

Neighborhood Notes

Last Christmas many patients in our psychiatric hospitals were made happier by the generosity of a gift from citizens of Maple. It is hoped that this part of the true spirit of Christmas can be repeated this year. However there is not a great deal of time left to get this done.

Through the co-operation of John Perry's Pharmacy and the European Delicatessen in the Maple Plaza, the collection of these gifts is in operation and waiting for your deposit.

Buy a little gift in either of these stores, and put it in the special box provided. Your gift will help a person who is separated from his family to know he is not forgotten on Christmas Day.

Please remember the metal can containers in the Maple Plaza for your food and beverage cans. The labels need to be removed from the food cans. Remove both ends and then collapse the can with your foot. It is impossible to flatten the pop cans, so don't try. They go in "as is". I have certainly seen a reduction in trips to the garbage can since we started to stomp on cans last week.

Our family is going away for the Christmas Holidays and I shall be turning over

During the week of December 4, over 100 senior citizens from the Vaughan area and from Richmond Hill went along on outings to the new Square 1 shopping plaza.

Although the time of approximately three hours spent at the plaza went quickly it can also be tiring for seniors. Most of them were quite content to sit back in their buses and watch the fascinating skyline of Toronto and the high-lights including the new Canadian National Tower being built and the old city hall, surrounded by new glass and steel modern buildings.

While downtown, the majority of those on the buses took advantage of the opportunity to travel the 57 floors to the top of the new Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce Building observation deck and look out over the vast panorama of the city. The first trip was taken December 4 with two buses and Travelways drivers Roy McNally and Bill Richardson picking up passengers in Maple and Richmond Hill.

Unfortunately, the weather left a great deal to be desired for their visit to the Commerce Building, with clouds of fog and driving rain making visibility difficult.

In spite of the conditions, in typical senior citizen fashion, everyone thought the spectacle thrilling and spoke of returning on a day when the weather was more favorable. Although there have been a great many trips taken by our Vaughan seniors, only minor problems have beset the folks. This time Mrs. Miriam Lepper's outing was spent in hospital having X-rays etc, after falling over on obstacle in one of the stores and suffering a broken arm. The thoughts of all her friends and as those who were along on the excursion are with her.

On December 6 another bus load from Maple and Woodbridge were blessed with excellent weather for the same trip with Bill Richardson again driving for them.

40-Year Resident Of Maple Dr. Ray Bigford Is Honored

BY EVA HAWKINS
Maple Correspondent

On Sunday morning following the church service, Dr. Ray Bigford, a resident of Maple for over 40 years, was honored by the session and members of the congregation of Maple United Church. Following the service, Rev. Stanley Snowden requested that clerk of session, together with Dr. Bigford and James Jones, join with him at the front of the church to make the presentation.

Words of appreciation were extended to Dr. Bigford for his faithful services over a long period of time, for which he gave suitable thanks in return. Some months ago, Dr. Bigford gave up residence in Maple and moved to Weston.

ACTIVE IN CHURCH

During the period that he lived in Maple he was very active in the church. He has taken many responsibilities, being a member of the committee of stewards and at one time was chairman. He also served as the recording steward. Presently he is a member of the board of session and a trustee.

Dr. Bigford was the recipient of a very beautiful, illuminated address, a gold watch (inscribed), a set of United Church cuff links and a rosewood walking stick with gold band and horn handle.

Afterwards, the ladies served a very enjoyable luncheon and a social hour followed.

Church News

The Church of Christ held a Bible School and Parents Night on Friday.

The opening comments and welcome were given by Wes Peddle, who also introduced the respective teachers. The opening prayer was given by Bert Atkinson.

From there on it was full speed ahead as the children acted out their various skits. As per usual, the show was stolen by the little ones, but everyone did his part well.

After the closing hymn and a vote of thanks to all who contributed towards making the night a success, everyone was invited to the lower hall where refreshments were served.
