LOOKING AROUND

Next weekend is Thanksgiving and the news has to be ready for Friday morning. If you have an item for me have it in by then.

Neighborhood Notes

teacher. Children are welcome to accompany their parents.

The Maple UCW held their annual Fall Rally on September 19 at the church. Their guests were from Carrville UCW, Sharon-Hope UCW, plus the Maple Anglican, Lutheran and Presbyterian ladies.

The Ladies Trio from Maple United sang and the speaker was Mrs. Ralph Garbe of Queensville. She gave a most animated talk on the role of the Christian woman in a changing world and suggested ways in which this role might be fulfilled. Refreshments and a social hour concluded the evening. The UCW Smorgasboard is on October 12 and tickets are available from the members. See "Coming Events" in the Liberal for details.

There was a very serious typographical mistake in last week's write-up of the Lions' Golf Tournament. Please note that the event is on the weekend of October 6 not October 26. Please phone the organizers immediately if you wish to participate. Contact Walter Jurzak 832-1566 or Al Taylor 832-2526, for more information on starting time etc. and registration as a participant.

Maple Seniors met Monday afternoon of last week with guests from Kleinburg visiting to see the films of the March 24 trip to Spain. These were shown by Carl Patterson of Travelways World Tours. The group were not quite their usual cheery selves, missing their ray of sunshine, Mrs. Pearl Brown, who is in York Central Hospital. All their best wishes went out to her. Two bus loads of seniors headed out for color tours this week. We will report on them next week.

Alex Bishop

Deepest sympathy from our community, and indeed the entire area of York, goes to the family of Alex

Bishop of Maple, who passed away September 24 at home.

Mr. Bishop is survived by wife Mary Victoria (Barker), two sons, George of Oakville and Albert of Burlington, daughters Isobel (Mrs. Lorne Burbidge of King City) and Marian (Mrs. William Mactaggart of Oakville), as well as one sister, Jennie (Mrs. Harvey Usher) of Woodbridge.

He was an active member of his community, including membership in the Masonic Order (Vaughan Lodge), the Vellore Old Boys and Vellore Euchre Club, the Maple Pioneers Bowling League and at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Concession 7, Vaughan, where he was Clerk of the Session.

In his daily life he made many dear and close friends whose thoughts and prayers go out to his family along with those of the community, to strengthen them in their hour of loss.

Maple WI Plan Donation To Lee Homestead Restoration

BY EVA HAWKINS
The Maple WI women held their last meeting at the home of Mrs. Doris Payne on September 12. Twenty-two women were present and they answered the roll call by showing a vegetable and describing how it should be served.

Recently the institute had a most enjoyable visit to the Eland Lee Homestead in Stoney Creek. This building was the home of one of the WI founders. It is being restored outside and furnished inside with period things. It was decided by the women to send a donation to the restoration fund.

CREATIVE WORKSHOP
Two ladies from the group, Mrs. Doris Payne and Mrs. Pearl Jarrett, had the opportunity to participate in a two-day workshop in Newmarket on Creative Stitchery.

Mrs. Ella Harris will be the Maple delegate to the 71st Central Ontario WI Convention held at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto from October 24 to 26. The Maple group has been invited to a dessert luncheon and euchar by the Laskat WI on October 10 at 12:30 at $1.50.

MEETING HIGHLIGHTS
To give you a bit more idea about the September 12 meeting, here are a few of the highlights. Mrs. Jean Robson read two papers: Agriculture Is Ontario's Prime Industry, and the Soya Bean Plant. Mrs. Dorothy Rumble presented a paper on "Men love to wonder — that is the seed of science".

The next meeting of the local institute is October 10 at 8 pm in King City at the home of Mrs. Ella Harris.

Present Tax Laws Bring Destruction

Federal government help is needed if "historical buildings" are to be saved, Toronto Alderman Art Eggleton stated recently. He claims that present tax laws encourage destruction of buildings rather than their preservation.

Under present laws an owner can claim tax deductions for depreciation of his building at a rate of 5% a year. If a fully depreciated building is sold, the government can reclaim some of the deductions. This creates an incentive to destroy an old building and sell the land as a vacant site.

Mr. Eggleton's concern has been caused by the Globe & Mail's intent to move next year into the Front Street building previously occupied by the Toronto Telegram and its agreement to turn the present site over to Olympia and York Developments Ltd. as a vacant lot. That company plans to build a broad podium facing King Street with an office tower of about 70 stories across from the Toronto-Dominion Centre and to develop the Globe site later.

