The WI held their regular meeting on November 15 at the home of the president, Mrs. Anne Jackson.

Mrs. Bruce Davidson of Stouffville, the area president, was a welcome visitor.

Mrs. Elaine Watters, 881-0917. A Crafts Night for the training of Guides within the area was held at Holy Trinity Church Hall last week.

2nd Thornhill Guides and their leaders, Captain Marian Ashley and Guiders Pat White and Linda Smith, have started the new season's activities with a very busy program.

Four separate groups of Guides planned and carried out backyard camps on three different weekends. The girls planned their own menus and activities and did their own shopping.

2nd Thornhill Guides and their leaders, Captain Marian Ashley and Guiders Pat White and Linda Smith, have started the new season's activities with a very busy program.

A Halloween Party, with games, prizes and a table laden with delicious refreshments, saw the Guides dressed in such original costumes as Snoopy, a Frankenstein monster, a Dutch boy, a baby (diaper, bottle and all), a harem girl, a "lady" in nightgown and curlers, a couple of playing cards, and a jack o'lantern.

An outing which will remain a highlight of the year was an all-day Father and Daughter Hike on the Bruce Trail on November 11. The Guides and their fathers hiked about six miles in the area between Rattlesnake Point and Kelso Conservation Area.

Some of the Guides were lowered down by ropes and used the ropes to climb back up. The underground passages were often a tight squeeze for fathers and Guide leaders.

Badges were recently earned by Thornhill Guides as follows: Backyard Camp - Cheryl Warburton, Janice Richardson, Pagen Maee, Marianne Loader, Linda Brien, Pam Church, Lynn Bredin, Alison Ashley, Joy Adams, Laura Langman, Cathy Harrison, Lesley Warwick, Junior Camper - Janice Richardson, Cheryl Warburton, Outdoor Cook - Janice Richardson, Cheryl Warburton, Birdwatcher - Judith Neum, Campfire Leader - Judith Neum; Horsewoman - Joanne Adams; Collector - Alison Ashley; Treasurer - Alison Ashley.

The drama group are deep in rehearsals for their play "The Matchmaker" by Thornton Wilder. Isaac Pfaff is the producer. The date has not yet been set.

Besides their band the school has a choir this year. There are a great many taking part, and everybody is working hard. Jack Fizzel is the choirmaster. They will be on the program the night of the play.

At Holy Trinity on November 9 and 10 the Footlights Club and the Cantabile Choir of Thornhill provided great entertainment. The one act play "Cuckoo Time" was full of funny happenings, and it was well done.

The choir under the direction of Bob Richardson has only been active for the last 10 months. It was a revelation to everybody in regard to what can be accomplished. The music ranged from 16th Century to modern times, and it was all so good.

A congregational dinner was held on November 14 at Holy Trinity Anglican. It was the 143rd Anniversary. There was a good attendance. After dinner there was a sing-along with Graham Upercraft at the piano. Then Canon Reginald Howden spoke, followed by Bill Trov, chairman of stewardship.

Mr. Arthur Crawford was convenor.

Please do not forget the Opportunity Sale sponsored by the Holy Trinity ACW. It is to take place on November 24. Anything you can donate in the line of good used clothing, housewares, jewelry or bric-a-brac is needed. Articles can be left inside the south parking lot door, or contact Mrs. Muriel Shaw 889-3035. The time of the sale is 1 pm to 3 pm.

On November 11 Thornhill Presbyterian entertained two visitors, Chief N. U. Akpan and Mrs. Akpan of Nigeria. The couple had been chosen as outstanding Christian laymen to visit the Board of World Mission, and to spend a month with individual churches and universities of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, including those in Ontario, Quebec and the Prairie Provinces.

They are outstanding Christian educators. Chief Akpan was elected, just before leaving, as vice-president of the Christian Council of Nigeria. He is pro-chancellor and chairman of the governing council of the University of Nigeria. Mrs. Akpan is a kindergarten specialist and the headmistress of a public school.

Chief Akpan spoke to the people who attended the reception, and then answered questions for the 1 1/2 hours he had at his disposal before flying to Scotland. He is outstanding, highly intelligent, friendly and outgoing. It was a great privilege to have such notable people to listen to, and to meet them face to face.

