Obituary

Mrs. Fred Porter

Thornhill lost a long time resident recently in the passing of Mrs. Fred Porter, the former Miss Helen Roe Smiley, who emigrated from Bally Walter, County Down, Ireland at the age of 17 and has lived in Thornhill ever since.

In June 1938 she married Fred Porter and they farmed at the corner of Bayview and John Street, later moving to 163 John Street when the farm was sold. Mr. Porter passed away in January 1972 and Helen carried on her active work in the Presbyterian Church as a WMS member, sewing and quilting for the needy. She was noted for her wonderful embroidery work. She was also a member of the Buttonville Women's Institute and York Central Hospital Auxiliary.

Mrs. Porter was sadly missed by her family, Nora and Howie Walker, five grandchildren and two great grandchildren, one brother James in Toronto and one sister Agnes in England.

Pallbearers were Jack McKay, Leonard Graves, James King, Jack Curtis, Joseph Robinson and James Smiley Junior. Rev. Dr. Dillwyn Evans conducted the service.

STOUFFVILLE: A 25 foot "mountain" of garbage is in the future for the sanitary landfill site east of Hwy 48 and south of Ballantrae if the province approves continued dumping privileges there. The town is concerned about pollution of underground water springs serving this area which are located nearby. 90% of the garbage comes from Metro.

From The Police Blotter

3 Juveniles, 3 Youths, Adult Arrested In Theft, Rocks Case

Three juveniles, one adult and three youths have been arrested in connection with a series of thefts in the area and a bizarre bit of rock tossing.

Police said that between March 6 and April 13, numerous business places were broken into, including the 400 Drive-In Theatre in Vaughan.

Among the things taken from the theatre was a car speaker, which one of the thieves tossed from the top of the bridge over Highway 400 at Rutherford Road, at a southbound Grey Coach Line bus, April 13.

The speaker smashed through the windshield of the bus, which was loaded with passengers, and splattered glass over the driver, Joseph Williams.

Rocks were also tossed from the bridge at oncoming cars on another occasion.

Facing several counts of mischief endangering life, and theft over $200 are the juveniles, and Philip Donnelly, Graham Ferrie, John Vincent and Stephen Boyle, all of Downsview. The last three are all 17.

A Woodbridge woman surprised a burglar in her home last week, but not before he managed to get away with an alarm clock.

Iris Raven, Kipling Avenue, told police she was having a bath when she heard someone in the kitchen.

She went downstairs, only to hear the back door close. However, she was unable to find anyone outside.

The clock was valued at $64.95.

An armed bandit escaped with the night's receipts of $659.54 from Baron Petroleum, 7377 Yonge Street, April 19.

Attendants Murray Pell and Frank Mazzotta told police they had closed up for the evening and were counting the money when a man came to the door, waved a gun at them and demanded to be let in.

Once inside, he asked that the money be put into a bank deposit bag.

The man then pulled out the phone wires and fled on foot.

The attendants said they waited a couple of minutes and then drove to the Willowdale Police station in their separate cars. En route they were stopped for a spot check and told the police of the robbery.

The robber is described as being between 18 and 20, five feet, eight inches, medium build, wearing blue jeans, rubber boots and grey winter coat with a hood.

Barry Wood, Woodville, Ontario, reported the theft of $473 from his wallet while he was at work at Neill Datsun Motors, Richmond Hill, April 19.

Mr. Wood said the wallet was in his coat pocket, which had been hanging on the back of his office door, between 6:30 and 9 p.m.

Five youths from the House of Concord face charges in connection with a chase between Barrie and Newmarket, in which five police cruisers were damaged.

The cars were damaged when a truck which they were chasing along back roads, swung in and out of a ditch into one of the cruisers, causing a chain reaction among the other four.

John Foot, 18 and David Lincoln, 16, are charged with car theft. Facing a total of 21 break-in charges are Bruce Johnson, 16, Michael Kozak, 16, and John Stewart, 17.

Other area occurrences: Hilda Stricker, 133 Highland Park Boulevard, Thornhill reported the theft of an undetermined amount of cash in $50 and $100 bills in a break-in at her home, April 21 or 22; A $500 color TV set was taken from the home of Elio Azzara, Deerbourne Avenue, King Township, April 17.

Take Another Look At York Appointment

A recommendation from the York Regional Health and Social Services Committee that it be allowed to hire a project director and resource consulting teacher for the Newmarket Day Care Centre, was sent back to the committee for another look, following a spirited stand against it by Mayor Evelyn Buck at a meeting of York Regional Council last week.

