BY FRED SIMPSON There was more confusion piling up than garbage Monday afternoon of this week when Vaughan Town Council got entangled in the growing "garbage" controversy at Maple.

left five members and Mayor Garnet Williams to vote. A resultant recorded vote saw the six members of council split right down the middle on the question of allowing Disposal Services to extend its present dumping site - known locally as "Mount Goodhead" - by 10 acres to the north.

could apply to the provincial Department of Environment for a public hearing on the matter. If your request is granted and a definite date is set, council would not be required to pass this resolution. If not, it could be voted on then," he said.

favoring or opposing the extension until we have all the facts before us." ESCAPING RESPONSIBILITY Councillor Cameron expressed displeasure at the results of the voting on the various resolutions, stating council was "trying to escape its responsibilities."

we're trying to live up to them. We're not just responsible to a few ratepayers in this room, we're responsible to the whole municipality." Councillor Cameron maintained it was council's duty to take "as firm a stand as possible on the garbage matter because that is the only way you'll ever impress upon the province that you want nothing to do with any further extensions.

HOW THEY VOTED Favoring the resolution to refuse any further extension were Councillors Jim Cameron, Stu Hollingshead, and Milton Savage. Opposed were Mayor Garnet Williams and Councillors Fred Armstrong and David Fraser.

But it wasn't all that simple. Councillor Fraser had previously proposed a motion that would have tabled the resolution for two weeks until "we can get an indication from the provincial government on what it intends to do about the over-all garbage situation in Vaughan."

NEGOTIATION POINTS He also suggested council could negotiate on the following points: That no truck vehicular traffic be allowed on Maple roads; confirm that any water pollution problem would be solved if it exists or occurs in the future; and that the municipality get "something back from the operators for allowing them to use those holes."

Coburn Is Against Sharing Of Libraries The joint use of library facilities by a school and a municipality has a lengthy history of failure, according to Trustee Margaret Coburn of King.

Black, Red And White By RUTH BOLTON Dayview Secondary Correspondent (Telephone 773-5184) First Dance Of Season Raises $800 The first dance of the year and a roaring success at that, pulling in approximately $800. We had a tremendous turnout of around four hundred people.

ANOTHER DEADLOCK This had resulted in another recorded vote and another tie with the same councillors simply reversing their votes. Voting for the "tabled" motion were Mayor Williams, Councillors Armstrong and Fraser. Opposed this time out were Councillors Cameron, Hollingshead and Savage. The motion was lost.

PROVINCIAL RESPONSIBILITY He said that the over-all garbage scheme was the responsibility of the province and "they should live up to their half of the bargain."

OTHER EXPERIENCE Mrs. Coburn said she had talked with both Albert Bowron, library consultant in Mississauga, who reported on a similar experiment there, and with Helen Donaldson, consultant with East York School Board, and formerly with Toronto School Board.

While with the latter, she conducted a survey on the subject in the United States and received a "voluntuous response." ALWAYS FAILURES "Both Mr. Bowron and Miss Donaldson report that they have never heard of one yet that has worked successfully; many have had such a scheme and abandoned it, and it is not less expensive, but more expensive to operate," she said.

Approximately 45 students got on the school bus provided for them and proceeded to the Stratford Festival last week. The play performance was Othello and was very well done. Any play done there is always worth seeing. The acting is superb and everyone inclusive is muchly talented. Shakespeare made no mistake when he set his heart to playwrighting, he has filled more hearts and left more of an influence than anyone I know.

Rams Bounce Back To Win Defeat Whitby By 7-4 Pre-Rams Hill skated off with a 4-1 lead. Whitby picked up in the next two periods and play was mainly even but the Rams matched them three goals and that was the game. "I'm just happy we don't play for the rest of the week," stated Brimblecombe. "We've still got Rick Febbo and Jim Roffey out although Jim Casola was back in the line-up and played well." Another man on the injured list is Goalie Brian Stankiewicz. He has a bad toe. "The kids have been hustling out there," continued Brimblecombe, "but you just can't operate to top efficiency and sometimes it looks like you're dogging it." Not so. The Rams are in Markham Sunday against Markham and play hosts to the tough Dixie team Tuesday night at 8 pm at the arena.

Oak Ridges Kings Impressive Via 4-1 Win Over Peterboro The Oak Ridges Junior "B" Kings "put it all together" Monday night as they came up with an impressive 4-1 win over Peterboro Lions at Bond Lake Arena. It was the King's second win in eight games and by far their most superior effort. Leading the way as Dennis Acomb who drew assists on three of the four goals. Peterboro opened the scoring at 17:22 of the first period on a goal by Dave Clements but Oak Ridges tied the game with 53 seconds left in the period. It came about as Acomb stole the puck behind the net, flipped out to Val Stefan who drove it home. Jeff Wood scored what turned out to be the winning goal at 6:37 of the second period as he picked up an Acomb rebound and flipped it home. Bill Guinane also received an assist on the play. It was 3-1 at 12:42 as Kim Mabley deflected a point shot from Kevin Ross at 12:42. Terry Rice also received an assist. The Kings came up with some superb defensive play in the final minutes of the same period as they walked into five consecutive penalties. Despite being short-handed their defence, led by Wood and Ross, allowed only two shots on Goalie Larry Clews. The Kings scored the only goal in the third as Guinane blinked the light assisted by Acomb at 3:32. Oak Ridges plays in Oshawa tomorrow night and hosts Bramalea Monday at Bond Lake Arena.
