Has your Hydro account got you a little puzzled because it's a little higher than usual?

Your Hydro Account Will Vary Month to Month

Any number of conditions can cause changes in your Hydro accounts as rendered every two months on the average. Greatest use of hydro is generally experienced during the Winter months. Winter has its longer periods of darkness and the heating season. Sustained hot, dry weather during the Summer is generally reflected in increased water use.

Here Are Some Conditions That Can Cause Changes In Your Accounts

- LIGHTING —
Artificial light is used more in Winter than in Summer.
- HOUSE HEATING —
Electricity is used to operate associated forced air systems, burners, circulating pumps, controls, supplementary heating, and so on. The colder and more prolonged the Winter months, the greater use of both electricity, and fuel.
- ADDITIONAL NEW APPLIANCES —
Such as a television, range, dryer, refrigerator, freezer, radio, hi-fi, air conditioner, etc., will generally result in the increased use of Hydro.
- ENTERTAINMENT AND COMPANY —
The greater use of electricity for cooking, lighting, washing, drying, ironing, television, and so on.
- CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEARS —
Preparations and festivities are usually accompanied by the increased use of electricity.
- ILLNESS IN THE HOME —
Heat lamps, heating pads, and supplementary heating can be the cause of increased electricity use.
- THE FAMILY —
An increase in the number is generally reflected in an increase in Hydro.
- UNNECESSARY USE —
Lights and appliances left on when not required can cause changes in accounts.
- BILLING PERIODS —
Saturdays, Sundays, Holidays, inability to obtain meter readings and so on will cause variations in scheduled meter reading dates.
- ELECTRICITY METERS ARE TESTED —
Electricity meters are tested and sealed as to accuracy by the Standards Branch, Canada Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs. Water meters are tested and sealed in accordance with American Waterworks Association standards.
