

EVERYBODY OWNS A WANT AD MACHINE

The simple instrument pictured here comes in various sizes and colors and has been designed with no moving parts for ease of maintenance. It can be operated from either a left or right hand position and the more advanced models have self-correction accessories built right in. (See top of illustration.) This machine is completely portable in nature and can be easily stored in any desk drawer.

You should have one in your home. Use it the next time you write down the items you want to appear in a Classified Ad. If you are one of the few who does not have a Want Ad Machine in your home, come to our office and you may borrow one of ours at no extra charge. Or, phone us, and let one of our friendly Ad-Visors use her Want Ad Machine to help you.
