

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hill of Church Street North had their son, John, and his family as weekend guests just prior to their leaving on John's posting to Thailand as first Secretary (commercial) and Consul for the Canadian Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce.

Some members of the family called in on Saturday afternoon to wish the family "Bon Voyage". Mr. Hill has just completed two years with Interchange-Canada in Montreal in the head office of the Royal Bank of Canada in the international division.

Canada Manpower's student centre at 10148 Yonge Street has been doing a booming business. In fact, the demand is so great, says the centre's supervisor, Mrs. Betty Bierma, that they are running out of students. Young people 16 and over still looking for full or part-time work may call in at the office or, for information, call 884-9239. The number for prospective employers to call is 884-9320.

Mrs. Bridget O'Keefe of Dublin, Ireland, is enjoying a three week vacation at the home of her daughter, Barbara Harling and her husband, Robert, at 24 Naughton Drive.

SUMMER THEATRE
The Summer Theatre Workshop '74 formed in late May and comprised of student actor/directors from the area is presenting its first public performances August 15 and 16.

The presentation, "An Absurd View", is a program of three short plays: "The Bald Soprano" by Eugene Ionesco; "Impromptu" by Tad Miel; and "Then" by David Campton.

Members of the company include Heather Mann, Donna Stout, Ronald Jones, Patti Duffy, Vaida Jay, Bill Honeyman, Scott Veitch, Richard Baker, Jeff Queen and Bryan Brooker. Director is David Phillips, Assistant Director Martha Buell, and Costumer Laurie Hutchinson.

The performances in Richmond Hill United Church auditorium, Yonge and Centre Streets, will begin at 8:30 pm and tickets are $2. They may be purchased at the door or from members of the group.

Your vacation news, guests from out of town, neighborhood happenings, a cademic achievements make interesting reading for "It's Happening in the Hill". Church and social events may also be reported through this free service to our readers.

New-comers and old-timers alike are kept informed through the social pages. Items for inclusion in the current issue should be in the office by NOON MONDAY. Address your news to Social Editor Margaret Lade, "The Liberal", 10101 Yonge Street, telephone 884-8177 or 881-3401.

"Summerfest '74" Playgrounds

The eight summer playgrounds sponsored by Richmond Hill Parks and Recreation Department and operating on schoolgrounds in the town are departing from their traditional annual "Parents' Night" programs this year.

Instead all will be coming together for a grand finale in the town arena in "Summerfest '74" beginning at 7 pm August 7.

The community hall area will be the setting for craft displays from each of the playgrounds, and the arena the site for more vigorous activities, including a "Frisby" contest.

Winner in this contest will be taking part in the Canadian Junior Frisbee contest at the CNE August 20, along with finalists drawn from more than 1,500 playgrounds.

The playgrounds have been going full swing since July 2 and close for the season on August 9.

NEWMARKET: It is now illegal to build a house in this town with only one exit door. Town council has amended its building bylaw to require two or more exits. A door in an attached garage or a garage forming part of the house is not counted as an exit.

Mrs. Eileen Blake, 65 Oak Avenue, and a small group of friends have for some time been operating a volunteer animal adoption service. They take in stray animals as well as kittens and pups from people who have litters they cannot find homes for.

Mrs. Blake makes sure that every animal has been checked by a veterinarian and had distemper shots before it leaves her care. This is vitally important, she says, for distemper is contagious and almost always fatal. And even if the animal recovers it may be seriously crippled.

She runs classified ads regularly offering pets free to good home, but during the summer there is a lull in requests for the kittens and the puppies. Fortunately she has facilities on her property to accommodate cats, but the puppies are housed at another location. At present she has a litter from a black mother ready for adoption and some too young yet to leave their mothers. Adult females she has spayed.

Each Wednesday a pet for adoption is shown on Cable 10 TV at 6 pm and every hour on the hour.

Mrs. Blake and her friends are planning a bazaar for the fall to keep the project going and are looking for donations of saleable items. People seldom offer cash donations when they pick up the pets, she says, yet they do need funds for the distemper shots and other veterinary services. Anyone wanting a pet or wishing to make a donation for the bazaar may call Mrs. Blake at 889-0268.

Couple Wrote Own Service For St. Mary's Wedding

The marriage of Deborah Gail Cornwall and Gordon Ian Patterson took place in St. Mary's Anglican Church Chapel at eleven o'clock June 15, when Rev. Bernard Barrett of St. Mary's and Dr. Dilwyn Evans of Thornhill Presbyterian Church officiating in a marriage service prepared by the young couple who were exchanging their marriage vows.