Christ the King Lutheran is holding a very special potluck dinner on December 2. Further information later.

The Women's League of St. Vladimir's Ukrainian Catholic wish to thank the many, many people who came to their bazaar. It was a great gathering. Those helping were wearing Ukrainian costume or else bright checked skirts and white blouses.

There will be a Tea and Bake Sale at St. Vladimir's on December 9 from 2 pm to 4:30 pm.

The UCW on their church's anniversary year elected to raise money for Mission and Outreach by a new method. The women decided to work by themselves, using their particular talents and ideas to make money. The project ends on December 11.

The variety is amazing; floral arrangements, hair dressing, cooking specialties, babysitting, sewing, crafts, typing, selling fertilizer! I really believe that if you wanted anything in particular made, or any service, the UCW would come across.

They were now very interested in what they will have accomplished in the money making line, as well as having a good deal of fun and interest all year.

The Senior Adults who meet at Thornhill United are holding a Bazaar on November 22 from 1-3 pm. There will be sewn goods, bake sale and tea room. Tea will cost 25c.

The Canada Cord, the highest award a Girl Guide can achieve, was won this year by four members of 1st Langstaff Girl Guide Company. The girls received their Canada Cords in a ceremony during an Open House October 22 at Langstaff Public School, Uplands Avenue and Yonge Street, Town of Vaughan.

Harper of 15 Uplands Avenue, Langstaff; and Thornhill North District Commissioner Mrs. Betty Ball of 18 Helen Avenue, Langstaff.

The four Canada Cord winners in the front row (left to right) are Brenda Masson, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Manahan of 29 Silver Aspen Drive, North Thornhill; Tanis Manahan, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Manahan, 48 Silver Aspen Drive; Michelle Clusiau, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Omar Clusiau, 58 Silver Aspen Drive; and Deborah Woolston, 14, a student at Thornlea Secondary School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Woolston of 79 Weeping Willow Lane, North Thornhill. The other three winners are students at Royal Orchard Public School.

4 First Langstaff Guides Win Canada Cords

BY MARGARET GOVAN North Thornhill Correspondent For 1st Langstaff Guide

Company October 22 was a very important day. The Girl Guides' highest award, The Canada Cord, was presented to four girls, Michelle Clusiau, Tanis Manahan, Brenda Masson and Deborah Woolston.

To earn the Canada Cord the girls have not only to be extremely efficient Guides, but also possess all round camping, homemaking, nursing and other athletic skills. Too they have to show extensive knowledge of Canadian and Guiding history, nature and service agencies. They are expected to be of service in their community for an extended period of time.

ALWAYS HELPFUL All four girls have excelled in all these areas as well as being good patrol leaders, always ready to lend a hand.

The ceremony was planned as part of the company's Open House. Many parents as well as Brownies from the 1st Langstaff Brownie Pack were present.

After an hour's teaching of first aid, nature lore and friend - to - the - handicapped badge work, the presentation ceremony took place.

Guests of honor included Division Commissioner Mrs. Joan Wood, District Commissioner Mrs. Betty Ball and Division Camp Advisor Mrs. Gladys Redburn.

These four Canada Cord Guides put in three years of hard work to achieve their awards. Brenda, Tanis and Michelle were Brownies before becoming Guides. According to a Guiding official, the winning of these awards by the girls also reflects the necessary dedication and strength of the 1st Langstaff Company leadership.

Tanis last summer also won the signal honor of being one of two girls chosen from York South Division to attend the international Girl Scout leadership camp in Ohio. Thornhill North District includes four Guide companies and five Brownie Packs. 1st Langstaff Guide Company is an extra large company with 42 members.

School News News from E. J. Sand Junior Public is that a week ago Tuesday a selection of students from grade 1 up went to the Royal Winter Fair. We have comments from two of them on this outing:

"I was in Mrs. Adam's group. She said we could do anything we wanted and to be back at 1:45 pm. Greg Carl, Doug Still, Ian Morrison and I went in a group together. First we went to the arena and saw the cows. Then we went to see the horses. There we saw Loraine and Joanne and they said they wanted Number 490 to win, but he didn't.

