

it's happening in the hill

Margaret Lade editor

Mr and Mrs. Brian Bullock, Peter, Tracy and Kristi of Emerald Isle Court returned last week from a two-week cottage vacation with friends from London. They enjoyed a relaxing holiday of swimming, boating and sunning at Go Home Lake in the Muskoka area.

Terry Lee Mancini, 12, of May Avenue was organizer of a highly successful carnival August 3, featuring games, prizes, sale of cakes, cookies, cold drinks and entertainment. She was assisted by sister Mary Ann, brothers Tony and Joe, and Tina, Cristy and Kim Gooderham.

The turnout was very good, and the youngsters have turned over $72.15 in proceeds to the Muscular Dystrophy Association of Canada to aid in medical research.

If you would like to match your wits against a new challenging educational game called "Weatherwits", the display case in the Richmond Hill Library, 24 Wright St., has an exhibit that will spark your interest.

"Weatherwits", invented by local resident Richard Lawrence of Harrygan Crescent, provides an opportunity for the whole family to have lots of fun and at the same time learn about Canada's climatology and her regional differences in this simulation of a national weather service.

The set consists of a map of Canada, eighty four observation cards, instructions, weather happening cards and is quite unique as a game of skill. With meteorology as the theme of the monthly display the exhibit is supplemented with a display of books and photographs from the library collection.

Blood Donor Clinic
Vacation time is nearing an end. Blood banks in hospitals are running dangerously low, and another long weekend is just about upon us. There will most certainly be accidents, emergency operations and other medical crises in our local hospitals.

It is vitally important, then, that the greatest possible number of blood donors turn out to the August 29 Red Cross blood donor clinic at the Lions Hall, Centre Street East, on August 29.

Hours for the clinic are 2 to 4 pm and 6 to 9 pm. Mark it on your calendar, and this weekend look for the Red Cross display at Hillcrest Mall. Space has been donated for this big donor display and Red Cross personnel will be on hand Thursday, Friday and Saturday to answer questions and talk to the public about the never-ending need for blood.

Attending the 56th annual meeting of the Federation of Women Teachers' Associations of Ontario held last week at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto were Joan Moon of Crosby Heights Senior School, Richmond Hill, Patricia Moore of Henderson Avenue School in South Thornhill, Shirley Young of Pine Grove and Mary Lou Collett of Woodbridge Public Schools. They were among 13 delegates from the York County Public School system in attendance.

Also present was Mrs. Signe Snary, former teacher in this area and resident of Richmond Hill, who is the past president of the York County group.

The convention was attended by 800 elementary school teachers from all over Ontario.

The Senior Citizens' Bowling League will be commencing its 1974-75 season at the ABC Lanes Friday, September 13 at 1:30 p.m. Any senior citizen interested in joining may call W. Marshall at 884-6286 who will be pleased to enroll them. Tuesday bowling is usual at 1:30 p.m. at the ABC Lanes.

We extend our congratulations to Tom Broadhurst of Starlight Crescent, former mayor of Richmond Hill on his recent election as secretary of the board of Worthington (Canada) Ltd. Mr. Broadhurst will continue in his responsibilities as manager of marketing services of the firm.

Worthington is a multinational manufacturer of a wide range of pumps, compressors and other heavy machinery.

The Richmond Hill Branch of the One Parent Families Association of Canada is holding a barbecue at the home of the past president in Organgeville August 24 at 8 p.m. Members are asked to bring their own steak and $2. Refreshments will be available. Call either Sam Nurse at 832-1334 or Maxine Stevens at 835-5243, for more information.

A neighborhood carnival against dystrophy will be held August 22 at 347 Bois-dale Avenue, by Cadina Doedens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Doedens, who will serve as ringmaster, assisted by Melanie Riswick.

The carnival, which begins at 12 p.m., will feature such games as bowling on the green, fortune telling, penny sale, treasure hunt, potball, french book stall, milk bottle drop, marble shoot and pie toss. All proceeds will go to aid the fight against dystrophy and related diseases.

In case you are wondering why Eric George, North Taylor Mills Drive, is hobbling around on crutches — his horse fell on him a few weeks ago. Eric reports that the horse escaped with only the loss of a shoe, but Mr. George's leg was more fragile, with bones broken in about four places, hence the hip-toe cast which will have to remain on for some weeks yet.

Your vacation news, guests from out of town, neighborhood happenings, academic achievements, make interesting reading for "It's Happening in the Hill". Church and social events may also be reported through this free service to our readers.

New-comers and old-timers alike are kept informed through the social pages. Items for inclusion in the current issue should be in the office by NOON MONDAY. Address your news to Social Editor Margaret Lade, "The Liberal", 10101 Yonge Street, telephone 884-8177 or 881-3401.

