five members of the present council sat on council last year.

King Minor Hockey, Figure Skating Event

The King City Community Centre was transformed into a South Sea island September 8 when Carib '73 was presented by the King City Minor Hockey Association and the King City Figure Skating Club.

Palm trees stood tall in between the tables as a Jamaican served punch from a portable bar with a thatched roof. The quick tempo music of the Dick "Syncona" Smith Steel Band kept the centre dance floor area alive all evening as nearly 1000 King residents stepped in time.

A feature of the dance was the chance to buy a raffle ticket with the first prize being a week in Nassau, Bahamas.

PRIZE WINNERS
Ten tickets were drawn and these 10 placed in a separate drum. The lucky winner was drawn from these ten. Much to our surprise, one of the 10 tickets drawn was number 468, belonging to the Matthews, and we won a pair of BOAC travel flight bags. Certainly better than nothing.

The grand prize was won by Jane Phorsion, daughter of Frank and Edna Phorsion, of Banner Lane and her boyfriend Darrell Element. Jane is a graduate of King City Secondary School and is now taking a course in Hairdressing. Darrell is an employee of Molson's Brewery. They plan on taking their free trip to Nassau, Bahamas sometime in November. Lucky couple!

EXCITING FOOD
Hollowed-out pineapples studded with olives, mushrooms, and mandarin oranges — and filled with shrimp dip, were served with crackers as an appetizer, followed by a plate of tiny, hot meat and fish tidbits. While we felt that something more substantial was needed, obviously a lot of time and thought had gone into the preparation of the food. We, and a lot of other people, didn't discover the coffee until we were leaving.

NEWMARKET: Recreation Committee Chairman Ray Twinney has said that committee meetings are not public meetings, but later said the press is welcome. Mayor Bob Forhan disagrees and says the town has set a precedent that all meetings are public.
