fidnet Peeewe Lions Team

was jolted into reality June 10 when a hustling Pottageville gang defeated them 10-2 in Pottageville.

Pottageville was fully deserving of the win as they parlayed excellent pitching, solid hitting and a team spirit that was a joy to behold.

Lead-off batter Billy Madden singled and scored on Allen's hit to give the Lions a short-lived 1-0 lead, but Pottageville struck three times in the third inning and added seven more runs to turn the game into a rout.

Tuck connected for his third homerun of the season for the other Lion tally. Pitcher Allen was forced to absorb the loss as his teammates came up with a lethargic, disinterested effort and committed three crucial errors.

The Lions got back on the winning track June 13 when they downed Aurora 9-7 in a league game in Aurora.

The Lions struck early as they led 9-2 after three innings. Speedsters Dale Moreland and Matt Zurich singled in the first inning and scored on passed balls. ## Haying Problems Now Bother York Farmers

Hay yields in York region are proving just average because early growth was slow and legumes were thinned badly in hay fields by winter kill, according to York Region Ag. Rep. Art Wall.

Besides that the farmer is now worried about the alfalfa weevil, with many of these little half-inch green worms appearing on the alfalfa. Damage hasn't been severe yet, but hot weather could easily increase their numbers until fields are stripped in a few days.

The best plan is to watch the alfalfa fields every day and cut the crop immediately if serious leaf shredding starts. Of course insecticides can be used but cutting is far more practical at this date.

New ways of handling hay are getting a lot of attention. Last year on the sunrise tour farmers looked at the stacker system used by Bernie Smith at Maple and a lot of skepticism was heard. But this year at least three other farmers are following his lead.

MARALIM RESIDENTS

Hope To Keep Name

Residents of Maralim Road (between Centre Street East and Fernleigh Circle) petitioned Richmond Hill Council to retain this name, rather than have the name changed to Jenkins Road as proposed. The petition presented to council June 10 was signed by all residents of the three-block long street.

Council agreed to ask His Honour Judge Grossberg who is to hear the town's application to change the names of certain public highways June 24 at 9:30 am in the Court Room 1, Court House, 361 University Avenue, Toronto, to delete Maralim Road from the list. Twenty streets in all are to be considered in the name changes.

It was pointed out that the proposed name changes have all been prompted by a duplication of names within the new town boundaries or of names which sound much the same when spoken. The name changes are designed to prevent future confusion.

At the suggestion of Regional Councillor Lois Hancey, should the judge grant the town's request to leave the street name Maralim, a name it has borne throughout its 18 years, a latter will be sent to all residents asking them to be careful when making emergency calls such as police, fire and ambulance, to enunciate the name clearly as it may be confused with Merrylynn Crescent in the BAIF development.

Extra Time For Teachers To Quit

York County Board of Education has agreed to an extension of the May 31 resignation date for secondary school teachers in its system.

The request for extra time was made by Eric McLean, executive secretary, District 11 of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers Federation, in a letter to the board.

Mr. McLean said the OSSTF, at a recent council meeting, had passed a motion to that effect, as the May 31 deadline had passed, but the York County arbitration award was only released June 6.

The meeting recommended the board be asked to accept individual resignations submitted on or before June 17. The arbitration award gave the teachers raises ranging from 15 to 24 percent, making them higher paid than most Metro teachers.

John Kipper, superintendent of operations, said he hoped to make a full report on resignations at the board meeting of June 24. However, the "impression" at the moment was that resignations so far this year were lower than last.

NEWMARKET: York-Simcoe

MP Sinclair Stevens is considering a lawsuit against York Centre MLA Donald Deacon, who charged that Stevens in 1987 sold his interest in finance company at a "substantial" profit and left a "public shareholders" holding shares worth a small share of what they paid them. The Conservative MP called portions of Deacon's comments "untrue" and "unfair" and said he had referred the matter to his solicitor.

Dave Schiller Will Meet Press On TV

Dave Schiller, recently announced Richmond Hill mayorality candidate, meets the press on Cable 10 Thursday evening at 6 pm and 7 pm.

Local press representatives Hal Blaine of "The Liberal", Jim Daw of "The Aurora Banner" and Scott Colbran of Cable 10 were on hand to fire the questions at a studio session Thursday evening of last week.

Schiller expressed his views on many of the development issues which face Richmond Hill Town. According to him the basis for planning initiative in the Hill has been taken out of the hands of the community grass roots. When asked whether or not he would be a full-time mayor, Schiller said the biggest majority of his time would have to be directed at the job.

Tune into Cable 10 at 6 pm and 7 pm for this "meet the press" special.

Senior Citizen Day Centre Site Picked

A decision was reached on a future site for the senior citizens' day centre at a special meeting of Richmond Hill Council Friday afternoon. Two sites had been under consideration — the former Morley's Foodland and the former Figurmagic accommodation on the lower floor of the N. S. Smith plaza, both on south Yonge Street.

A letter from the executive of the Richmond Hill Senior Citizens' Club 35 expressed a preference for the Morley's location. It was signed by President Joe Horne, Vice-President George Taylor, 2nd Vice-President Gil Clubine, Secretary May Hunt and Treasurer L. E. Clark.

5-YEAR LEASE
 Council agreed on motion of Mayor William Lazenby to seek at least a five year lease on this property with the option of a further five year lease and also to have the right of first refusal if the property is offered for sale.

It was reported that Morley's offers more room and that a shuffleboard court could be installed in the basement. The interior needs decorating and the kitchen and washrooms will need improvement. It is estimated the carpentry work will cost at least $3,000.

It was said the seniors volunteered to do a great deal of the work themselves and Ward 3 Councillor Jack Major said he could find some tremendous young people who would be happy to assist.

The present tenant is expected to vacate the premises July 9 and the town's lease will be negotiated from July 15.

$900 RENT

The rental for the 5,250 square foot premises will be $900 a month.

The town will apply to have this new location declared an approved senior citizens centre under the provincial legislation with the hope of gaining some financial assistance from the province.

The present tenant is expected to vacate the premises July 9 and the town's lease will be negotiated from July 15.
