Peewee Face-Off Time At Maple Arena

Rival Appliance peewees downed DH&A four to two Saturday in a hard fought game during Maple Minor Hockey Association play at Maple Arena. Here one of the Rival players who earned an assist, Mike Noble of Keele Street, battles for the puck against his DH&A opponent at the face-off.

It is the hope that all our readers have had a thoroughly enjoyable holiday and that the New Year will bring health and happiness to all, in spite of energy crisis, ecology concern and world turmoil.

We have no word of anyone being ill or in hospital this week. We hope that no news is good news and that there are none on the sick list.

Most of our readers are probably aware that our interest lies in transportation, and we are pleased to see increased interest in the TTC buses that have been running regularly scheduled trips from Maple.

There is, however, a need for a great deal more interest before the venture could be considered successful. Granted, there are some long waits for buses, particularly on return trips into Maple, but these certainly cannot be increased unless they are used.

We do feel that, particularly at this time of year, when driving can be hazardous, we are indeed fortunate in having transportation available, and we hope that more and more local residents will make an attempt to use the service.

If any information is required, John Plunkett at the Town of Vaughan offices 832-2281 will be most happy to oblige.

Vaughan Senior Citizens
Now that the holidays are over, local seniors are beginning to think about getting away from the winter weather and heading into warmer climes.

On January 9 a bus trip to St. Petersburg Beach for 30 days has caught the interest of a few, and names can still be taken, but no later than January 4.

Although, at last check there were only five seats left, the trip to California is now attracting some interest. There are a few from this area going along, and there may be room for a couple more for February 10. This is a 23-day trip including New Mexico, Mexico, the Texas oilfields, Las Vegas, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Nashville, Tennessee.

At the moment, the most important note that we have for our local seniors is a planned visit to the Ice Follies during the month of January.

Although there are several dates to choose from, we realize that most of them conflict with activities in at least one area of Vaughan, so that the decision is a difficult one, and we have not had time to confirm the date.

If the group includes dinner in their plans, the cost should be less than $9 per person, including bus driver, Follies ticket and dinner. If dinner is not included, the cost per person will be approximately $6.

We strongly urge all seniors to call their travel and excursion representatives for further information, or to be sure that this outing is on the agenda for the meetings of January 7 or 8.

For all information on trips to California, Florida or Spain please call Mrs. Louise Cooper, 832-2408.

Snowstorm Damages Concord Home

The heavy snowstorm that made it a white Christmas here was enough to knock down this verandah in Concord even without the heavy Yule and Boxing Day rain that followed. But the occupants at 30 King High Drive weren't worried about it all as they enjoyed the holiday in sunny climes. Giovanni Bragagnolo was believed by neighbors to be in Italy. However, he had a somewhat unpleasant surprise awaiting on his return. So did the photographer who drove into a snow camouflaged ditch and had to be pulled out by a tow truck.
