MR. AND MRS. HARRY WOODWARD SIGN REGISTER

Honeymoon In Florida

A wedding trip to Florida followed the marriage of Wanda Mashinter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mashinter, Trench Street, Richmond Hill, and Harry Woodward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woodward of King City.

The ceremony June 8 took place in Richmond Hill United Church with Rev. Robert Smith officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her mother's wedding dress of white satin and lace. Her long full veil of white tulle flowed from a crown of flowers and pearls and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, red roses and baby's breath.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Joan Dawson, as matron of honor was dressed in a gown of green polyester crepe with puffed sleeves and daisy trim. She carried a bouquet of bronze and yellow daisies.

Bridesmaids were Debbie Mashinter and Marg Lacey. Pearl Woodward was flower girl. They were dressed alike in yellow polyester crepe with puffed sleeves and daisy trim. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of pink and white daisies and the flower girl a nosegay of red roses.

Best man was Ron Woodward, brother of the groom, and ushers were Bob Woodward, John Mashinter and John Nesling.

Ninety-six guests attended the dinner and reception at Summit View Gardens restaurant. Receiving were the bride's mother dressed in pink flowered sheer crepe and wearing a corsage of red roses, and the groom's mother dressed in royal blue crepe and wearing a corsage of pink roses.

The young couple are now living at 181 Colbourne Avenue, Richmond Hill.

Friends of Bill Babcock, Richmond Street, will be pleased to learn that he is convalescing comfortably at home following a heart attack that sent him to the intensive care unit at York Central Hospital in late June.

Richmond Hill YWCA'S Park-Y Day Camp for boys and girls at the Mill Pond Park, Richmond Hill, starts its third session of the season on July 29. To register or get information, call the Y office, 884-4811. The second session, which began Monday, is filled, report's YWCA program and camp Director Mrs. Gwen Halliday. Each two-week program for children six to 13 includes crafts, games, nature lore, cook-outs, camp-outs, etc., all within the bounds of the town.

Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson of Centre Street East returned last week from a three-week vacation in Scotland where they visited with friends and family in Glasgow, Edinburgh, Elgin, Grantown on Spey and Kelso.

Highlight of the trip was a party to celebrate the Golden Wedding anniversary of Mrs. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gardner Sr., of Victoria, B.C. The party was held in Glasgow as Mr. and Mrs. Gardner wanted to go back to where they were married for the big occasion.

Also attending were daughter Mrs. James Rogers and her husband from California, son Peter Gardner Jr. from California and son John Gardner and his wife and son from Pershore, England.

While Richmond Hill was knee-deep in rain, the sun was shining in Scotland. It was a grand reunion for the Gardners, and a thoroughly enjoyable holiday for the Andersons.

The merchants of Richmond Heights Centre are planning an outdoor fashion show for August 23 and 24 featuring local amateur models — from six-months to grandmothers.

Show co-ordinator Jillian Roos of Ida Burns and Associates is searching the Hill for male and female adult models of all ages as well as children from two to 12 years. She is particularly interested in mothers with six-month-old babies. It is to be a real community-involvement affair.

The show is being sponsored by the merchants of Richmond Heights, and application forms are available in their shops. It is a great opportunity, says Jillian, for people who are interested in modelling to take a trial run. Applications will have to be in early, however, as screening of those who will appear in the show is scheduled for the first week in August.

Margaret Ireland

After a long illness Margaret Elizabeth Ireland passed away July 7 at Resthaven Nursing Home Aurora. She had been a long time resident of Richmond Hill and a faithful and conscientious member of Richmond Hill Presbyterian Church.

Miss Ireland had been a valued employee of Mayfair Manufacturing Co. for many years before her retirement and had also been a member of the Presbyterian choir and other church groups for several decades.

She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Ireland and is survived by one sister, Mrs. Bertha Blanchard. She was predeceased by a sister, Mrs. Jean Murray and survived by two nephews, Bruce and Len Murray.

The funeral was held from the Marshall Funeral Home July 9 with interment following in the family plot in Richmond Hill Presbyterian Cemetery. Rev. William Wallace officiated.

Mrs. N. Jackman

A 40-year resident of 101 Roseview Avenue, Mrs. Nora Jackman, died at the family cottage on the afternoon of July 7 and was buried at Richmond Hill Presbyterian Cemetery Wednesday of last week. She was the wife of well-known local resident Howard Jackman, former provincial policeman, former automobile dealer, long time committee of adjustment member and chairman.