Members of the McCague families from Richmond Hill and district were amongst the 50 people who gathered again at the home of George and Elaine McCague of Alliston for the Sixth McCague Re-union recently. All enjoyed the sumptuous dinner. The younger ones were happy in the swimming pool and enjoyed the races and games. Unfortunately Mrs. George McCague, formerly of Victoria Square, now in her 100th year, was unable to attend.

Those who were present came from Toronto, Richmond Hill, Port Elgin, Brantford, Collingwood, Guelph and, of course, from Alliston.

A happy family reunion is being enjoyed at the Centre Street West home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Beresford Anderson at present. From Rome came Deborah (Mrs. Franco Sgarbello) who is on the staff of Time Magazine and will be spending a month here. From England came Robin and her husband (Dr. and Mrs. John Mason). Dr. Mason is a professor of mathematics on the staff of the Open University near London.

They expect to be joined by Cecilia and her husband (Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Ignatieff) and children from Ottawa, so the family will be complete again.

The summer flower show, garden tour and ice cream social of Richmond Hill Horticultural Society held August 13 was fairly well attended with about 70 members present. In the absence of President Richard Edmunds, Vice-President Bob Ross presided over a short business meeting.

Judges for the flower show were Mrs. Norah Clinckard, member of the North Toronto Horticultural Society and the Canadian Rose Society and Mrs. Mary Dobbin, member of the "Milne House" Garden Club and the Civic Garden Centre. Mrs. Dobbin also gained highest point score in a three and a half year course.

"Judging School". They both made favorable comments on the show, drew attention to shortcomings and suggested methods of improvement.

Highest points in the specimen classes went to Otto Connor with 44, Bob Little with 38 and Bill Risebrough with 29. In the arrangement classes Mrs. George Barker earned 11 points and Marg Rummy had 9. Otto Connor earned 12 points in the vegetable section.

The Court of Honor in specimens went to Bob Little for a lily called "Imperial". In arrangements it went to Mrs. George Barker, "Look To The Future". Ev. Boyd's "Zucchini Squash" took the court of honor in vegetables.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Vivian Hart and her committee served ice cream, cookies, cold drinks or tea.

Rev. and Mrs. William Wallace and son Richard of Yonge Street covered many miles visiting and sight-seeing on their recent vacation trip to the United States. They were overnight house guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips in Atlanta, Georgia, where they visited the famed Cyclorama — a circular building commemorating the Civil War Battle of Atlanta with its oil paintings of battle scenes interspersed with red-clay wall sculptures of soldiers on the battle fields. They were also very much impressed by the beauty of the new Governor's Mansion, architecturally designed in the fashion of pre-war Georgia.

The Wallaces also took the lift to the top of Stone Mountain, the largest exposed granite mountain in the world — seven miles in circumference — to listen to the music of the carillon donated to the park by the Coca Cola Company which originated in Atlanta.

Another fascinating feature of Atlanta was the underground city — two of the main streets of original downtown Atlanta which have been covered over and the buildings restored. The stores, restaurants and entertainment underground are a great tourist attraction.

The fastest growing city in the south, Atlanta has many impressive new residential developments — even the condominiums are attractive. The Wallaces were also impressed with the churches. Everyone in Atlanta seems to go to church.

Further south they toured the Franklin Delano Roosevelt Museum at Warm Springs. The summer home of one of the country's most internationally famed and respected presidents, the house contains many of the late president's personal effects, including hundreds of canes of every conceivable material and design, gifts from people from all over the world who admired his determination to overcome the crippling effects of a severe bout of polio.

At Walton Beach, Florida, the Wallaces were once again guests of the Charles Phillips, at their large family summer home on the Gulf of Mexico where there are beautiful white sandy beaches. They were pleased to find that the ever-growing community of Canadian winter visitors have made Canadians very popular with the populace.

Homeward bound, they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Jake Holcomb at Hartford, Alabama, where they had a great time touring the grain and cotton country. They also visited Mrs. Wallace's family in Bradford, Pennsylvania, and brought her mother, Mrs. Martha Bloom, back with them for a visit in Richmond Hill.

Overheard in a local supermarket last Thursday afternoon, where an employee was handing out sample bites of English style sausage:

Customer: O, what a nice flavor — is it marjoram?
Employee: There's no margarine in these sausages, only pork and beef. You don't put margarine in sausage, you don't even put butter in.
Customer: I said marjoram.
Employee: Well, maybe there are germs but there are germs in everything and the cooking takes care of them.

Capt. Jack Meeuwisse, 164 Colbourne Avenue, was recently appointed by the Toronto Harbour Commissioners as superintendent in charge of Marine Terminal 35 in the Port of Toronto.