Presbyterians Welcome New Minister

Last month the community of Maple welcomed Rev. George French, his wife and family, as the new minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and St. Paul's Vaughan. The new minister is seen above with his wife Barbara, daughter Sue, 13, and son Bill, 15.

A native of Ontario, Mr. French attended the University of Dubuque, Iowa, on an athletic scholarship, and later the Dubuque Theological Seminary. He has served for nine years in three different charges in New Jersey, coming to Maple from Cedar Grove in that state.

He succeeds Rev. "Biff" Andrew who retired at the end of April.

The Voice Of Concord

Ladies Bowling
The York Spotlight Coffee Club Bowling League has been bowling now for two weeks. The league was originally started by Donnie Warwick about 11 years ago and has been going strong since then.

As of September 25 teams number one and eight are leading with 10 points. High average is 217, June Shakespeare, high triple flat is 685, Rose Bernardi.

If you are interested in sponsoring for the league please contact Erna McCutcheon 669-2156 or Kathy Gameson 636-4272.

Drowning Accidents

Four Die In Fatal Two Car Crash Near Keswick

Four people were killed in car accidents and two men were drowned in the Keswick and Bradford areas Saturday.

Killed in a two-car collision at Don Mills and Ravenshoe Road, south of Keswick, were Sheila Hales, 28, of Port Bolster, her aunt, Mrs. Vera Glendinning, 62, of Cannington; Fred Newson, 46, of Lochlin, and Nellie Watson, 68, of Queensville.

In the Bradford area, Adriano Zucconi, 31, of Oakwood Avenue, Toronto, drowned when he tumbled from a boat while out duck hunting.

A companion, Sergio Nadalin, who also fell from the boat, managed to reach shore and summon help.

York Regional Police, who later recovered the body, said the drowned man was weighted down with quantities of ammunition.

That company plans to build a broad podium facing King Street with an office tower of about 70 stories across from the Toronto-Dominion Centre and to develop the Globe site later.

Toronto City Council's Executive Committee has decided to inform the Globe and Olympia and York that tearing down the building would "severely prejudice" the city's willingness to waive its recently-passed 45-foot height limit in the downtown area and sell city-owned streets the developer needs.

Married In Port Carling

Knox Presbyterian Church, Port Carling, was the scene of the July 28 wedding of Heather Lorna Donald and Barry Wood. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Donald of Port Carling, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wood of Concord.

Bouquets of daisies and snapdragons decorated the church where the Rev. Shirley Jeffery officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Keith Croucher of Port Carling was organist for Mr. Hugh Boal of Toronto who sang "I'll Walk Beside You" just prior to the bride's entry and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, Heather wore a full length gown of white organza with daisy trim around the neck and waistline. Her two-tiered veil was held in place by a headdress of daisies and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses, daisies and baby's breath.

Also near Keswick, Alexander Leiper, 32, of Marjorie Street, Toronto, drowned when he parachuted into a small pond and became stuck in about four feet of silt on the bottom.

A veteran of 10 years' jumping, Mr. Leiper misjudged the distance, according to police, when he was making his final run from 3,000 feet. Instead of landing at a private airfield, he fell into the 10-foot deep pond.

The best man was Paul Cormier of Port Carling (formerly of Woodbridge) and Robert Donald, only brother of the bride, acted as usher. The men wore navy blazers and white pants.

It was a beautiful day for the reception at Sugar Hill Village on Lake Rousseau. Guests from Trenton, Toronto, Torrance, Parry Sound, Sharon, Port Carling and Shilo, Manitoba, enjoyed the turkey dinner. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated in white and green with yellow flowers.

For their motor trip to Northern Ontario, the bride wore a pink mini dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood are now residing in Willowdale.

APPLIED RESUSCITATION

Keith Falconer, a part owner of the club, and student jumper, Ted Barkell, rowed out in a boat to help Mr. Leiper after he had landed. Another two members swam out to the spot.

The four pulled Mr. Leiper from the silt and then applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation after getting him to shore. He was then taken to York County Hospital.

Mr. Leiper first started jumping with the "B" Company of the 15th Scottish Parachute Team in Toronto in 1963.