Funeral service was held at the Marshall Funeral Home, 10366 Yonge Street Wednesday at 3:30 pm with Reverend Fred Jackson of St. Mary's Anglican Church officiating.

Besides her husband she is survived by one son Howard Lynn of Lindsay and one daughter Barbara (Mrs. G. McGregor) of Goulding Avenue, Willowdale; a sister Lorine (Mrs. W. Connolly) of Toronto, formerly of Wardsville; and five grandchildren.

Mrs. Susan Samila of Sugar Maple Lane, whose photographs frequently appear in "The Liberal", was in Rochester, New York, last week studying photography at the Eastman House International Gallery of Photography. There she saw original prints of many very famous photographs from the past and the present.

She also visited the visual studies workshop, a school of photography. The home of Eastman, founder of Kodak, Rochester is considered the photo centre of North America.

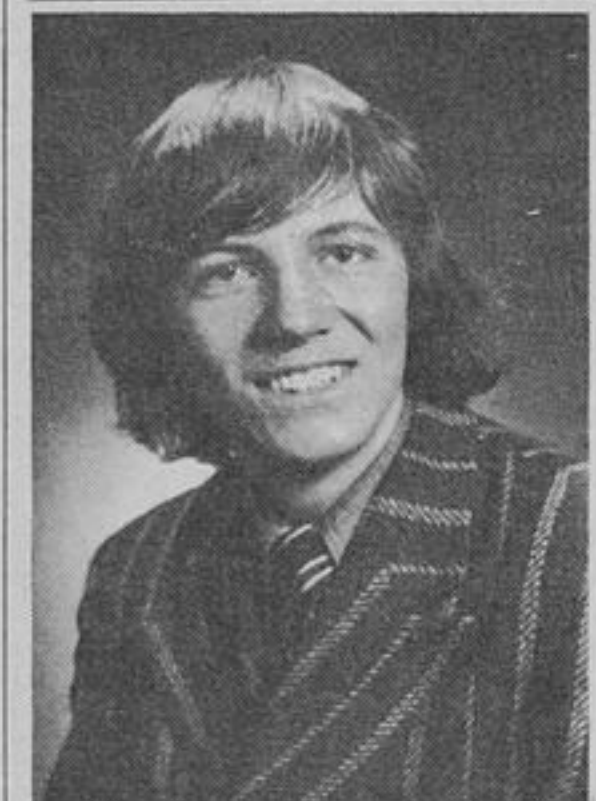

On Wednesday, July 10, about 40 members and friends of the Ward 3 Ratepayers Association spent an enjoyable evening at the David Dunlop Observatory. The tour was organized by Co-chairman John Birchall and guided by Dr. Tom Bolton of the observatory staff. The outing was so successful that tours of other places in and around Richmond Hill are being considered and will be discussed when the association meets again in September.

Tim Buell, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Buell of Rosemar Gardens, is spending the summer as a camp counsellor in Caracas, Venezuela. He is one of seven young people from the Metro area taking part in a YMCA counsellor exchange with Caracas, Trinidad and Aruba.

A grade 12 graduate from Richmond Hill High School, Tim qualified for the exchange after ten years as camper then counsellor with wilderness canoeing experience at the YMCA Camp Pinecrest. He is at a resident camp.

The project sponsored by the Y is jointly financed by the Federal government. Three of the group are in Caracas, two in Trinidad and two in Aruba.

At the other end, six young people from South America are working as counsellors in Metro area YMCA camps. Two of them are from Trinidad, one from Aruba and three from Caracas. In charge of the program is Dave McLaughlin of the Y's central Metro office and he is hoping that it will become a continuing project, giving young people an opportunity to gain first-hand knowledge of how people live in other countries so that they may bring back some of their knowledge and experience to broaden the scope of the camping experience here and abroad.

J. Joseph C. Coneybear

Upper Canada Grad.

J. Joseph C. Coneybear, son of the Rev. and Mrs. John T. Coneybear of Richvale, Richmond Hill, recently graduated from Upper Canada College.

Wenlock Luck Avenue

Wenlock Avenue seems to be the lucky thoroughfare in Richmond Hill as residents there have won the baby bonus draw two months in a row at S. S. Kresge's store in the Richmond Heights Centre. Mrs. Diane Coombs of 372 Wenlock Avenue is shown receiving her June contest cheque for $100 from Store Manager Jim Ferris. A neighbor Mrs. Evelyn Finucan of 391 Wenlock won $40 in May. Each month Kresge's matches the amount of a lucky customer's family allowance cheque. Mothers cash their cheques at the store to qualify for the regular lucky draw.