This is the largest pier in the port where vessels from all around the world discharge and load their cargoes.

Capt. Meeuwisse is a master mariner, who after sailing in Dutch deep-sea vessels for nine years emigrated to Canada in 1958 and has lived in Richmond Hill ever since.

One of his hobbies is music, studying piano and theory and he is one of the founding members of the Richmond Hill Ecumenical Choir.

His wife, Terry, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Driehuis of 196 Beaverton Road.

Sr. Citizens Club 35 Extends Boundaries

Richmond Hill Senior Citizens' Club 35 amended its constitution at a special meeting held July 30 to conform to a resolution of town council, it was reported at the August 12 meeting of Richmond Hill Council.

The amendment provides that the boundaries for residency for eligibility for membership in the Richmond Hill Senior Citizens' Club 35 be the corporate boundaries of the Town of Richmond Hill.

Club President Jo Horne noted in his letter to council that this does not exclude any person now a member of the club, nor does it restrict a member from joining another club but a person can be a member of only one senior citizens' club. Members must all register their attendance on entering the door at the general monthly meeting. The membership fee is to be $3 a year. Any senior citizen, though not a member, is welcome to the club. Councillor Lou Wainwright (chairman of the ad hoc committee on a senior citizens' clubroom) reported that all members of Club 35 had been notified of the special meeting and 78 had attended. "They wished me to convey to you, Mr. Mayor, and to the municipality their thanks for defraying the costs of the notices. I would also like to report that the decision was a unanimous one. The works department is now drafting up a layout. Material will then be purchased and then the work of remodelling and renovation can start. The seniors' tables are now stored in the new clubroom."

The fastest growing city in the south, Atlanta has many impressive new residential developments — even the condominiums are attractive. The Wallaces were also impressed with the churches. Everyone in Atlanta seems to go to church.

Further south they toured the Franklin Delano Roosevelt Museum at Warm Springs. The summer home of one of the country's most internationally famed and respected presidents, the house contains many of the late president's personal effects, including hundreds of canes of every conceivable material and design, gifts from people from all over the world who admired his determination to overcome the crippling effects of a severe bout of polio.

At Walton Beach, Florida, the Wallaces were once again guests of the Charles Phillips, at their large family summer home on the Gulf of Mexico where there are beautiful white sandy beaches. They were pleased to find that the ever-growing community of Canadian winter visitors have made Canadians very popular with the populace.

Homeward bound, they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Jake Holcomb at Hartford, Alabama, where they had a great time touring the grain and cotton country. They also visited Mrs. Wallace's family in Bradford, Pennsylvania, and brought her mother, Mrs. Martha Bloom, back with them for a visit in Richmond Hill.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Vivian Hart and her committee served ice cream, cookies, cold drinks or tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Blaine and family of Benson Avenue had an enjoyable holiday camping, swimming, canoeing, hiking and avoiding the black bears in Algonquin Park.

Mrs. Faye Glavine and two children, Jane and Wade, of Cornerbrook, Newfoundland, are holidaying with the former's sister Mrs. Guy Pinsent and Mr. Pinsent at their home on Talmadge Avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. Dennis Stainer, Mark and Paul of Driscoll Road have returned from a five-week holiday at their cottage at Wimbledo Beach, Georgian Bay. For the most part the days were sunny.

Weekend guests at the cottage included Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Crack of Leonard Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Manfred Rubow of Milliken.

Kitchener Rink Wins Bowling Tourney

Twenty rinks came to the Richmond Hill Lawn Bowling greens next to the Town Park last Sunday to participate in the first invitational tournament for the new Grainger Trophy. The local club, with its constantly growing membership, particularly among the young, now has two major tournaments a year. The participating rinks came from Ottawa, London, Kitchener, Niagara Falls, Ontario and New York, as well as from the Toronto area.

First winners of the Grainger Trophy were the Kitchener rink, skipped by George Boxall. A young Richmond Hill rink of Doug Pidduck, Brian Mather and Gary Charity took the second prize and third prize went to the Tom Smith rink from Niagara Falls, New York.

The prize for high two wins was claimed by Jim Law of Galt for his rink and a Richmond Hill rink, composed of Al White, Ted Mansbridge and Keith Jean-Marie took home the prize for high for one win.

The amendment provides that the boundaries for residency for eligibility for membership in the Richmond Hill Senior Citizens' Club 35 be the corporate boundaries of the Town of Richmond Hill.