"Then we decided to buy our lunch and we sat in the arena. After lunch we went to the information booth and asked them where the sheep were and went to see them and the poultry. I got thirsty and asked Doug if I could borrow 75c for some apple cider. He agreed.

"Then it was time to go home, so we went outside but couldn't find the bus. About 10 minutes later the bus driver brought the bus and we went home."

MIKE MOORE "At the Royal Winter Fair I liked the horses the best. I like to judge for myself and compare my choice to the judges." Horses are my favorite animal. They're graceful and beautiful. There was a Clydesdale and a Belgian, kinds of work horses. I love horses.

It will be the second major increase in Newmarket within a year. Newmarket hydro rates jumped 12 percent last April.

Under the modified year school plan laid down by the Ministry of Education, the parents of the Sand pupils will be urged to come to the school Tuesday afternoon of next week between the hours of 1 and 5 pm to meet the teachers as a follow-up to the issuing of report cards.

In event of serious snowstorms or weather dangerous for driving those students of E. J. Sand, who rely on school bus service, will learn of cancellations due to weather on radio stations CFGM and CFRB.

Many students of this school have entered the Win A Book Contest. The contest started last week and those entering must read a book and submit a report on its contents. The students submitting the best reports win. No names of winners have been announced as yet.

Howard Hunt of Clark Avenue is the new president of the E. J. Sand Home and School Association. He succeeds Mrs. Pat Dandelle, who succeeded him in the chair.

At Henderson Avenue Public Monday afternoon the students will be excused and their parents will be invited to the school to meet with the teachers.

Mrs. Jeannette Scott will take her grade 1 class to tour the fire hall on John Street Thursday of next week.

Leslie Carroll and her Good Companions are presenting a program on the proper care of animals Wednesday of next week at 1:30 pm for grades kindergarten to 6.

Bayview Glen Public Tuesday afternoon of next week will dismiss the pupils and invite parents to visit the school to receive a direct progress report on their children from the teachers.

December 3 is the next professional development day for the teachers of Area 3. Parents are reminded. This means the youngsters will be home - sorry!

Neighbors! Friends, neighbors and customers of Arthur Watling of Clark Avenue, who is the proprietor of the Clark Variety Store, same location, are saddened to learn that he is back in hospital after being home only one day.

Friday of last week he returned home from Wellesley Hospital in Toronto where he had been for 10 days for surgery. Saturday he was rushed back to the same hospital. His wife reports that he may require further surgery. Monday she said he was resting comfortably.

Mrs. Watling was most delighted and thankful to all the many people who came forward to help her with the store in her time of crisis, especially the young people.

Mr. Watling's many friends and neighbors are wishing a full and speedy recovery for him.

Last week's issue mistakenly reported the objective of the Doncaster Community Ladies' Club as $40, for their penny auction. It should have been $50. They realized $49.50 and made up the 50c balance from club funds.

Birthday greetings this week go out to Joy Barrington, 100 Clark Avenue, who will enjoy her 11th Monday.

The 8th Thornhill Cub and Scouts report a gratifying success with their garbage bag sale. Their margin of profit is not yet known as they still have some bags left. They would appreciate hearing from willing purchasers.

They contribute the success of this venture to the kind co-operation of the 1st and 2nd Thornhill groups which permitted them to sell their products in the other groups' areas. The 8th Thornhill area.

The group is most thankful to the other two groups for this gesture of goodwill.

Thursday of next week the 8th Thornhill "B" Cub Pack will visit the McLaughlin Planetarium in Toronto, in place of their regular meeting.

Church News Thornhill CGIT girls enjoyed a performance of the Ice Capades at Maple Leaf Gardens November 14. The four new members initiated November 7 were Ruth MacEachen, Sharon Ford, Karen Clancy and Fran Walker.

If you like to accompany or assist with church music (playing guitar, banjo, sitar, violin, etc.) you and your instrument are needed. Please call Director of Music Gordon Fleming (Thornhill United Church) at 884-6774.
