Volunteer Needed

For Fall Season

Summer is half over and soon we'll be thinking of the fall.

Many of the volunteer openings which are on file at the Volunteer Centre-North York will continue after the end of the summer. Why not start now?

Here are a few ideas. Hospitals and homes for seniors are always in need of volunteers and working in either setting is so rewarding for the volunteer. Pre-school programs are held outdoors as much as possible in summer, but they don't stop at the end of the summer; they simply move indoors.

You see — volunteering is always in season!

Two of the many programs which are now looking for volunteers help with children who may be handicapped both physically and mentally. These children deserve to have the same opportunities as other children. They just need a little extra help and support. You will be given training and supervision by skilled staff members. The children are waiting to meet you!

If these jobs are of interest to you, call us. If you think another job might be more "your bag" — CALL US. Volunteers are needed in every community and WE can find a spot for YOU.

Please call: Volunteer Centre-North York 222-2551 or drop in at: 145 Sheppard Avenue East, Suite 6, Willowdale. Monday: 9:00 am to 8:00 pm. Tuesday to Friday: 9:00 am to 5:00 pm.

In the Region of York Helpmate Information, 884-2727, is always looking for volunteers, as emergency home helpers, for work in offices of various social agencies, as drivers, and for innumerable little and large essential services. There office is in Richmond Hill Library, 24 Wright Street.

Water Study Costs

Vaughan $18,000

York Regional Council last week approved a request from Vaughan Town Council for a ground water study in the Boyd Conservation Area.

International Water Supply Limited will be hired to carry out the exploration for a well to ensure adequate water supply to the Woodbridge area.

Cost of the study, which Vaughan will pay via a 10-year debenture, is $8,000.

Woodbridge is served by six wells at present, with the capacity of each committed.

The project must still be approved by the Municipal Board.

In Whitechurch-Stouffville, Mayor Gordon Ratcliff said that use of a landfill site in the area by Metro could endanger the town's water supply.

He said the town had requested an environmental hearing on the Highway 48 site, but no reply had been received as yet.

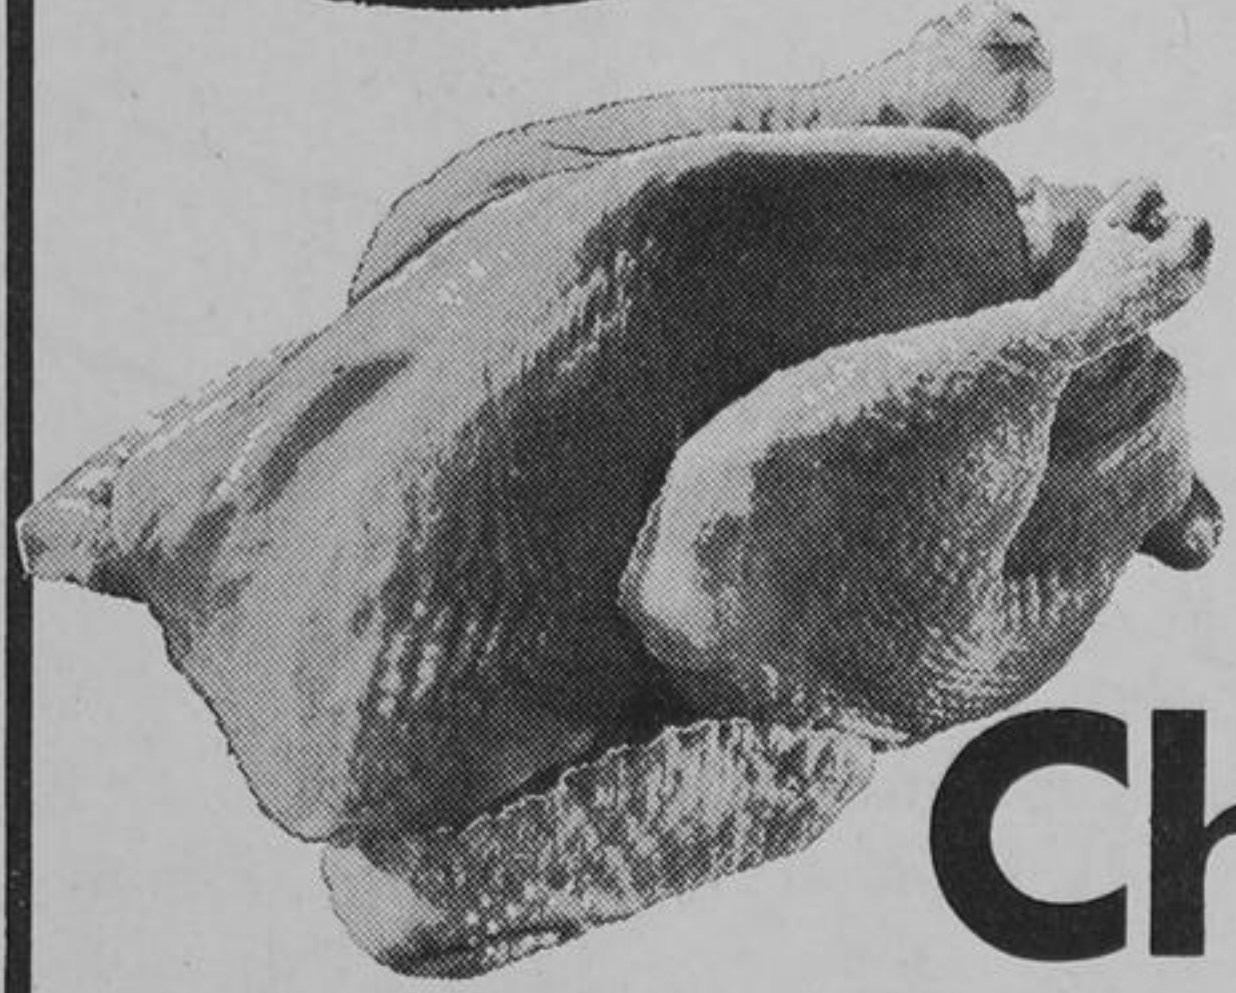

Mayor Ratcliff said the 146-acre site was originally intended for local use, but the dumping of Metro garbage there now was ruining it.

The site is on the Oak Ridges moraine, he said and seepage from large amounts of garbage could affect the water for miles.

"We want it either limited to local use, or discontinued as a landfill site," the Mayor said.