In speaking against the appointment of Max Korn, who has an honors BA and BA in psychology, and is currently doing post-graduate studies in special education at Ontario Institute for Studies in Education, as project director, Mrs. Buck said the same program could be undertaken by OISE.

"Any project such as this wouldn't be supervised by a student, but a pro.

"The kids won't suffer if Mr. Korn is not engaged to carry on this project," Mayor Buck said.

She said that OISE was the agency they should have gone to in the first place.

Mrs. Buck said that Mr. Korn had denied having any other source of income when interviewed, but had received a $1,500 bursary from OISE.

Mrs. Buck was supported by Mayor Margaret Britnell of King, who said she "deplored the fact" the Aurora mayor had to dig up the information about OISE on her own.

The health and social services committee should be "censured," she said.

Mayor William Lazenby of Richmond Hill, chairman of the committee, said the matter had been put before the committee as a recommendation of the province, which he presumed would subsidize it on an 80-20 basis.

He said also, that Sam Chapman, director of York County Board of Education, who has been on leave to OISE for the past year as part of a group developing a program leading to the degree of Dr. of Education, was there as a "student."

Mr. Lazenby said that $1,500 wasn't a large sum of money. "I don't see anything wrong with it."

He said Mr. Korn had a worthwhile program, was dedicated to his work and hadn't received any remuneration since September.

Mrs. Buck said she didn't think the applicant had started until after November.

Councillor Ray Twinney of Newmarket moved that the recommendation be referred back to committee for more information.

When asked by fellow Richmond Hill Councillor Gordon Rowe if the delay in appointing Mr. Korn would "adversely effect the kids?" Mayor Lazenby said they related to Korn, who had special qualifications and had established a rapport.

"It would take time to get back on the track," he said.

In sending the matter back to committee, the appointment of George Rapley, nursing assistant, as resource consulting teacher was also delayed.

NEWMARKET: A fire recently in the main kitchen of Newmarket Nursing Home on Davis Drive caused damage estimated at $4,000. Cause is unknown. Staff, 28 firemen, three policemen and three ambulance attendants moved the 86 patients into the front door hallway area, but evacuation was not necessary. The fire occurred at 4:45 a.m.

Plan May Conference

York Regional 3-C Council is planning a conference to assist and encourage community groups to set up volunteer self-help programs, serving as information and referral services in their own areas.

Three such groups already exist in York—HELP in Kleinburg and Woodbridge, Helpmate Information in Richmond Hill and Information Please in Markham—and are assisting the 3-C council in arranging the meeting.

The conference is scheduled for May 28 at the Anglican Conference Centre in Aurora. Representatives from various community services in the region will lead in discussion groups.

All interested in learning how to set up information and referral services are invited, although only 90 applicants may be accommodated. Cost is $5 per person.

For information regarding early registration contact Helpmate Information at 884-2727. Applications should be in by May 1.

Vaughan Debenture Forecast

Vaughan Town Council has approved a five year capital expenditure forecast which includes $2,425,000 ear-marked for 1974.

The five-year forecast is basically an estimate of the intended expenditures by the municipality. It is subject to change along the way by the adding or dropping of certain projects.

Such forecasts are required by the Municipal Board as a guideline for the municipality's tentatively planned future expenditures.

On the agenda for 1974 are the following items:

Rivermede, storm sewers, $250,000; Steeles Avenue, north side, sanitary sewers, $500,000; Steeles, north side, waterworks, $500,000; road widening, $200,000; Woodbridge Arena parking, $100,000.

Municipal additions and/or construction: Thornhill (new library) $400,000; Kleinburg Library addition, $125,000; Hydro and sundry capital, $250,000.

No Charges Laid In Abduction Case

No charges have been laid against three men, who were arrested in York Region two weeks ago, after a Thornhill girl allegedly had been taken on a forced ride to 'Sutton from Yonge and Steeles Avenue.

Arrested at the time, and facing charges of abduction, were Daniel Sweet, a former boy friend of the girl's, and his brother, David Sweet, 22, both of Whitechurch-Stouffville, and Robert Palmer, 34, Leitchcroft Farms, Thornhill.

The three were turned over to Metro Police, and "The Liberal" reported that they had been charged with abduction.

However, police said this week, no charges were laid, as there had been some collusion between the girl and the men involved.
