Neighborhood Notes
There were 24 tables of players at Buttonville WI Hall for the fourth game of the present euchre series last Friday night.

Winners included Mrs. Joyce Himmelman, Mrs. Albert Wood, Mrs. Agnes Foster, Mrs. Reba Brillinger, Bill Swain, Paul Hickey, Myrtle Brillinger and Bill Wray, Jr.

Lucky draws went to Ken Green and Mrs. Keith Carson, and freezeout winners were Mrs. Jessie Grainger and Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Bill Allen and Vera Harris.

Hostesses for the evening were Rose Baker, Gertrude Hood, Gertrude Robinson, Elizabeth French, Agnes Baker and Dora Pralet.

The final game will be played at the hall November 23.

Mrs. Andrew Glennie entertained members of the YCHA when they met for coffee and business at her Bayview home Friday morning. Main item of business was the coming euchre and benefit which will be held at Buttonville WI Hall December 7.

Church News
A number of local friends attended the evening anniversary service at Headford United Sunday. Among them Jack Rodick, Miss Mary Rodick, Mrs. Douglas Hood, Miss Rhea Scott, Mrs. Jack Gough, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sherman, Mrs. Tim Paterson, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Craig, Mrs. Gordon Spring. The Melod Ants Singers of Scarborough presented a musical program. Afterward refreshments were served.

On Sunday at Brown's Corners United Remembrance Day Service was combined with a baptismal service for Jonathan Allen Hallett, son of Rev. and Mrs. Allen Hallett.

Colors were presented by two members of TYRO and the junior choir sang "Let There Be Peace On Earth". The senior choir sang "O World of God".

Rev. William Butt officiated at the christening and Rev. John Finlayson, Mrs. Hallett's brother, spoke for Mr. Hallett who had a severe attack of laryngitis.

Christmas draws near. On Advent Sunday, December 2, there will be a family celebration at the church with a potluck supper at 5:30 pm, followed by a craft session when decorations will be made for a Christmas tree to be trimmed that night. And there will be carols around the tree.

Sunday the Sunday school session will be held during the church hour. Students will go to church for the first part of the service and return to the Christian Education room before the sermon.

Miss Velma Brillinger, a missionary on furlough from Zambia, Africa, gave a timely talk at Brown's Corners UCW meeting Wednesday of last week.

Miss Brillinger has been in Zambia for the past five years, and before that spent a dozen years in Rhodesia. She remarked on the present political upheaval there, with the expulsion of east Indians and many Europeans, the closing of borders, and the influence of Chinese communism which is gaining ground through the building of a railway to the sea, which the Chinese have undertaken to transport the country's copper to Dar es Salaam and the sea.

"It is difficult to learn what people actually think of all this," said Miss Brillinger. "They believe kindness is a greater virtue than honesty, and they often give the answer they think you want to hear..."

She said there is talk of expelling missionaries from the country, but if asked, the people say they need the missionaries' help.

Miss Brillinger also showed beautiful colored pictures of Africa from Cape Town north, and suggested that anyone travelling to that continent should stay for any length of time would be well advised to go by ship because of the cultural and climatic shock.

During business, conducted by the chairman, Mrs. Walter Craig, it was noted that final smorgasbord funds totalled more than $1,350.

AURORA: Jack Williamson, a former councillor and a defeated candidate in last year's election, was named by council to fill the seat left vacant by the resignation of Don Roberts. The first runner-up, Bill Trent, was named to the council seat vacated by Evelyn Buck when she moved to the mayor's chair after Dick Illingworth resigned.
