Feeding A Sick Child
By IDA BURNS
A&P CONSULTANT
IDA BURNS
The world can seem very boring to a child recovering in bed from a winter-time cold or flu. Brighten his day and delight him with a cheery tray full of light foods to tempt a lagging appetite. Since he can't have his friends in, invite his favourite stuffed animal to lunch. Include a little treat like a colouring book or puzzle. Colourful, unbreakable dishes hold soup, sandwich and drink. A clear soup, like Consomme or Chicken Noodle, appeals to most convalescents. Cut the crusts off Jane Parker French Bread to make round sandwiches, and decorate the top with a "happy face" made with pickles, etc. Add a crunch to the lunch with carrot and celery sticks. For dessert, try serving a bowl of lightly sweetened fruit with a box of animal crackers. If you find yourself running back and forth with cold drinks to soothe a sore throat, why not try keeping a vacuum bottle filled with lemonade or orange juice by your child's bed. Then he can help himself to a drink as he wants one. It takes so little time to prepare a nutritious, imaginative lunch for sick kiddies, and you get your reward when you see the smiling faces that say "thank you" better than words. Let us help you with your food planning problems. Just drop us a line at: IDA BURNS & ASSOCIATES INC., 1260 LAKESHORE ROAD EAST, PORT CREDIT, ONTARIO.
