Anniversary Services

There were two fine services at Brown's Corners United to celebrate the congregation's 132nd Anniversary on Sunday.

In the morning the guest speaker was Rev. Arthur Watters, chaplain of the Metro Toronto and York Family and Juvenile courts. He told of his work. In the evening Rev. Martin Jenkinson, former minister at Victoria Square and Headford United Churches, brought the message. Mr. Jenkinson is presently chaplain at York County Hospital in Newmarket and minister "pro tem" at Teston United.

There was special music on both occasions, with Mrs. Don Reesor organist in the morning and Mrs. Reg Crawford at the evening service. Regina Allen played the piano in piano and organ duos.

In the morning Mrs. Marguerite Jones sang the Introit, O Come Let Us Worship, and the senior and junior choirs sang special anthems.

In the evening Mrs. Jones sang the Lord's Prayer to her own accompaniment on the Autoharp, and sang with the Junior Choir "He Will Bless My Soul." A third selection, "He's Everything to Me," was by the juniors alone.

Flowers on this special occasion were presented by members of Mrs. Douglas Hood's family, in memory of Mr. Hood. Unfortunately Mrs. Hood was ill and unable to be present, but her family reports her making good progress. After the evening service, friends were invited to the Christian Education Room for coffee and conversation — Hostesses were Mrs. Bob Head and Mrs. John Buchanan.

Community News

Sunday afternoon at 3 pm at York Central Hospital the cornerstone will be laid for the new Langstaff Wing.

This week birthday wishes go to Mark Denny who will be 12 and to Cathy Nelson who will be 10 May 9, and to Lawrence Ashton who will be seven May 11.

The Grade 3 class of Jefferson Public School went to the Burlington Outdoor Resource Centre April 19. Objectives were to make the children aware of nature waking up each spring and to spend some time finding signs of nature's new growth — leaves and buds on trees, insects, cocoons, birds, flowers and any pond life.

The children were made aware that this was a conservation area and everything they found, such as a snake or moth or insect, they could keep while they were on the area but had to free it before they left.

Divided into three groups, each with a group leader from the centre they started out in different directions to fulfill their objectives.

It was an ideal day for a "cookout". One of the groups brought back the firewood. They enjoyed hot dogs and marshmallows which they fastened on to stretched out coat hangers.

After lunch, one of the leaders told them about the stuffed birds and things of nature that they have which help make the interior of the old school attractive.

Everyone had a very good day.
