GREETINGS for the New Year

Keep Your Toes Crossed
 By the time you read this I hope I'm still around. You see, Charlie, it's 1973 while I'm writing this. Of course there's something to be said for your words living on after you've gone to the great library up there.
 I can hardly believe that it's 1974. What happened to 1964? All those weighty problems I thought would be the end of me? Maybe they were?

Hey, I'm getting old and it's driving me to no end. It's the old story. There was a time I wanted to scale mountains. Now I'm happy to settle for climbing out of bed, feeling familiar aches, and getting through the day without colliding with a TTC bus.
 Sure, I've still got problems and I don't like them a bit. They sneak in on you and grab you by the throat — try to throttle you.
 It's no way. I'm going to ignore them, starve them, maybe they'll go away.

AWFUL AWFULS
 What about 1973? What good happened to me, what awful happened to me? I don't even intend to talk about 1973 except to say the happiest thing about it was my purported survival. Sometimes I think it was a cruel rumor.
 Here I am, still breathing, still able to dream on a bit even though the things I dream about sometimes rise up and "drift me one" in the ether side of me.
 As for 1974, I've got plans for that too. Once I establish the fact that I have survived, I'm going to take a survival course. If I pass that, I'm going to go out and make things happen.

MEET AN ARAB
 Going to go to more parties, add some color to my irresponsibilities, meet an Arab, going to fly. Am even going to get along with people. If they hit me on the left cheek, I'll turn my right. Then I'll hit them over the head with a baseball bat.
 I'm even going to ignore young people who keep asking me who Frank Sinatra was, whether he ever existed. I'm going out and buy an Alice Cooper record and sit down and play it until they take me away, take me away, take me away...
 But first of all, I'm going to have to survive that New Year's party. Just check the obit page of the Club and Mull Tuesday morning. If I'm not there, we'll have one together.
 In other words, A sincere Happy New Year and may all your disasters be worthwhile. I've always found them that way.
 Cheers.

BYE BYE
 Some last minute items here. That was quite a weekend in sports what with the Swedish-Legion Midget game, the Peeewe Tournament, and our beloved Rams winning two straight games. Maybe things will really look up for the Rams in 1974. Not that things are all that bad. As Coach Karl Brimblecombe points out to me: Don't panic, we're only six points out of first (as of writing) despite a string of injuries that have bounced Dave "Digger" Dunkley, Jack Guest and Dave Stuart.
 True. True. What I'd like to see in 1974 is more fans out to see the Rams. So get out there.

GOODBYE, MR. CRIPPS
 Finally, would be remiss in not mentioning that kindly old Coach Russell "Casey" Cripps of Dynes Jewellers. Mr. Cripps did it again in 1973 and don't bet he won't do it in 1974.
 Will have my toes crossed and so on. See you, folks.