The service was written to have specific meaning and included a blessing from the parents of both bride and groom. The vows said by the young couple had been written by them. They also welcomed the guests to the chapel and to the wedding and introduced the ministers to those assembled. At the conclusion of the service they passed the peace and greeted friends and family in the chapel which had been chosen because there were no pews and the guests sat in semi-circles facing each other.

ROBERT CAGE Moves To Hillcrest

Robert Cage, manager of the branch of the Bank of Montreal, located at 10211 Yonge Street, Richmond Hill, for the past year and four months, has been appointed manager of that bank's new branch to be opened in the Hillcrest Mall, Richmond Hill, August 8, 1974.

This new branch will be providing a six-day banking service — from 10-3 Mondays to Wednesdays, from 10-8 Thursdays and Fridays and from 10-3 Saturdays.

Since transferring to Toronto with the Bank of Montreal in 1962 Mr. Cage has managed branches in Scarborough and Etobicoke and in Downtown Toronto area prior to moving to Richmond Hill as branch manager in March 1973.

Bob Cage has been active in community affairs and is a director of the York Central Association for the Mentally Retarded and is group committee chairman for the 1st Langstaff Cubs and Scouts. He is also coach of the Richvale Peewee Softball Team. Other associations include membership in the Richmond Hill Curling Club and Board of Trade of Metropolitan Toronto.

The Cage family have been residents in the BAIF area since moving to Richmond Hill in April 1973. Son Steven was the first delivery boy for "The Liberal" in BAIF and now has 110 customers whom he serves faithfully every week.

Mr. Cage will be succeeded in the Richmond Hill branch by Robert Fewster, who was formerly account manager at 2400 Finch Avenue branch, Weston. Mr. Fewster has already assumed his duties.

Recently a number of Ward 3 ratepayers visited the David Dunlop Observatory in Richmond Hill and enjoyed a tour of this University of Toronto facility which is known throughout the world. For the majority of the ratepayers, even though some of them are longtime residents of the town, this was the first visit to the observatory. It gave them an excellent opportunity to appreciate the achievements of the staff in the past and the present and the critical problem they are facing with light pollution from rapid growth to the south.

The view from the catwalk of the 74 inch telescope dome provided the visitors with a different perspective of the effects of growth in areas surrounding the observatory and the pronounced effect shielded and filtered lights can have in reducing the amount of "visible" light in the sky.

The group expressed thanks to staff members who conducted the tour and provided an insight into the work and problems of the observatory, and their appreciation of the status this facility has brought to the town in the past and will, with proper planning, continue to bring in the future.

Michael Green assisted by Ken Daman and Ricky Mole held a very successful carnival in aid of muscular dystrophy victims at Michael's home on Palmer Avenue on July 24.

The boys had a good time preparing for the carnival and were very happy with the results. They wish to thank everyone concerned for their attendance and support of the venture.

Hillcrest Fashion Centre

Three huge department stores — Simpsons, K-Mart and Sears — are among the 110 stores now being stocked and prepared for the grand opening of Hillcrest Mall at the corner of Yonge Street and Carville Road. No longer will residents of this area have to travel to the downtown core or to other areas of Metro Toronto to shop. They will be able to find everything they want right here in Richmond Hill — at Hillcrest Mall.

Thursday August 8 will be the grand opening day of this well planned and beautifully constructed enclosed shopping mall. Huge trees and tanks full of exquisite shells and fish will welcome you as you shop in the well-stocked stores which will be staffed with well trained sales people.

Hillcrest is very fashion oriented and right from the start, and as the seasons roll by, will keep the shoppers of this area abreast of all that is happening in the world of fashion at all times. They will have ongoing fashion shows, beginning with "One, Two, Buckle My Shoe," a back-to-school show geared for mothers and their school children of all ages.

At Hillcrest Anabel Stancer is the full-time fashion co-ordinator and she will be readily available to anyone needing help with problems. Just ask for her and she will get to you as quickly as possible.

Rev. David Dyer Leaving Hill For Charge In Oshawa

After eight years as pastor of Richmond Hill Free Methodist Church, Rev. David Dyer is leaving the Hill on August 12 to assume the pastorate of Eric Street Free Methodist Church, Oshawa.

The move has come as something of a shock to the Dyers. The appointment was announced during the East Ontario Annual Conference in Kingston July 25 to 28.