Club President Jo Horne noted in his letter to council that this does not exclude any person now a member of the club, nor does it restrict a member from joining another club but a person can be a member of only one senior citizens' club. Members must all register their attendance on entering the door at the general monthly meeting. The membership fee is to be $3 a year. Any senior citizen, though not a member, is welcome to the club. Councillor Lou Wainwright (chairman of the ad hoc committee on a senior citizens' clubroom) reported that all members of Club 35 had been notified of the special meeting and 78 had attended. "They wished me to convey to you, Mr. Mayor, and to the municipality their thanks for defraying the costs of the notices. I would also like to report that the decision was a unanimous one. The works department is now drafting up a layout. Material will then be purchased and then the work of remodelling and renovation can start. The seniors' tables are now stored in the new clubroom."

The fastest growing city in the south, Atlanta has many impressive new residential developments — even the condominiums are attractive. The Wallaces were also impressed with the churches. Everyone in Atlanta seems to go to church.

Further south they toured the Franklin Delano Roosevelt Museum at Warm Springs. The summer home of one of the country's most internationally famed and respected presidents, the house contains many of the late president's personal effects, including hundreds of canes of every conceivable material and design, gifts from people from all over the world who admired his determination to overcome the crippling effects of a severe bout of polio.

At Walton Beach, Florida, the Wallaces were once again guests of the Charles Phillips, at their large family summer home on the Gulf of Mexico where there are beautiful white sandy beaches. They were pleased to find that the ever-growing community of Canadian winter visitors have made Canadians very popular with the populace.

Homeward bound, they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Jake Holcomb at Hartford, Alabama, where they had a great time touring the grain and cotton country. They also visited Mrs. Wallace's family in Bradford, Pennsylvania, and brought her mother, Mrs. Martha Bloom, back with them for a visit in Richmond Hill.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Vivian Hart and her committee served ice cream, cookies, cold drinks or tea.

Recruit Graduates

Private Ronald Bob Ho, 22, Richmond Hill, graduated from Canadian Forces Recruit School, CFB Cornwallis, Nova Scotia recently. He is the son of Mrs. Doreen Ho of Rexdale.

Pte. Ho has spent 11 weeks at CFS Cornwallis, the basic training centre for all English-speaking recruits. At the end of his basic training he was awarded the marksmanship trophy. Presenting the award in the above picture is Captain (N) T. E. Connors, Base Commander.

FREE CLINIC

INFORMATION KEPT CONFIDENTIAL

- V.D. diagnosis & treatment
- BIRTH CONTROL advice
- PREGNANCY TESTING and related problems

Place: York Central Hospital, Richmond Hill
Time: 7-9 pm every Wednesday
Phone: 884-1133 - Health Unit
884-1171 - Hospital

Sears

Richmond Hill, Hillcrest Mall

Beauty Salon and Hair Bazaar

Our experts will help you find a . . .

COLOURFUL HEADLINE with ROUX

Fanci-tone creme hair tint

We're shaping newsy, natural hairstyles . . . coloured naturally beautiful with Fanci-tone creme hair tint. We cover gray hair, brighten dull hair, or create a pretty change. Fanci-tone conditions your hair as it colours. Fanci-tone creme hair tint. (Shampoo incl.)

$12.00

Find Yourself At HAIR BAZAAR

The gleamy new hair place in our Beauty Salon, where young haircutters do really nifty haircuts.

HAIRCUT $5.00 to $8.00
BLOWER DRY, SHORT HAIR $4.00
BLOWER DRY, LONG HAIR $6.00

LOCATED BEHIND THE COSMETICS DEPT. BEAUTY SALON
Simpsons-Sears Ltd.
Sears, Richmond Hill, Hillcrest Mall, Carrville Rd. & Yonge St.
Store Hours: Mon., Tues., Sat. 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Wed., Thurs., Fri. 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.

(Photo by Ron Fawn)

Weekend Fashion Shows At Richmond Heights

Youngsters and their mothers and grandmothers were invited to audition for the "Little Moppets" Fashion Show to be presented at Richmond Heights Centre Friday at 2:30 and 7 pm and again at 2:30 pm Saturday. Featuring all local amateur models, the show will include the latest in fall and back-to-school fashions for children and babies, mothers and grandmothers.

An added attraction will be a draw for a variety of prizes, and the grand prize is two NHL season tickets. Draw ballots are available at all stores in the Centre at Yonge Street and Levedale Road, and the draw will be made at the close of the show on Saturday. Aspiring models, Tracey Rudyk, front, and Michael McNeil, are pictured above as they are given instructions by show Co-ordinator Jillian Roos.

'74 ANOTHER $500 '74 WINNER
Y.C.A.M.R. "500"
TOKEN NO. 188
JOE DEL GROSSO
REXDALE

at
Holiday Rent-A-Car
we promise our customers a better deal...and we deliver!

Featuring fine products, engineered by Chrysler

884-7887 9700 YONGE ST.
IMPERIAL OIL SERVICE CENTRE
— RICHMOND HILL —

Liberal Classifieds Get Results