Usually in his church, says Rev. Dyer, such decisions are taken in consultation with the congregation and ministers concerned, but the move was made necessary because of an emergency situation in Oshawa.

Rev. Dyer grew up in the Barrie area and graduated from Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Kentucky. The church here was his first charge. Since his arrival the church has relocated from Ruggles Avenue to its present new building on Hillside Avenue.

Over the years he and his wife, Carol, and children, Jack, 8, and Valerie, 4 have made many friends here, and Rev. Dyer has been active in community affairs. He is president of the local chapter of the Canadian Bible Society and has been an officer in the Richmond Hill Ministerial Association.

His successor, Rev. Robert Quick, is from the Orillia area. He graduated with a BA from Robert Wesleyan College, Rochester in 1970 and with a Master of Divinity degree from Asbury Theological Seminary in June of this year. He has a wife, Sylvia, and two sons, Mark 3, and Michael, seven weeks old.

The Rotary Club of Richmond Hill treated 20 local senior citizens to a concert at O'Keefe Centre last week. The Dutch Ecumenical Youth Choir and the Chancelors of Central United Church, Weston, presented the program entitled "Voices From Across The Sea".

The Rotarians drove their guests to the theatre where they heard a very enjoyable variety of singing from classical to excerpts from "Godspell".

The Dutch choir was returning a visit by the Canadians to Holland, and it was inspiring to hear such beautiful music from such a fine group of young people.

Throughout the month of July the congregation of St. Mary's Anglican has been meeting with that of Richmond Hill United in the latter church.

Beginning Sunday, through August to September 1, services for the two congregations will be held in St. Mary's at 10:30 am. Rev. Bernard Barrett of St. Mary's will be conducting the services.

Remedies For Poor Conditions In The Southern Ward 3 Area

Residents of the 16th Avenue-Duncan Road area of Ward 3 were invited to attend the July 17 meeting of the works committee, report at the July 29 council meeting.

At an earlier meeting a number of complaints about conditions in that area had been brought to the attention of the chairman of the works committee. These included flooding from the creek at the extension of Elm Avenue south of Duncan, debris along the watercourse, industrial pollution of the watercourse, inadequate lighting and street name signs at the corners of Bayview with 16th Avenue and Duncan Road, poor road surface approach off Maple Avenue on to 16th Avenue and speeding and use of heavy trucks on the 16th Avenue.

The complaint regarding traffic regulations will be referred to the traffic, transportation and bylaws committee and the Regional Police will be advised of the complaints regarding traffic law enforcement.

Office Manager Les Smith of Allencourt Pharmacy in Richmond Hill and his wife Hilda recently returned from a relaxing, nine-day conventioners holiday in sunny Monte Carlo, on the French Riviera. While in Monaco, the Smiths stayed at the luxurious Holiday Inn Monte Carlo, with a spectacular view of the Riviera coastline.

The trip, organized by the Rexall Drug Company Ltd., was thoroughly enjoyed by the Smiths and other Rexall drug store operators and their spouses from across Canada. Included in the planned events were day trips to both France and Italy and a night's entertainment at the world-famous Casino de Monte Carlo, setting for daring escapades of fictional spy-character James Bond.

An unexpected bonus to the Smiths' trip came when they were named one of 18 winning couples in the Rexall "Monte Carlo Sweepstakes". They are seen above being presented with the winner's voucher by President Gus English of the Rexall Drug Company Ltd. (right.)

Canada's heritage in history and nature

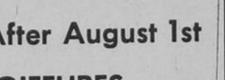

You can start a new career... a new career... in Historical/Natural Interpretive Services at Seneca College's King Campus in September, 1974.

This new two-year program is designed to train persons in the skills needed for careers interpreting Canada's historical and natural heritage to people visiting historic sites and museums, parks and wildlife areas, science centres and similar places. Some graduates will communicate directly with the public, while others will work behind the scenes producing communications material. You might even do both!

The course includes such subjects as: interpretation programming, museology, photography, environmental science, audio-visual techniques, media presentation, writing and speaking skills, administration and maintenance. Field trips and practical experience in actual work situations are major components of the program.

Seneca's King Campus, the former country estate of Lady Eaton, covers 696 acres and includes a large lake. Serving York Region, Seneca King is also utilized as a community park and conservation area. The natural features and wildlife at Seneca King and its close proximity to the resources of Metropolitan Toronto make it an ideal setting for this new course.

Applications are being accepted right now! For further information, contact the Campus Registrar at (416)884-9901 or Zenith 31200 (toll-free).
